—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

HERE is real flying news, important to all interested in moving about the earth.

Henry Ford has perfected an all-metal airplane driven by three Packard Diesel motors, burning crude oil. The machine is expected to carry 11 passengers 100 miles at a fuel cost of $2.16. This means that the fuel cost of taking 11 passengers across the continent or across the ocean would be $64.80, less than $6 each. There is no cost for right of way, little for terminals and for wear and tear.

WHAT is more important, in Ford's opinion, is the fact that fire hazards, explosions, carburetor adjustments, electric ignition, all dangerous elements in flying, are eliminated.

The pilot sits in front of an instrument board like that of an automobile and talks over a radiophone without interference from the motors.

Concerning flying, it is apparently true that "we haven't seen anything yet."

MR. MITCHELL, Attorney General, warns the Senate Judiciary Committee that further stimulating activities of prosecution under any law will get us into difficulties. He told the committee that in the last nine months the number of federal prisoners has increased by 6,277.

It will comfort bootleggers and their associates to know that if more of them are locked up the government will hardly know what to do with them.

HENRY H. CURRAN, head of the Association Against Prohibition, says three Americans out of every four are in revolt against prohibition, and the membership of his association is increasing 1,000 a day.

That increase doubtless does exist, but it is not true that three Americans in every four are in revolt against prohibition. Straw votes do not tell any story completely.

Many will vote as they feel in straw votes, then vote as they think they ought to vote in a real election.

UNITED STATES authorities say that one group of bootleggers in New York deposited about a million dollars recently. One member of the organization mentioned as a "driver" deposited in the New York Bank of America $572,676 in six months.

It seems to be a prosperous business.

THE Catholic directory for 1930 shows that Catholic population in the United States, not including Alaska and island territories, is 20,078,202.

There are 2,248,571 children in Catholic parochial schools, 38,232 were converted into the Catholic faith last year.

Some 100,000 persons are taken care of daily in 624 Catholic hospitals and clinics.

There are 329 Catholic orphan asylums that take care of 51,523 orphans' and 142 homes for the aged.

It is an active church, hard working, far seeing, patient, when necessary.

MR. LEVAND'S Wichita Beacon, which describes itself as "Kansas' greatest newspaper," prints a statement by Prof. Millikan which will please you.

Jeans, great English astronomer, is wrong, says Millikan. The universe is not "running down" like a clock with nobody to wind it.

PROBABLY you have worried little about that. On earth, clocks are rewound. We take it for granted that the power that wound up this universe originally will know how to wind it up again, after the present galaxies, nebulae, solar systems and tiny planets shall have used up their energy.

NEVERTHELESS, it is a comfort to be told on Prof. Millikan's high authority that the universe is rebuilt from atoms or electrons thrown off by the stars in their radiation, as new forests grow from soil made of leaves from trees long dead.

PROF. JEANS tells you that each minute, through radiation of actual substance, the weight of our sun diminishes by 250,000,000 tons, which means that the sun is lighter now by one thousand million tons than it was four minutes ago.

You feel sure that there must be some arrangement to make up that loss.

Perhaps the sun flying through space absorbs matter equal to what it has lost, as whales with wide open mouths gather tiny marine creatures that build their huge bulk!

IN ANY case, individuals now living need not worry. The sun that lights our earth and gives us life will last millions on millions of years longer, and this earth with it. Plenty of time to get everything done, in say 500,000,000 years.

We are now only 12,000 years from the late Stone Age, and see what we have accomplished.

LACK of employment is said to be increasing throughout the world. You are surprised to find that Russia, with a bigger population than ours, making social experiments expected by capitalism to end disastrously, has fewer unemployed than we have, by far. The richest, most prosperous, and, industrially, the most highly developed nation, should be able to keep its men at work.

SUNDAY BAN REPEAL SOUGHT

Councilman 'Bill' Roper Plans To Ask Council Conduct Survey of Public Opinion

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—Philadelphia City Council will be brought into the fight against the so-called "blue laws" which prevent Sunday baseball, motion picture shows and other amusements here on Sundays.

Councilman W. W. (Bill) Roper, famous football coach, announced he will introduce a resolution into Council today asking the appointment of a committee to ascertain the attitude of Philadelphia citizens on the proposed repeal of the "blue laws."

OPEN HEARINGS

Roper will suggest that the committee hold open hearings on the question and should it be found that the majority favor their repeal Council would then petition the Legislature to that end.

"Something must be done to put an end to the restrictions placed upon Sunday recreation by the blue laws," Roper said. "In my opinion, the best way to bring about relief is for Council to take the initiative by first determining what the people want."

4 CARRIED FROM FIRE BY MOTHER

Mrs. Andrew Volk carried her four children—the eldest 4 years, the youngest, twins, 10 months—to the street when a small fire broke out in the kitchen of their second-floor home at 215 Shaler street, Mt. Washington, this afternoon. Those rescued were Wanda, 4; Agnes, 2; and Andrew and Adella, 10 months.

The fire did little damage, although it filled the first floor with smoke.

Gov. Fisher to Spend Easter on Island

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 17.—(AP.)—Gov. Fisher will observe his Easter vacation at a fishing club at Tilghman's Island, off the eastern shore of Maryland.

The Governor, in company with A. Boyd Hamilton, secretary of the Senate, and State Librarian Frederic A. Godcharles, will leave the capital tomorrow afternoon. He expects to spend the week-end resting, going out in the bay to watch fishermen haul in the nets. The return trip will be made Sunday evening.

Pauline Frederick To Wed Fourth Time

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP.)—Pauline Frederick, stage and screen actress, and Hugh Chisholm Leighton, 51, president of the Interstate News Company, yesterday obtained a marriage license.

Miss Frederick said she was 31 and lived in Beverly Hills, Cal. This will be her fourth marriage, the three previous ones having ended in divorce.

Film Actress Denies She 'Sold Her Baby'

LINA BASQUETTE WARNER

Mrs. Warner, in Hollywood today denied she has "sold her baby," and is investigating terms by which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner became legal guardians of her daughter.

Guardianship Only Aim In Deal With Warners, Lina Basquette Declares

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 17.—(INS.)—Saying that she had not "sold her baby," Lina Basquette, danseuse and motion picture actress, was back in Hollywood today after investigating the terms by which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warner became the legal guardians of her 3-year-old daughter, Lita Basquette Warner.

Although the actress says she has determined that a guardianship was all that was granted to the Warners, reports which reached her in the East caused her to suffer a nervous breakdown.

The child was an offspring of her marriage to the late Sam Warner.

"I still am Lita's mother, and the Warners are her aunt and uncle," she declared.

Many of her friends who have been informed that she had "sold her baby" have snubbed her since her return here, Miss Basquette complained.

Pittsburgh Banks Closed Good Friday

All Pittsburgh banks and the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange will be closed tomorrow in observance of Good Friday.

In New York, however, the banks will remain open as usual. The New York Stock Exchange, the New York Curb Market, the Produce Securities Market, the unlisted security markets and all commodity markets will be closed both Friday and Saturday in observance of the holiday. The Pittsburgh exchange will also be closed Saturday.

REDLAND FIELD, Cincinnati, April 17.—Eppa Jeppa Rixey and Larry French were on the mound today in the third clash of the series between the Reds and Pirates. Each team has won one game of the opening set.

Rixey, one of the brightest stars in the game, and a Virginia gentleman, has been doing his stuff in the majors for almost 20 years.

The game in detail:

FIRST INNING

PITTSBURGH—Flagstead was thrown out by Cuccinello. Grantham fouled out to Gooch. Critz threw out P. Waner.

CINCINNATI — Critz walked. Hargreaves threw out Allen as Critz advanced. Walker fanned. Meusel fanned.

SECOND INNING

PITTSBURGH — Comorosky lined to Meusel. Suhr singled to left. Bartell fanned. Rixey threw out Engle. One hit.

CINCINNATI—Engle threw out Kelly. Cuccinello walked. Cuccinell was caught off first and went out, French to Suhr to Bartell. Ford flied to Flagstead.

'TORCH' SLAYER SPEEDS PEN AS DEATH NEARS

Writes Last of Memoirs as He Waits Death Tonight in Slaying of Greenville Wife

International News Service.

TRENTON, N. J., April 17.—A white-haired old man sits "in solitary" in New Jersey state prison here today, scribbling the final pages of his book of memoirs which he hopes to complete before his execution tonight.

An additional day's life has been lost to Henry Colin Campbell, also known as Colin Campbell Close, bigamous torch slayer of his second wife, because sentiment opposes an execution on Good Friday, although Friday is the usual night for electrocution in New Jersey.

Campbell, in his sixties, and one of the oldest men to be electrocuted in the history of State prison, has waited in the deathhouse almost a year.

Freely admitting that he married Mrs. Mildred Mowry, a widow of Greenville, Pa., for her fortune, he never has expressed repentance for her murder on February 23, 1929.

His first wife, who remained loyal to him throughout his trial and sentence, is said to have assumed another name. There are three children of this marriage.

Principal Keeper Edward B. Stone is forbidden to reveal the exact time of the electrocution to avoid possible public demonstrations. Almost from the first day he was jailed Campbell has been busy scribbling his book of memoirs.

Third Taxi Firm Seeks Permit

A third group today applied to the Public Service Commission for permission to operate a taxi service in Pittsburgh.

This group consists of three officials of the Pierpoint Motor Company—James R. Pierpoint, president; W. H. Howett, Jr., secretary-treasurer, and W. J. Jacquette, assistant secretary.

In their application to operate as the Pitt Cab Company, they reported a capital stock of $50,000 and assured the commission that 30 days after the granting of a certificate of public convenience they would be able to operate. They said they intend to purchase a fleet of 175 taxicabs and other equipment, to cost $300,000.

This is the third such application since the taxicab strike, which is now in its fourth month.

Mrs. Olivia Sturges Seeks Paris Divorce

PARIS, April 17.—Mrs. Olivia Wheeler Sturges' suit for divorce from her husband, Thomas Rush Sturges, of Boston and Paris, has been filed with the Paris courts, it became known today. She charged desertion. Mrs. Sturges, formerly of Baltimore, confirmed the suit when she arrived in New York aboard the Ile De France.

Two years ago the fashionable wedding of this couple was one of the social events of the Atlantic seaboard's season.

400-Mile Air Speed Aim of British Aces

LONDON, April 17.—(INS.)—Efforts to reach an air speed of 400 miles an hour will be made by racing pilots of the Royal Air Force, the Air Ministry announced.

In addition to the supermarine S-6 planes, which set new world records in the Schneider cup races at Calshot last September, the pilots will have the use of the Gloster-Napier seaplanes built for the race, but not used.

Wales on Way Home Ends Cairo Air Trip

CAIRO, Egypt, April 17.—(AP.)—The Prince of Wales arrived here by air today from Assuan, after an African trip extending from Capetown through British East Africa to this city. He will leave shortly for England.

WORLD CONTROL OF RADIO LAID TO YOUNG

International Bank Linked With Combine of R. C. A., Dill Charges in Senate

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, was charged in the Senate today by Senator Dill (Dem.), Washington, with seeking to form a "world-wide radio trust," through the proposed business affiliation of the General Electric, the Westinghouse Electric and the Radio Corporation of America.

Senator Dill said the proposed arrangement would permit the General Electric to dominate the Rad Corporation of America and all its subsidiaries.

He called attention to the relation of Mr. Young to the newly-formed world bank.

WORLD BANK LINKED

"Only one more step is needed to complete the world-wide radio trust that Young is building," he continued.

"He is in a position to connect up the world bank and to use the exclusive contracts which the Radio Corporation has with the other nations of the world except Russia."

Demanding that the Department of Justice act and act quickly," the Washingtonian said

ASK CONTEMPT FOR CABBIES

BULLETIN.

The Yellow Cab Company today in Common Pleas Court filed a petition charging 49 striking drivers and members of the strikers' committee with contempt of court for alleged operation of a union taxi service in defiance of an injunction granted March 28.

Attacked by a gang who entered the Cab Drivers' Union Relief Headquarters, 1711 Liberty avenue, early today, Joseph Steese, of Nobles lane, Carrick, a striking taxi driver, was beaten, and telephone wires in the headquarters were cut, according to Alec T. Siford, chairman of the strikers' executive committee. Steese is night telephone operator at the headquarters.

The raid ocurred shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. Siford said, when Steese was alone in the headquarters. Several of his teeth were knocked out by the attackers, Siford said.

Police at Penn Avenue and Central stations said they had no report of the raid. The headquar-

MEN REJECT COMPANY'S PROPOSAL 18 TO 1

Street Car Employes Firm For Raise, but Approve Minor Working Changes

By a ratio of approximately 18 to 1, the motormen and conductors of the Pittsburgh Railways Company have turned down the company's wage proposal, it was learned today.

The employes voted last night and today at meetings in the Moose Temple, after which it was learned that the vote was: 1,819 men voted to reject the proposal; 112 voted to accept; 24 vote slips were blank.

At the same time, the employes approved by acclamation minor changes in working conditions.

VOTE BY BALLOT

Ballots upon which the men voted "yes" or "no" to the question: "Do you accept the company's proposition as reported to you by your wage committee?" were distributed at the meetings and collected as the men filed out of the hall.

The refusal of the men to accept the company's offer on which they voted, it was pointed out, does not mean a deadlock. It is merely an expression of the sentiment of the men on one form of agreement. The plan under which the company and the men negotiate provides for proposals and counter proposals and as many other referendums as may be necessary to reach an agreement.

INCREASES SOUGHT

The present wage scale agreement terminates May 1. The men began considering terms of a new agreemegt last month. At that time it was learned from authentic sources that a general increase of 5 cents an hour would be sought for conductors and motormen, and men employed on one-man cars, it was revealed, would ask an increase of 15 cents an hour. Numerous other proposals concerning swing runs, extra lists and other matters pertaining to working conditions also were made, but of these little was learned.

DANCER GUILTY OF EXTORTION

NEW YORK, April 17.—(INS.)—After 19½ hours of bitter haggling, a jury today found Olga Eide Edwards, California dancing girl, guilty of extorting money from Nathan L. Amster, millionaire. A recommendation of mercy accompanied the verdict.

Miss Edwards faces from three to seven years in prison. Sentence will be imposed next week by General Sessions Judge Rosalsky.

Olga took the verdict, a surprise to most observers, standing up quietly.

As she was led through the wire-hedged corridor to a prison cell, she said with a smile:

"I still have my head up."

The defendant charged that Amster was the father of her 6-year-old son, Lee. Amster, well known traction magnate, denied this, and declared his only interest in the girl over a period of 13 years was that of an "amateur philanthropist."

The case went to the jury at 4:30 p. m. yesterday.

Hope Ebbs for Lee, Ill Representative

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—Representative R. O. Lee, of Texas, who took a turn for the worse last night after having partly recovered from a paralytic stroke, was still in a critical condition today.

Physicians expressed doubt he would recover. He was stricken in his office several weeks ago.

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP.)—Bert Lytell is returning to the screen handsomer than when he left it to go on the stage. His nose has been beautified.

FIFTH & WOOD BUILDING SOLD

The property at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street, including a two-story mercantile building recently completed, has been sold by the United Cigar Store interests to the 300 Fifth Avenue Corporation, a group of Pittsburgh business men.

The property had been held at $50,000.

The corner is one of the most prominent locations in the retail district. The lot fronts 60 feet on Fifth avenue and 48 feet on Wood street. The building is leased for 30 years to the Liggett Drug Company, who have sub-let parts of it.

The site was occupied for many years by the Eisner and Phillips department store. The property was sold last year by the Eisner estate to the United Cigar Stores Company, who constructed the new building. Z. L. Eisner was the broker in the sale just closed.

Divorced Two Years, Stars Will Remarry

BALTIMORE, April 17.—(AP.)—Arthur W. Baumann and Viola McBeath, known on the stage as Yola Mack, divorced two years ago, are to be married again. They are so happy about it that the second ceremony will be in the presence of the audience of the show in which they are playing.

Pitt Grid Stars Battered, Go Under Knife

By JESS CARVER.

Three members of the 1929 Pitt varsity football team, Tom Parkinson, fullback, Joe Donchess, end, and Toby Uansa, halfback, all of whom won all-America honors, underwent operations on their noses at St. Francis Hospital this afternoon.

The Panther gridders, who completed their college careers with the Tournament of Roses game in Pasadena New Year's Day, suffered well flattened bugles during their football days, the nasal organs being so badly battered up that the three stars had difficulty in breathing.

The boys awaited the advent of the Easter vacation before submitting to the surgeon's knife, and will be confined to the hospital for the remainder of the week.

KILLINGS BY DRY AGENTS LAID TO 'SHOTGUN REFORM'

U.S. REPORTS DECLARED COLORED

Clashes Again Mark Lobby Quiz of Prohibition Foe; Graft Inquiry Here Cited

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Prohibition agents, when they kill citizens, "usually charge that the person killed was violating the law or that they shot in self-defense, and are trying to reform Americans with a "shotgun," Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, charged before the Senate Lobby Committee today.

This was Curran's second day as a witness in the committee's inquiry into lobby activities of organizations supporting and attacking prohibition.

Amplifying his statement yesterday that "five sovereign states are in open revolt against prohibition," Curran said today the states are New York, Maryland, Wisconsin, Montana and Nevada, where state enforcement acts have been repealed.

REPORTS COLORED

Quizzed about the number of persons killed by prohibition agents who claim self defense, Curran declared:

"Government reports are colored in favor of the agents and Mr. Lowman (Assistant Secretary of the Treasury) has admitted this."

Walsh asked if he had investigated shootings of prohibition officers. Curran said he would have to check his files.

Senator Caraway (Dem.), of Arkansas, the chairman and a dry, said:

"I don't think you know anything."

"I might compare favorably with you," Curran shot back.

"HAVING GOOD TIME"

Walsh and Caraway would not let Curran look at the literature issued by the association to see if it did contain the number of agents killed.

"I want to be certain in my answer, but I am under the impression that we do report the killings of prohibition agents," said Curran. "We endeavor to give the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, which I do not think is true of the Methodist Church and the Anti-Saloon League."

"We will get to them later," said Walsh.

"I hope they have as good a time as we are having," laughed Curran.

STATE PRIMARY QUIZ

"Whom are you supporting for governor of Pennsylvania in primaries?" Walsh asked.

"Thomas W. Phillips, Jr."

"W. W. Atterbury is a director of your association?"

"Yes."

"Is he supporting Phillips?"

"I don't know."

"The papers say he is supporting Brown."

"He may be," said Curran.

The association sent investigators into Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Detroit and Cleveland to look into dry graft, he told the committee.

One amusing incident developed when the senators, questioning Curran on his personal files concerning teh work of the association's investigators, asked if he investigated senators themselves.

"Why, senator," said Curran, smiling, "do you want to bring out what we have found out about your colleagues in the Senate?"

This caused a general wrangle, and the subject was hastily dropped.

CONGRESS 'DRIEST EVER'

Walsh asked if the association had tried to find out if there had been any benefits from prohibition.

"I don't know of any benefits of prohibition," said Curran.

"Others disagree, don't they?" asked Walsh.

"One in four."

"Any chance for prohibition repeal in this Congress?" asked Walsh.

"Not a chance."

"How many votes could you muster?"

"The people are 3 to 1 against prohibition and Congress 3 to 1 for prohibition. They haven't caught up."

"How do you consider this Congress?"

"The driest we ever had. It is the bottom of the hill."

LIQUOR GIVEN BACK TO DOCTOR

Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court today handed down an opinion directing prohibition agents to return four kegs of whisky seized in the residence of Dr. Delano C. Thomas, 416 Willow Place, Edgewood.

Testimony showed that the liquor was not for sale but for personal use, Judge Gibson held. He added:

"True, it was purchased for that personal use pursuant to no specific lawful permit, but the mere purchase of liquor for personal consumption is not an offense against the prohibition act."

The liquor was seized in a raid on Dr. Thomas' home by Edgewood police. They later turned the case over to prohibition authorities.

In his opinion today, Judge Gibson called attention to the fact that the raid on Dr. Thomas' home was made without a search warrant.

50-Foot Death Fall Declared Accident

ALLIANCE, O., April 17.—(AP.)—Coroner I. C. McQuate today ruled the death of Donald Piatt, 21, of Washington, Pa., yesterday, was an accident. Piatt, a structural iron worker, fell 50 feet from a building at the American Steel Foundries here.

A piece of steel had caught in the framework of the building, and Piatt loosened it. He was knocked from a cross beam when the steel, which was being hoisted, swung back and hit him. His body was sent to Washington.

Lone Indian Saves 2 U. S. Men From Calcutta Mob

CALCUTTA, India, April 17.—(AP.)—Albert M. Baudin, Jr., and Frank Bond-Nelson, Americans, who were injured during disorders near Calcutta Tuesday, said today they owed their lives to the timely help of a friendly Indian owner of a garage.

The two Americans were returning by auto from a golf game when, they said, they were attacked by a crowd, brickbats being hurled at them. Both were bruised before they were rescued from the mob by the garage owner, who took in their car and cared for them.

Baudin and Nelson reported the affair to Robert Frazer, Jr., American consul general in Calcutta.

RIOTING GROWS IN INDIA

BOMBAY, April 17.—(INS.)—Civil disobedience increased today throughout British India, with rioting, bloodshed and destruction of private property.

Hundreds have been injured in street clashes of mobs and police.

Scores have been arrested and imprisoned, including many leaders of the Nationalist movement.

Although only two persons have been killed outright in the actual rioting, others have died from their injuries.

NEW DELHI, India, April 17.—(AP.)—Mahatma Gandhi's son, Davi Das Gandhi, and Shanker Lal, who were arrested at Saleempur April 9, today were sentenced to three months' simple imprisonment for violation of the salt laws.

Ten others arrested at the same time were sentenced to three months' rigorous imprisonment. Ram Das Gandhi, another son of the Nationalist leader, was sentenced 10 days ago to six months.

Take More Evidence On Newsprint Rates

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Additional evidence relating to rates on newsprint from Canada to destinations in the United States is to be received by the Interstate Commerce Commission May 5 in New York City.

Extensive hearings were held by the Commission several months ago at Atlantic City and a date set for the carriers and the petitioners for lower newsprint rates to file briefs, but this date was set aside today in the order providing for further hearings.

NAVY TO START 3 CRUISERS

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—Representative French, of Idaho, chairman of the important naval appropriations sub-committee, said today that President Hoover was expected to permit the laying down of three of the first five cruisers in the 15-cruiser program within 30 or 60 days. The President postponed the work in August until after the naval conference.

The Idahoan, who has been in frequent touch with the President on naval affairs, outlined a plan under which the laying down of the second five cruisers would be delayed until late in the next fiscal year.

Under the London naval conference agreement, French explained, the third five cruisers of the three-year program are not to be constructed. With the eight new 10,000-ton cruisers now being completed, and 10 of the 15-cruiser program, he said, the United States Navy would have the 18 vessels of that class agreed upon in the London three-power pact.

The three delayed cruisers are to be built at the Puget Sound Navy Yard, Washington; the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and the Philadelphia Navy Yard. An appriation for laying down of the 13,800-ton aircraft carrier will be carried in the appropriation bill this year, French said. The naval supply bill will call for approximately $380,000,000.

CHICAGO RIVAL GANGS UNITE AND KILL 1

Capone, Moran Clans Under 'Scarface Al's' Banner; War Against Competition

International News Service.

CHICAGO, April 17.—The first move to wipe out "minor competition" was made today by the big shots of Chicago gangland.

Joseph Cameron, alias Joe Blue, mail robber and former pickpocket who, police say, attempted to "muscle in" on the bootleg "racket," was the first of the minor competitors to be eliminated.

Gangsters armed with machine guns, murdered Blue, a minor racketeer, last night.

The murder came just after the really "big shots" among Chicago gangsters were reported to have signed an agreement to work united under the banner of "Scarface Al" Capone.

HIT NINE TIMES

As Blue drove in Blue Island avenue a touring car pulled alongside his sedan and a deadly machine gun rattled its death roll.

Blue's automobile swerved and crashed into the curb as the execution car roared past and disappeared.

Police found nine machine gun slug wounds in his body. Nine other bullet holes were in the car.

Detectives said the murder fitted into the scheme of the big booze, vice and gambling kings to eliminate all competition—large or small.

GANGSTERS UNITED

Blue, police say, had a long criminal record, including arrests for picking pockets. He was sentenced to Atlanta for participation in the $150,000 mail truck robbery in Cincinnati in 1924.

Details of the reported "peace pact" entered into by the Capone and Moran gangs were secret, but the fact that Capone personally entertained some of the Moran lieutenants in his headquarters in Lexington Hotel, corroborated the report.

Further substantiation of the report was seen in the public association at Colosimo's famous restaurant of Capone and Moran gangsters.

The two gangs are reported to have united under "Scarface Al" to control the whole city booze, vice, gambling and rackets in the city. They will have a common defense fund, reports say, and a common "bribe" fund to obtain protection.

FLIER BELIEVED KIDNAPED

BALTIMORE, April 17.—(INS.)—Belief that Ralph White, student flier, who disappeared Sunday during a flight over Valley Stream, Long Island, N. Y., is being held by kidnapers, was indicated today when it was learned that Norman K. Winston, New York banker, received several letters addressed to him at a seaman's lodging house.

This information, added to Winston's statement in New York that he had been notified White was on a fishing ship, caused observers here to believe the letters written Winston possibly contained demands for ransom.

Winston has offered $500 for word leading to the whereabouts of White or his plane.

D. A. R. ATTACKS PACTS CURBING U.S. RIGHTS

Foreign Entanglements Frowned Upon; Adequate Preparedness Supported

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—Continuing attacks on foreign entanglements, the Daughters of the American Revolution approved a resolution today declaring against commitment of the country to alliances "which would operate to limit our full liberty of decision on international affairs."

The convention also indorsed the report of the national defense chairman, Mrs. William Sherman Walker, which described an active campaign against "pacifism, atheism, socialism and communism."

Mrs. Walker quoted former President Coolidge as saying that the Army and Navy had already been reduced to the "danger point."

She said only 5 and a fraction cents out of every tax dollar go for providing national defense, adding that the defense committee took a firm stand in supporting an adequate Navy while the cruiser agitation was going on in Congress.

"Our society still stands for a Navy commensurate with American past, present and future," she emphasized.

Voting for vice president generals proceeded briskly throughout today's session. One of the candidates is Mrs. Theodore J. Hoover, sister-in-law of President Hoover.

YOUNG REFUSES COMMENT

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP.)—Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, declined to comment today on a charge made in the Senate that Young was seeking to form a "world-wide radio trust."

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—(AP.)—Acquisition by the Radio Corporation of America of the radio manufacturing, engineering and licensing activities of the General Electric Company and the Westinghouse Electric was described here today by Gerald Swope, president of General Electric, as the final step in a plan to consolidate the engineering, manufacturing and selling departments of the radio business into one corporation.

"I do not see that there is anything particularly new to investigate," he said in commenting on the possibility of an inquiry by the Department of Justice into the deal by which the General Electric and Westinghouse Electric acquire large blocks of stock in the R. C. A.

"The community of interest between the two electrical corporations has existed for several years, and the Department of Justice has been fully informed about it," he said. "The situation has not changed in principle, though the degree of interest has been increased."

HOOVER ASKS SPEEDY O. K. FOR PACT

Seeking Support in Senate For Ratification Before Present Session Adjourns

By GEORGE R. HOLMES.
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President Hoover started paving the way today for early Senate action to ratify the three-power naval treaty evolved by the London conference.

The President discussed the matter with Senator William E. Borah (Rep.), of Idaho, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, for half an hour this morning. It was the first time in some weeks the Idahoan had been to the White House. Since his insurgency on a number of prime administration policies, Borah's meetings with Mr. Hoover have been very infrequent.

AMIABLE MEETING

There was every indication of amiability in their contact today, however.

QUICK ACTION UNOPPOSED

Senator Borah informed the President he had heard no serious opposition to the treaty, if it follows the lines indicated in London dispatches since the death of the consultative pact project.

Neither is there any objection to immediate consideration of the treaty in the Senate, Borah said.

TO RUSH TREATY

Senator Hale (Rep.), of Maine, chairman of the Naval Affairs committee, was invited to the White House to luncheon by Mr. Hoover to continue the discussion he begun with Borah. Hale has long been identified with the "big navy crowd" in the Senate. It is understood, however, he is not disposed to oppose the agreement worked out in London.

After these conferences, the President probably will decide to submit the treaty at the earliest possible moment, in order to complete ratification at this session.

No Foreign Tangle for U. S. In Treaty, Says Robinson

By HARRY R. FLORY

LONDON, April 17.—(INS.)—Participation of the United States in the so-called "safeguarding clause" in the tri-lateral naval limitation agreement has been so arranged as to keep America free from entanglement in European naval problems, Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, a leading member of the American delegation, declared in an official statement today.

The drafting committee of the conference today completed wording of the clause, which would allow the signatory nations to increase their naval programs if a non-signatory power embarked upon a policy of strong naval construction.

The clause, Senator Robinson pointed out, will not include a provision for the calling of an international conference in the event any signatory nation finds it necessary to increase its naval program. Such a provision was embodied in the Washington treaty.

Senator Robinson pointed out that since limitation of armaments is a voluntary process it is "wise in principle" to enter into the "safeguarding" arrangement and avoid responsibility for insisting any other nation have its hands tied in case of emergency.

2 SAFE AS TRAIN WRECKS AUTO

Two persons had narrow escapes from injury this morning when their automobile collided with another machine in the Freeport road, near Denny Station, and skidded down a 20-foot embankment onto the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Andrew Hanus, 22, of 384 Porter street, Oakmont, and Michael Tomminulla, 28, of 854 Oakmont avenue, Oakmont, were occupants of the machine which plunged down the hillside.

Hanus and Tomminulla extricated themselves from the damaged automobile a few minutes before it was wrecked by a shifting engine. The west-bound track of the railroad was obstructed an hour and a half while the wreckage was being cleared away. The other machine was driven by Rabbi Henry R. Goldberger, 38, of 1132 Victoria avenue, New Kensington. Hanus was arrested by Highway Patrolman Robert Clark, of the Parnassus detail.

Anne to Chart Lindbergh High Altitude Flight

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—(AP.)—Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, the former Anne Morrow, will actively assist her husband, the famous flying colonel, in the couple's contemplated one-stop experimental high altitude transcontinental air trip to New York.

While preparing for the flight expected to begin within a few days, Col. Lindbergh said that his wife would be his navigating assistant.

"If we encounter storm areas at high altitudes," Col. Lindbergh said, "we plan to continue by celestial navigation. We are equipped for that with an aviation sextant. Mrs. Lindbergh will make the observations.

"Our speed at high altitudes will be computed from the drift indicator on the plane. We will seek altitudes anywhere from 10,000 to 20,000 feet to test the possibilities for commercial passenger flights."

Pitt, Tech Engineers In Demand, Get Jobs

Seniors in the colleges of engineering and industries at Carnegie Institute of Technology and the University of Pittsburgh are not worrying about the employment situation.

With commencement still two months off, two-third of the seniors in these classes at Tech and about the same proportion at Pitt have already been offered positions, according to the school authorities.

John D. Beatty, secretary of the Bureau of Recommendations, which obtains positions for Tech graduates, said today that of the 181 members of the engineering and industries classes 122 have definite offers of employment.

In many cases, one man has received more than one offer, since the 122 students offered positions have received 200 bids.

Authorities at Pitt declared that virtually all the members of the engineering class have been offered places when they graduate.

SENTENCED AS DRUG PEDDLER

William Muskinsky, 34, of 56 Paul street, known as "The Governor," an employe of the county road department, today was sentenced to 15 months in Atlanta penitentiary on a charge of sale and possession of narcotics.

Judge R. M. Gibson, in sentencing Muskinsky, revoked a two and one-half year parole granted him previously.

Muskinsky had been found guilty in 1927 of selling dope, but had been granted the parole at that time. Last Monday he was arrested and a quantity of drugs found in his possession. Two addicts testified that they had been buying narcotics from Muskinsky since January. A chemical analysis showed that the drugs had been diluted with sugar of milk, according to Narcotic Agent David Roush.

NAVY, WILLIAMS FACE REPROOF

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—The Senate sub-committee, inquiring into the resignation of Lieut. Alford J. Williams, speed pilot, from the Navy, and into conditions surrounding development of Navy pursuit and bombing planes, has decided to submit an early report slightly critical of, but in sympathy with, both Williams and the department.

The sub-committee of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, which heard Williams and high officials of the Navy, has concluded that Navy planes compare "extremely favorably" with those of other nations.

Convinced that both Williams and the Navy Department were slightly in error in events leading to his resignation, the sub-committee is to report that, although there was misunderstanding on both sides, there was justification for the Navy's transferring the officer to sea duty. Williams testified that he resigned at that time in order to speed experimentation forward, through private connections.

Wild West Survivor Kills Himself at 89

DENVER, April 17.—(INS.)—A life spared almost miraculously from perils of the frontier West today had yielded to a suicide impulse. The body of Louis Kiefer, 89, one-time Indian fighter and frontiersman of note, was found in a coal shed at the rear of his home here, a revolver clutched in one hand and a bullet hole through the forehead.

Three months ago Kiefer had expressed a desire to live to be 100, and friends were at a loss to assign a motive for the suicide.

STATE BEAVER CROP GROWS

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

FIRST FORK, Pa., April 17.—Fifteen or 20 years ago there were no beavers in Pennsylvania. Now they have become so plentiful in this part of the state that they are regarded more or less as a pest.

Abundant in Colonial times, the beavers were trapped so persistently and recklessly that in time they went to join the other wild animals that the white man exterminated in Pennsylvania—the bison, the moose, the elk, the panther, the timber wolf, the wolverine, the Canada lynx, the fisher and the pine marten.

When the great conservation movement, which has made Pennsylvania the best hunting state in the union, got under way, an effort was made to restore some of the vanished mammals. The elk and the beaver have been brought back with conspicuous success.

In the Sinnemahoning Valley the industrious little carpenters have cut down thousands of aspen and hemlock trees, dammed streams and flooded farm land.

Chauncey E. Logue, state trapper, and his assistant, Blair J. Davis, are kept busy trapping beavers at points where they are doing harm. The animals are caught alive in snares of wire netting which are set in shallow water and snap shut when the beavers swim over them.

The trapped animals are released at places where beavers are not plentiful and are not likely to do damage.

UTILITY VALUES SCRUTINIZED

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(INS.)—The Electric Bond and Share Company's foreign utility interests were stepped up 400 per cent in consolidation operations of March, 1929, Samuel Meisels, Federal Trade Commission accountant, declared at the commission's inquiry into the financial structure of the company.

He said properties valued at $94,000,000 on the books prior to the 1929 consolidation were "written up" at $493,000,000 in the new books.

The stepup, he said, came after a property value appraisal of the company's foreign interests, operating under the title of the American and Foreign Power Company.

John F. McLane, Bond and Share counsel, told newspapermen at the hearing that the market value of the organization's foreign investment had now increased still more than figures indicated on the books.

Indiana to Spend Millions on Roads

INDIANAPOLIS, — (INS.) — In accordance with President Hoover's plea for expansion of public works, the Indiana State highway commission's expenditures during 1930 for labor probably will total $18,000,000, highway officials announced here.

In production of road material, contractors' work and maintenance activities, the commission has estimated that 15,000 persons will be employed. Figuring three persons to one family, the commission believes that 45,000 persons will be sustained by this activity.

The commissioin this year will build 500 miles of new roads, and do maintenance work on 5,000 other miles. Already contracts have been let for 315 miles of paving, which is 200 miles more than at this time last year.

Bond Frees Husband In Slaying of Trio

SEBRING, Fla., April 17.—(INS.)—Highlands County authorities today secretly released William R. Carver, former Stroudsburg (Pa.) real estate dealer, charged with the murder of his wife, a small son and a negro servant, from the county jail on $15,000 bond. He faces trial May 12. The alleged killer was whisked away at 10:30 a. m. following a closed conference between his counsel and Sheriff Oscar Wolfe.

NEW PANTAGES PLEA REFUSED

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—(AP.)—Alexander Pantages' third petition for release from the county jail on bail because of an asserted serious heart ailment, was denied by Superior Judge Charles Fricke. The court declared the arguments showed no circumstances that warranted release.

Pantages, millionaire show man, is confined pending action on his appeal from the one to 50-year prison sentence imposed following his conviction of criminal assault upon Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer.

Weather Conditions.

The Southwest disturbance is centered over Northern Missouri this morning, lowest barometer reported, 29.54 inches, at Kansas City. It covers the entire interior of the country, and is producing cloudy and rainy weather over most of the country east of the Rocky Mountains. The disturbance is now moving northeastward towards the Great Lakes. The rainfall during the last 24 hours was light generally, but heavy in some localities. The heaviest amounts reported were 1.70 inches, at Indianapolis; 1.80 at New Orleans, and 1.24 at North Platte. There was a moderate rise in temperature in the Central Mississippi states and the lake region, elsewhere the temperature changes were slight.

River Conditions.

The Allegheny is rising slowly. Elsewhere the rivers are falling. Oldest Alumnus Of Amherst Dead

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP.)—Col. Alexander B. Crane, 96, oldest alumnus of Amherst College, died yesterday at his home in Scarsdale.

He was born in Berkeley, Mass. In Terre Haute, Ind., he served as district attorney. He was an organizer of the Eighty-fifth Indiana Volunteers in the Civil War. He was the oldest member of the Union League Club, both in age and membership.

ILEANA'S 'HERO' TO MARRY

CHICAGO, April 17.—(AP.)—The Culver Military Academy cadet who was the gallant in Princess Ileana's "greatest thrill," is to be married. Newland de Pauw Knight, now with a Chicago bank, was the cadet detailed as Ileana's escort on the Chicago visit of the princess and her mother, Queen Marie, in 1927. Knight was driving with the princess to Indianapolis; a truck narrowly missed their car; Ileana fainted and the cadet revived her.

"It was my greatest thrill," the princess told newspapermen.

Knight will marry Miss Virginia Bash Voyles, of New Albany, Ind., next Tuesday.

DARROW ASKED TO AID LILA

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 17.—(AP.)—Clarence S. Darrow today was asked to come to the defense of Lila Jimerson, Cayuga Indian girl, who recently pleaded guilty to murder, second degree, in the death of Mrs. Henri Marchand. An appeal to Mr. Darrow was telegraphed by the Indians of the Cattaraugus and Allegany reservations through Raymond Jimerson, president of the Seneca nation.

Lila, who is in a municipal hospital, has not improved satisfactorily to permit her arraignment in court for sentence. The Indians will seek to reopen her case prior to such arraignment on the ground that when she assented to a guilty plea by a nod of the head from her cot, she was so weakened from loss of blood and was in such physical pain that she did not realize the import of her act.

Nancy Bowen, Indian woman, who is awaiting trial, readily admitted on the stand during the trial of Lila that it was she who wielded a hammer on Mrs. Marchand's skull.

Allegheny County Bond Issue Approved

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 17.—The Department of Internal Affairs today approved a bond issue of $2,240,000 for Allegheny County. The money is to be spent for erecting an addition to the jail, improving roads, building bridges and additional buildings at the Home for Indigent Persons.

The contemplated addition to the county jail, included in the bond projects, will be a building erected near the workhouse at Blawnox.

Basketball Team Has Many Leaders

OLNEY, Ill.—(INS.)—A novel system of appointing a new captain for each game has been adopted by the Olney High School basketball team. The Tigers claim the championship of this section known as "Little Egypt" because of their defeat of Carbondale, another district champion in the state tournament at Champaign this year.

PENNINGTON IS SCORED

"Regardless of the honesty of his purpose, Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington knows he doesn't dare enter certain clubs in this district," was the charge made by Mrs. Carroll Miller as luncheon speaker today before the Kiwanis Club of Pittsburgh at the Fort Pitt Hotel.

The state board member of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, who recently testified before the House Judiciary Committee, spoke for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the right for states to make their own laws. She cited evils created by the law and quoted Anti-Saloon League statements to show the purpose is defeated by a condition termed increasingly worse. Pointing out the church evil, Mrs. Miller said:

I regret to say that the Protestant churches, to which faith I am a member, are taking the wrong stand on this question. The Anti-Saloon League declares it only works through the Protestant churches. They demand enforcement of this law and fight against any appointment to the Supreme Court that would place a person with anti-prohibition tendencies on the bench.

You come very near church directed state in this country. Nothing could be worse. Mr. Pennington said to you members, large industrial plants making alsocohol have been closed, that it is not easy to get a drink. I disagree with Mr. Pennington. Before prohibition, many spots were dry in this state, but now there are none. With the saloons we could control the liquor. The saloon could be closed. The speakeasy cannot be closed because it reaches into politics. The bootleg element is worse than the saloon days.

Charity Head Urges Health Politics

NEW YORK.—(INS.)—Health workers should seek the aid of politicians and office holders to further their ends, in the opinion of Homer Folkes, secretary of the State Charities Aid Association.

Addressing the first session of the three-day annual meeting of the New York state, county and city committees on tuberculosis and public health in the Russell Sage Foundation Building, he said that an important part of health workers' jobs is to "make health safe for politics."

Lettuce Growers Own Radio Station

EL CENTRO, Cal.—(INS.)—Lettuce growers in this district keep in touch with the markets by means of a short wave radio station, installed by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The plan was tried out last year, and proved so useful to the lettuce growers that it is being renewed this season. Imperial Valley is one of the largest truck market districts in the world.

SENATE MOVES TO CALL PARKER

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—A movement began in the Senate today to have Judge John Parker, of North Carolina, the nominee of President Hoover for the Supreme Court, called before the Judiciary Committee to answer protests made against him.

Informal conferences were held today by Senate Republicans and it appeared that Judge Parker would be asked to come before the Senate Judiciary Committee to answer the complaints lodged against him by Negroes.

Some of the Republican Senators who urged the Parker nomination strongest upon President Hoover are among those now classed in the doubtful column.

Representations have been made to the President and he is standing pat pending developments. The nomination is still before the Judiciary Committee, which will meet again Monday.

FIRST TRAINED NURSE DIES

BOSTON, April 17.—(AP.)—Miss Linday A. J. Richards, the first trained nurse in America and a friend of Florence Nightingale, died here today at the age of 89.

Born in Pottsdam, N. Y., July 27, 1841, she was the first applicant and first graduate of the first school of nursing in the country, established by the New England Hospital for Women and Children, in September, 1873.

After work in the Bellevue Hospital Training School in New York, she visited European hospitals for study, and in 1885 went to Japan to organize a nurses' school. Later she returned to this country and directed schools in various American cities, including Kalamazoo, Mich.

For the past four years she had been confined to the Northboro Nursing School, where she died.

LEWIS CITED ON CONTEMPT RULE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 17.—(AP.)—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, and 32 others were cited by Circuit Judge Frank W. Burton today to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court for violating terms of the temporary injunction order obtained by the Illinois mine workers.

Summons were ordered issued through the sheriff's office. At the same time, however, Judge Burton advised against arrest of the defendants before the hearing is held, April 30.

On behalf of the mining industry in Illinois, he urged that the entire controversy be disposed of promptly.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—The Senate today voted 50 to 25 against immediate consideration of the Bingham Bill to provide for the biennial appointment of a board of visitors to inspect and report upon the government and conditions in the Philippine Islands.

History of World Told in Almanacs

LONDON.—(AP.)—A 50-year history of the world chronicled in almanacs has been preserved by John Fraher here. Starting shortly after the Franco-Prussian War, Fraher saved his copies of J. Gruber's Hagertown Town and Country Almanacs, all published at Hagerstown, Md.

Grown-Up Mountain Pupils Give Hoovers 'Homespun'

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—North Carolina mountaineers, who learned to read and write after they were grown men and women, presented President Hoover today with a bolt of cotton woven at spinning wheels in mountain cabins.

Mrs. Palie Farlow, mountain-bred, said to the President as she handed him the stout-spun material:

"This is for you and your wife."

There was enough material for a suit for the President and enough for an ensemble for Mrs. Hoover.

Miss Lizzie Smith, 24-year-old Buncombe County pupil, then presented the Chief Executive with a scrap book of pictures and signatures, work done at the night school in the North Carolina hills.

Mrs. Hoover did not meet the delegation. She is suffering from a cold and a wrenched back, the result of a fall Sunday in her room in the White House.

Mother Asks Court Writ For Year-Old Child

Alleging she has been unable to regain her child from a couple entrusted with it for a week, Mrs. Grace Gogolin obtained a writ of habeas corpus in Common Pleas Court directed to Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of 719 Emlin street, who have possession of Rose Marie, one-year-old, christened Miller against her objection, according to Mrs. Gogolin.

She averred she married Fred Gogolin January 8, 1919, and that they are now separated. Rose Marie was born April 26, 1929, and, at the request of Mrs. Miller, was delivered into her custody by Mrs. Gogolin June 6 last for one week, according to the bill. Mrs. Gogolin alleged she has been unable to obtain her child, her requests for it having been refused. Judge James Macfarlane fixed April 21 for a hearing.

LABOR BACKING DAVIS-BROWN TICKET

A. F. L. Quiz of 'Treachery' In Grundy Move Asked; Fight Waged for Pinchot

HARRISBURG, April 17 —(AP.)— Through the action of its representatives, support of organized labor today stood behind the candidacies of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and Francis Shunk Brown, who seek the Republican nominations for senator and governor respectively. Davis and Brown were indorsed by delegates of organized labor at a conference here yesterday. The meeting was called by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor.

The declaration for Davis was unanimous. The indorsement of Brown was by a majority vote for supporters of Gifford Pinchot waged a determined fight to have the conference declare for the former governor. Mine union delegates from the anthracite district were the chief supporters of Pinchot.

WHOLE TICKET CARRIED

The meeting also indorsed these other candidates on the Davis-Brown ticket: Brig. Gen. Edward C. Shannon, for lieutenant governor; Judge George W. Maxey for justice of the Supreme Court and Judges William B. Linn and James B. Drew for the Superior Court. The caucus took no action on candidates for Secretary of Internal Affairs because that office does not handle legislation, it was explained.

The delegates by resolution denounced the action of Frank Feeny and some associates representing the Council of Associated Building Trades of Philadelphia who Tuesday indorsed Senator Joseph R. Grundy. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was requested to investigate the Feeny action which the meeting called "an act of treachery to the interests of the working people of Pennsylvania." The same delegates meeting two weeks ago had condemned Grundy.

Pinchot Sees Threat By 'Philadelphia Gang'

POTTSTOWN, Pa., April 17 (AP.)—Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot carried his campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination into Pottstown and vicinity yesterday as he toured Montgomery County.

Pinchot asserted that Francis Shunk Brown would not be a candidate for governor "if it were not for the Philadelphia organization," and that if Brown is elected the "gang" would go to Harrisburg with him.

"Is it to your advantage," he asked, "to have them in Harrisburg? In Philadelphia this gang has piled up a debt of $600,000,000, and it has milked the town dry. The debt of Philadelphia is twice that of Chicago."

POLL-TAX HIT BY CANDIDATE

Abolition of the poll tax would aid election reforms, according to Representative Helen Grimes, in an address yesterday at a meeting of the Dormont League of Women Voters in the home of Mrs. Charles Campbell, of 1425 Dormont avenue.

Miss Grimes, who is seeking re-election in the Twelfth Legislative District, also spoke yesterday to members of the Congress of Women's Clubs on the necessity of preserving trees at river headwaters to prevent floods.

Sarah C. McClelland, candidate for the Legislature from the Fifth District, issued a statement advocating laws for the prevention of child labor and increases in mother's pensions, workingmen's compensation and old age pensions.

Walter E. Tucker, Negro candidate for the Legislature from the First District, was indorsed last night by the Third Ward Voters' League at a meeting at 81 Fullerton street. He is the candidate of the Kline administration.

Officers Elected By Trade Council

Discussion of delegates of Pittsburgh business men to the National Trade Council conference in Los Angeles next month, and election of officers featured a meeting of the Trade Council of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. Those elected were: Chairman, A. M. Vance, export manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company; vice chairmen, H. P. Griffith, of the Westinghouse Electric International Corporation, and William H. Baggs, vice president of the American Fruit Growers' Association, and secretary, Albert J. Stowe.

British Envoy Gives First U. S. Air Talk

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(INS.)—Sir Ronald Lindsay, the new British ambassador, stayed up until the middle of the night last night to make his initial radio broadcast from the United States. The program was directed to New Zealand, and Sir Ronald opened it with a message of greeting. He sent a similar message to Australia in event his voice was heard that distant.

Special Water Sent Turk Envoy in Berlin

BERLIN, April 17.—(AP.)—Kemaleddin Sami Pasha, Turkish ambassador, has water shipped from Vienna in large bottles, and all coffee served at the embassy is made with it. He believes it makes the most palatable Turkish coffee.

EXPECT HARRIS TO BACK DAVIS

State Senator Frank J. Harris is scheduled to speak over WJAS at 5:30 p. m. tomorrow and it was reported that he would indorse the Davis-Brown ticket.

With Harris committed the only important local political figure remaining to declare for state candidates is former President of Council James F. Malone, who will leave tomorrow night on a business trip to Havana, Cuba.

Former Judge A. C. Dale, state chairman of the Pinchot-for-Governor campaign, conferred yesterday in Magee Building headquarters with Pinchot's local managers, County Commissioner C. C. McGovern and County Chairman Frank J. Gollmar.

State Senator James J. Coyne and S. C. Jamison, managers of Senator Joseph R. Grundy's campaign to succeed himself, continued yesterday the organizing of adjoining counties.

Declaring that the repeal of prohibition is raised squarely in the present primary campaign, William Flew, Allegheny County chairman of the state anti-dry ticket, has issued a warning to voters against the prohibition referendum plank in Francis Shunk Brown's campaign for nomination as governor.

He urged election of the anti-dry ticket headed by Thomas W. Phillips for governor, Francis Bohlen for United States senator, and Charles Dorrance for lieutenant governor.

U. S. Army Tests Gas Masks for Horses

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(INS.)—A new gas mask for horses has successfully undergone tests at Fort Bragg, N. C., and probably will be adopted by the Army. The War Department today said the mask does not interfere with the endurance and efficiency of the animal and tests showed it can be adjusted in two and a half minutes. The average horse, however, objects to it more than it does the bridle, it was reported.

Glider Badly Hurt In 'Rough Landing'

DENVER, April 17.—(INS.)—Cyrus W. Maughan, 30, a postoffice clerk, was reported in critical condition at a local hospital today of a fractured vertebra, incurred when his glider made a "rough landing" at Colorado airways field here yesterday. An iron brace snapped in the glider, striking Maughan in the back.

Officer Slain In Raid on Still

HOUSTON, Tex., April 17.—(AP.)—Deputy Sheriff W. C. Williams, Jr., 23, was shot to death last night during a raid on a liquor still near Satsuma, about 25 miles north of here. Fellow officers said Williams was slain by A. V. Botkins, the man who led them to the still.

Easter Vacation Begins At W. & J.

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 17.—Easter holidays began at Washington and Jefferson College yesterday and will continue until next Thursday. The Washington Seminary vacation will commence today and continue until April 28.

12,000 VOTERS GO ON LISTS

About 12,000 voters, most of them Republicans, who had not registered previously were added yesterday to the lists of the 32 wards of Pittsburgh, according to estimates made by the Registration Commission. The ratio of men to women was about 3 to 2.

The figures include the former borough of Overbrook, recently annexed to the city and designated by the courts as the Thirty-second Ward. The previous registration lists totaled 188,362.

The Registration Commission today is investigating a complaint that the polling place of the Second District of the Fifth Ward was closed at 6 p. m. instead of remaining open until 10 p. m. by friends of Harry Feldman, Mayor Kline's leader in that ward.

Voters who desired to change their party affiliation were permitted to do so at the polling places, and it was reported that James P. Mulvihill, of the Fourteenth Ward, former manager of the Independent Brewing Company, registered as a Democrat to be eligible for appointment by Mayor Kline as a member of the Board of Property Assessors at $4,500 a year, succeeding a friend of James F. Malone, who ran against Kline for re-election.

April 30 will be registration day for McKeesport, Clairton and Duquesne.

DAVIS COUNSELS SHAVER GRATIS

FAIRMONT, W. Va., April 17.—(AP.)—John W. Davis, noted lawyer, former Democratic candidate for the presidency, and former ambassador to the Court of St. James, serves without cost in the suit of his friend, Clem L. Shaver, former Democratic National Committee chairman against the Consolidated Coal Company.

The suit, for $400,000 in commissions from a coal deal, was settled last week for $90,000.

Shaver nominated Davis for Congress when the lawyer first ran for national office, and conducted his campaign as chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Housewife's Killing Blamed on Woman

CHICAGO, April 17.—(INS.)—Police today began a search for a woman who is believed to be the slayer of Mrs. Mildred Helsing, young housewife, strangled with a silk ribbon in her apartment here recently.

The new theory held by the police is the result of a letter read at a second inquest into the death yesterday. The letter, received by R. C. Helsing, widower of the dead woman, pointed out that only women's clothes were taken by the killer and that the scratches on Mrs. Helsing's face could only have been inflicted by a woman.

Pilotless Bomber To Circle Coast City

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 17.—(AP.)—A big bombing plane directed by radio, is to leave Mather Field here tonight and, without guidance of human hands, fly to San Francisco, circle the city and return, as an experiment to determine the value of automatic pilots under conditions simulating warfare. The 18,000-pound craft will be turned over to an odd-looking machine which will serve as the pilot. Two gyroscopes constitute the principal features of the automatic pilot.

Italian Submarine Makes Record Dive

SPEZIA, Italy, April 17.—(AP.)—The Italian submarine, "Ammiraglio Bei Geneys," made what is claimed here as a world's record, descending 400 feet below the surface during trials today. The craft is one of a new type of a medium cruising radius.

3 Freed in C. O. D. Racket With Accuser Absent

Failure of Dr. P. W. Bushong, of 1824 Webster avenue, to appear against three men accused as members of a gang that victimized his secretary resulted in their discharge by a magistrate in New York yesterday.

The men, [illegible], were charged with [illegible] collecting money from many persons on packages mailed C. O. D.

Dr. Bushong was en route to the West Indies some time ago when his secretary, Mrs. Katherine Ackerman, received a telegram bearing his name which ordered her to pay for a C. O. D. package which would follow. When the package was delivered she paid $28. Its contents were worthless.

The arrest of the three men was brought about by a Pittsburgh wife whose husband was out of town. She received a telegram which was signed "Love from John." She became suspicious, she said, because her husband had not used the endearing term for many years. She notified police.

EDGE DEFENDS U. S. TARIFFS

STRASBOURG, France, April 17. — (AP.) — Walter E. Edge, American ambassador, here on his "second voyage of information" respecting French industries, told his Alsatian hosts that the declines in some of the exports of France to the United States were due to changing economic conditions rather than to tariffs.

He cited figures to show that some Alsatian exports to America are constantly growing despite the fact that duties on them last year averaged 25 per cent higher than in 1921. He said France and the United States were both protectionist countries, but this fact could not interfere with the normal growth of trade.

The Ambassador paid tribute to "the extraordinary prosperity of France" and the lack of an unemployment problem.

Edge inspected the great river port here on the Rhine and also visited flour mills, a locomotive factory and the clinic of the Rockefeller Foundation. Today he will go to Muelhausen, returning to Paris in the evening.

In his address before the local Chamber of Commerce, Edge said that the object of his trips around France was to remove the bugaboo of the American tariff. He said this had been "cited as the cause of many evils with which, for the most part, it had not even a speaking acquaintance."

This address followed one by the President of the Chamber of Commerce who expressed "alarm at the determination of the United States to isolate itself from the rest of the world behind tariff barriers which were becoming more and more insurmountable."

Shrubbery Planted On Lincoln Highway

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 17.—Planting of shrubbery at the western approach of the Lincoln highway has been started by the Greensburg Garden Club. A carload of shrubbery will be placed.

Hsst! a word to the wise outdoor girl

HANDS calloused from golf . . . lips chapped by the wind . . . necks and noses sunburned and freckled . . . here's how to repair this damage.

Lay in a stock of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly. At home on the dressing table. At the club in your locker. And apply it freely. For example: If the hands are calloused or rough and chapped, or too dry, or sunburned, or the cuticle is inclined to form hangnails, massage them with a generous amount of "Vaseline" Jelly before retiring and wear soft gloves to bed.

If lips are chapped, apply "Vaseline" Jelly every time you think of it. It is obtainable everywhere, in tubes and jars.

These are simple, easy things to do. Do try them. Your looks will benefit enormously.

BRITAIN, RUSSIA IN TRADE PACT

LONDON, April 17.—(AP)—The text of a reciprocal trade agreement between Great Britain and Soviet Russia was published last night [illegible] signature by Arthur Henderson, foreign minister, and [illegible] Maisky, Russian envoy. It probably will be laid before the House of Commons today.

The accord [illegible] the head of the Soviet trade delegation and his [illegible] form part of the [illegible] thus giving them diplomatic privileges and a sharply [illegible] immunity to the trade delegation offices, although the latter are used exclusively for commercial purposes.

Hitherto Anglo-Russian trade has been [illegible] Russian [illegible] This body did not enjoy diplomatic privileges.

The treaty also provides for a reciprocal grant of most favored nation treatment in respect to trade and nationals, subject to certain exceptions in regard to shipping.

A protocol specifies that the diplomatic privileges and immunities are not to apply in connection with court proceedings arising out of commercial transactions entered into by the trade delegation.

STATE CHARGES STOCK FRAUD

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Upon motion of the state attorney general's office, Supreme Court Justice McCrate temporarily enjoined William H. Byington and the National Assets Corporation of New York from further dealings in securities.

Col. Frank White of Bethesda, Md., former treasurer of the United States under President Coolidge and governor of North Dakota for two years, is president of the restrained corporation, but Deputy Attorney General Harry M. Garvey absolved him from blame "as a man who apparently was misled into letting his name be used and who was not concerned in the distribution of the stock."

Garvey charged that Byington purchased at 10 cents a share thousands of shares of stock of the National Assets Corporation, which he organized and then sold them for $1 to $10 a share.

WIFE POISONING QUIZ NEAR END

TOPEKA, Kan., April 17.—(AP)—Grand jury investigation of the charge that Maj. Charles A. Shepard, 59-year-old Denver Army surgeon, poisoned his 37-year-old wife because of infatuation for Miss Grace Brandon, 23, of San Antonio, Tex., was near an end here today.

Miss Brandon, a stenographer at Brooks Field, Tex., where the major was stationed in 1928, was questioned for an hour and a half yesterday before the Federal jurors. Bardius M. Brewster, United States district attorney, said he expected to conclude interrogation of witnesses today after further examining the young woman.

Myron C. Taylor Awarded Degree

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation, yesterday was invested with the honorary degree of doctor of commercial science by New York University.

Chancellor Elmer Ellsworth Brown, who conferred the degree, declared that Mr. Taylor had won a leading place among the captains of American industry who are "taking thought" that the advance of commerce and industry "may be translated into gains for the higher life of all the people."

Farm Economics Expert is Named

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—The appointment of Eric Englund as assistant chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture, was announced here by Niles A. Olsen, chief of the bureau. Englund succeeds H. R. Tolley, who resigned recently to go to the University of California.

As assistant chief Englund will administer the economic research activities of the bureau.

FOR ABSOLUTE RELIABILITY

WARN AGAINST HITCH-HIKERS

Autoists were warned today, with the motoring season now starting, to avoid giving rides to hitch-hikers by C. H. Roth, secretary of the Pittsburgh Motor Club at William Penn Hotel headquarters.

State and local police will be asked to co-operate in minimizing the habit in accordance with the recent act of legislature, Mr. Roth said. Through the auto clubs, a state law provides imprisonment or a fine for hitch-hikers annoying motorists on the highways, including city streets.

With the season opening, Mr. Roth declared motorists will discourage the habit by ignoring the requests which open themselves to liability in event of an accident. Even warning the stranger that he will not be responsible in the event of an accident is not sufficient protection for the motorist, it was cited, if the passenger warns against reckless driving.

The danger of holdups and possible accidents with cars swerving from the path of the thumbing hiker can be avoided, it was pointed out, but concerted action by motorists against this evil will be necessary.

Youngstown Student Heads Tech Council

Marvin Fox, of Youngstown, O., a student in the College of Engineering, has been elected president of the student council at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, it was announced today. Miss Elizabeth Steele, of 1209 Center street, Wilkinsburg, a member of the junior class of Margaret Morrison Carnegie College, was named secretary.

Church Board at Bellevue to Meet

The board of trustees of the Bellevue Methodist Protestant Church will meet tonight at the home of W. A. Walker, 223 Belva street, Avalon.

POLL ON HALL FOR TRIANGLE

According to sentiment expressed in letters received by E. C. Eppley, president of the William Penn Hotel, Allegheny County favors a downtown location for a town hall in the ratio of 759 to 2, he said today. The letters are in reply to a series of form letters mailed by Eppley to business and professional people.

The mailing list was selected without knowing how anyone stood on the question of location, and it included residents of every section of the county. Replies were not requested, but 761 persons replied, and all but two urged a downtown site.

Virtually all the letters expressed impatience with the delay on the project, Mr. Eppley said. Several which vigorously denounced the Oakland site were from residents of that district, Mr. Eppley stated.

Templars Confer Order on Friday

More than 1,000 members of the Second Division, Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, will be guests of officers and members of Tancred Commandery at the conferring of the Order of the Temple in Masonic Temple, Oakland, from 2 to 5 p. m. Friday. Officers in charge of the work are John A. Lathwood, division commander; Harry W. Normecutt, Tancred commander; Maurice M. Cavett, generalissimo; Thomas C. Clifford, captain-general; Harry L. Letsche, treasurer; Harry S. Allen, recorder, and Harry W. Stuchell, captain of the escort.

Templars Attend Memorial Service

Memorial services for 122 members were held by Division No. 2, Knights Templar, in Trinity Cathedral last night. The Rt. Rev. Alexander Mann, Bishop of the Pittsburgh Diocese of the Episcopal Church, spoke. Prelates of seven commanderies comprising the division took part in the services. The cathedral was filled with uniformed representatives of each commandery.

MAN, WIFE DIE IN AIR CRASH

HAYS, Kan., April 17.—(AP)—Fog, the enemy of aviation, has claimed at least two additional lives, the result of a plane crash here yesterday.

A. J. (Steve) Lacey, 27, Wichita, Kan., test pilot and exhibition flyer, and his wife, 20, died following the fall of a plane piloted by the aviator. Russell Guild, 22, of Holyoke, Col., is in a critical condition in a Hays hospital. Dr. H. C. Hill, also of Holyoke, the fourth occupant of the plane, injured less seriously, also is receiving hospital treatment.

BACK FEARED BROKEN

Exact extent of Guild's injuries have not been determined, pending an X-ray examination, taken today. It is believed his spine is fractured. Dr. Hill received a broken nose and several fractured ribs.

According to Dr. Hill, the pilot apparently lost his sense of direction after flying for 20 minutes in a dense fog, and headed the airplane into the ground. The plane speeded 3,200 feet and buried itself in a pasture.

INVESTIGATE CAUSE

An investigation of the crash, in an effort to determine the exact cause, is planned today with the arrival of Clyde C. Cessna, president of the company that employed Lacey, from Wichita. J. P. Brock, county coroner, said he would co-operate with the airplane company official and his assistants in their investigation to determine whether an inquest would be held.

The same fog thought to have caused the crash, prevented the arrival late yesterday by air of the Witchita party.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacey were flying Guild and Dr. Hill to Holyoke from Wichita, where the latter, who was in the market for an airplane, had been given demonstrations.

Sheep Killing Eagles Hunted By Plane

EL PASO, Tex., April 17.—(AP)—The first aerial eagle hunt in the Southwest ended successfully when Clarence Robey, pilot, and H. S. Bernhardt, marksman, of the El Paso Police Department, returned from Marfa with nine sheep-killing birds to their credit.

An entire flock of eagles on the Leroy Cleveland ranch was killed in eight hours of flying time. The birds had been carrying off a dozen or more lambs daily.

The hunt was arranged with R. P. Langford, manager of R. and I. Airways, when Cleveland was unable to get within shooting range of the birds on the ground.

PHIPPS PARTY GOES ABROAD

NEW YORK, April 17.—Mrs. John S. Phipps and Miss Peggy Phipps, social registrites of Pittsburgh, will spend the Easter holidays abroad, having sailed for Europe in the S. S. Aquitania. The Pittsburgh travelers have a number of socially prominents and sports notables as fellow passengers. The Phippses will disembark at Southampton and after spending more than a week in England will visit the principal cities of the continent. Miss Carolyn A. Glorkler, also of Pittsburgh, was another passenger who sailed in the Aquitania.

The giant Cunarder also took out Mr. and Mrs. Avery Rockefeller and Miss Anne Rockefeller, Edward H. Sothern, Shakesperian actor, Kaye Don, British auto speed king, and Cyril Tolley, British amateur golfer.

BROKER GUILTY IN MAIL FAKE

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Roy Hagerman, who operated three firms in New York and in Newark, N. J., on an installment stock sales plan, was convicted by a jury in Federal Court of using the mails to defraud.

The jury recommended leniency. Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard postponed sentence and released Hagerman in $3,000 bail.

Four witnesses, who came here from Detroit, Mich., and Eli, Nev., testified they had bought stocks through Hagerman on an installment plan and charged he did not buy the stock for them when the first payments were made, as he had promised. They said he charged his customers commissions for orders which never were executed, in addition to charging them interest on money which he had not advanced.

JEWELS FOUND IN 3 TRUNKS

BOSTON, Mass., April 17 (AP)—Three trunks filled with jewelry valued by police at $100,000 were found last night in the hotel room here of Fred G. Hughes, 47, who gave his address as the Hotel Sherman, Chicago.

Police arrested Hughes in Newton, on suspicion of burglary.

Brought here, officers said, he confessed allegedly to three breaks in Newton between April 9 and 15 and then told them to investigate his room. In three tightly-packed trunks police found diamonds, pearls, watches, and antique jewelry of all descriptions.

Hughes, allegedly told the police a wild story of 19 years of burglarizing, of leaving a wife and child at Los Angeles, Cal., and of escaping from the Texas state prison last June after overpowering a guard. He said he originally came from Tucson, Ariz.

NEW QUARTERS FOR REPUBLIC

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 17.—Expansion of the newly-formed Republic Steel Corporation has started here and R. J. Wysor, formerly general manager of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Company, Pittsburgh, has arrived to assume his duties as vice president in charge of operations.

The corporation plans to lease four or five stories in the New Central Tower, as the Republic Building on Market street does not have sufficient accommodations for the enlarged staff.

W. M. Neckerman, formerly vice president of Republic, handling operations, continues in the operating department of the new concern.

Officials report improved business in the past 10 days, resulting in accelerated operations at the Youngstown, Canton and Massillon properties.

Man's Eye Injured By Shattered Bulb

His left eye injured by flying glass when an electric light bulb burst in his hands, Andrew Zetiko, 41, of 348 Second avenue, Homestead, today is a patient in the Homestead Hospital. The glass was removed from his eye at the hospital, but an X-ray examination will be made today in an effort to save the sight.

TELEPHONE SHOPPING SERVICE COURT 3000

BAN ON HEFLIN WINS IN COURT

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 17.—(INS)—The last hope of Senator Thomas Heflin, stormy petrel of Alabama politics to run for re-election under the Democratic banner was dashed by the Alabama Supreme Court today.

The court upheld the State Democratic Executive Committee in barring all candidates from the Democratic primary who bolted the cause of Al Smith in the 1928 presidential election and voted the Republican ticket.

Heflin made a militant "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" campaign against Smith and voted for Hoover.

The decision also definitely excluded Hugh Locke, aspirant to the governorship from the Democratic party in Alabama. If Heflin and Locke want to take their cases before the people they will have to run as independents.

Britons Waive Death For Army Cowardice

LONDON, April 17.—(AP)—The House of Lords decided this forenoon not to insist upon retention of the death penalty for cowardice and desertion in the British army, abandoning their amendment to the army and air force annual bill which vetoed the House of Commons abolition of that punishment. The army and air force bill now will become a law in the form it originally passed in the Commons, with its clauses abolishing the death penalty for cowardice, desertion and other lesser offenses intact.

Vessel Reported Overdue Located

SAGINAW, Mich., April 17.—(AP)—The sand sucker Pearson for which Lake Huron coast guardsmen started a search yesterday is anchored in the Saginaw River here. A misunderstanding as to her destination caused the report to the Coast Guard that the boat was overdue at Bay City, Mich.

Brownsville Girl Wins Scholarship

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 17.—Marie Louise Edel, South Brownsville, a senior at Goucher College, Baltimore, Md., won the Oliver-Dabney scholarship at Radcliffe College. She will do graduate work in English.

Finds Drowned Brother's Body After Dream

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., April 17.—Dreaming that he saw the body of Clarence Unger, 25, drowned March 22 in the Potomac, in the flash of Dam No. 6 near Great Cacapon, Harry Smith, his brother-in-law, went to the river today, he says, and found the body near the West Virginia shore below the dam, much as pictured in the dream.

Authorities held an inquest unnecessary and burial will be made here immediately. Unger was drowned with William Mort, 45, of Peaks, Md., when their boat in which they were crossing the Potomac was overturned. Mort's body was found Tuesday near the place where the Unger body was found today.

MEXICANS FREE U. S. CAPTIVE

MEXICO CITY, April 17.—(INS)—Leonard B. Cassidy, United Fruit Company official of Peabody, Mass., who was kidnaped by Mexican bandits and held for ransom, has been released, according to information received by the American embassy here today.

The information came from the Sebastapol ranch in the State of Oaxaca where Cassidy was reported to be resting from nervous shock and exhaustion.

The American was released by the bandits last night, according to the embassy reports, and reached the ranch in a condition bordering on exhaustion. Details of his abduction and subsequent release were not available.

News that he had been released did not reach here until after federal troops had been ordered to aid volunteers in searching the vicinity of El Hule for the American.

Traffic Problems Faced By Council

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 17.—City Council is making an effort to solve the traffic problem. An ordinance permitting parking in Pittsburgh street has been introduced and a conference with officials of the West Penn Railways Company looking to the rerouting of street cars through the business section will be asked.

REPAIR WORK AIDS JOBLESS

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—Julius Barnes, chairman of President Hoover's National Business Survey Committee, reported today that unemployment throughout the country has been relieved to a marked degree by activities in repair work, additions to and alterations of plants and factories since the beginning of the year.

Commenting on this "contributing factor in the stabilization of business," he said that "since the early part of the year the average daily permits for additions, alterations and repairs have increased 30 per cent. The stimulus given these activities has aided appreciably in relieving unemployment."

He foresaw as the next logical step a resumption of home building and a consideration of the requirements for residential building.

"The resumption of prudent building activity in the residential field will aid materially in bringing employment back to normal," he concluded.

Action on Unified Rum Patrol Stated

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(INS)—Consideration of the third phase of the administration's prohibition reorganization program—establishment of a unified border patrol under the Coast Guard—will be started tomorrow by a House Interstate Commerce sub-committee of which Representative Hoch (Rep.) of Kansas, is chairman.

A bill drawn by treasury experts, under which the border anti-smuggling forces of the treasury, immigration and customs bureaus and coast guards would be brought into a military organization, is before the sub-committee.

Girl Held Prisoner As Communist Dies

JERUSALEM, April 17.—(Jewish Telegraphic Agency.)—Hannah Millstein, 18, died yesterday in the Hadassah Hospital to which she had been taken from a cell where she was confined last September as a Communist. She recently went through a two weeks' hunger strike.

Windsor Castle Set for Joyous Easter Party

LONDON, April 17.—(AP)—A children's Easter party as joyous as that in any other family of the land will be held at Windsor Castle on Monday.

Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, will be present and at the same time celebrate her fourth birthday. Other guests will be the seven and five-year-old sons of Princess Mary and the Earl of Harewood, George and Gerald.

Besides the Duke and Duchess of York, and the Earl of Harewood and Princess Mary, the king's third and fourth sons, the Duke of Gloucester and Prince George will also be at the castle for Easter.

Only the Prince of Wales, now in Egypt, will be absent.

NEGRO CHURCH LEADER SLAIN

SCOTTSBURG, Ind., April 17.—(INS)—In the belief that Edward D. Pierson, auditor and efficiency expert of the National Baptist Convention, was abducted at Louisville, Ky., taken here and shot, authorities today traced his recent movements.

The Negro church leader died late yesterday shortly after he was found wounded and clinging to a tree in the Muscatatuck River near here. A coarse rope bound his hands and feet and was tied to his two suitcases.

Pierson died before he could give any details of the shooting. He was returning from Nashville, Tenn., to Chicago, and was last seen in Louisville. His presence in Scottsburg could not be accounted for except that he had been kidnaped.

DENY NICARAGUA REVOLT RUMOR

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, April 17.—(AP)—Both American and Nicaraguan officials denied with emphasis a report published Tuesday in the newspaper El Sol at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, to the effect that a revolutionary movement was in progress in this country. They said there was no foundation for the report.

The rumors had it that Gen. Pedro Altamirano had taken control of the departments of Jinotega and Segovias and was threatening Matagalpa. But both American Marine and National Guard commanders asserted their reports from the numerous outposts scattered in that northern sector of Nicaragua said that everything was quiet. There are 13 Marine posts and about two dozen Guard posts in that region and there is continuous radio and plane communication with the capital.

Dry Agents Seize Carload of Beer

Prohibition agents today seized a carload of high-test beer in the Fortieth street yards of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The beer was billed as oil pumps and consigned to the Penn-Liberty Refining Company, but that company disclaimed all knowledge of it. Agents said they believe that the company's name was being used by the beer runners to avert suspicion. The car contained 100 barrels and 50 half barrels of the beverage.

SLAIN WOMAN'S SUITOR SOUGHT

WASHINGTON April 17. (AP)—A man who wrote ardent love letters to Mary Baker was sought by police today in the mystery that surrounds her killing.

He has not been seen in Washington recently. Authorities are convinced he has left the city. They have his name but they decline to make it public. Today they were trying to determine if he was one of Miss Baker's guests at a party March 31 when she and Miss Mildred Sperry and Miss Olga Skinner moved into their new house in Lyon Park, Va.

Miss Baker was murdered in a lonely road near Arlington National Cemetery Friday night. Her body was found stuffed into a culvert and her automobile was discovered streaked with blood half a mile away.

Police are curious about the disappearance of Miss Sperry and Miss Skinner. They had expected to question them again. But the young women could not be found. They had not been seen since they left Oak Grove, Va., the day before, after attending the murdered woman's funeral.

$10,000 Value Put On Rare Stamp Find

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—Old letter files will probably get a searching scrutiny from philatelists as a result of the discovery by Miss Natalie Sumner Lincoln, editor of D. A. R. Magazine, of a rare stamp tentatively valued at $10,000.

The stamp, one of a provisional issue by postmasters in 1845, was found by Miss Lincoln on a letter written to her father, Dr. Nathan Smith Lincoln, by his uncle, Dr. Nathan Ryno Smith of Baltimore, in 1848. It is a white oblong sticker on which is printed in black letter at the top, "James M. Buchanan," and beneath it, "10 cents."

8 Days Pole Sitting Enough, Cat Retires

KINGSBURG, Cal., April 17.—(AP)—Tom, a gray Maltese cat, today was resting on his laurels after having sat for eight days atop a telegraph pole for no good reason at all. He came down yesterday and disappeared much to the discomfiture of his owner, Mrs. Charles Schaffer, and the joy of neighbors who had been forced to listen to his yowling because they couldn't coax him back to earth.

Mexico Seeks Ideas On Aviation in U. S.

MEXICO CITY, April 17.—(AP.)—Gen. Joaquin Amaro, secretary of war, today approved the sending of a group of young pilots and aviation experts to the United States and Europe, where they will study aviation conditions with a view to improving the Mexican army air force. The commission is expected to leave within a week.

3 HELD IN AUTO THEFT CASE

Arrested while driving an automobile said to have been stolen from Abe Schiff of 817 Brynmawr road, Pittsburgh, three Negroes were lodged in the Springdale Borough lockup for questioning today by the Parnassus detail of the State Highway Patrol. The trio was apprehended by Patrolman Robert Clark in the Freeport road near Harmarville last night.

The Negroes said they were John Jones, 21, of 2153 Wylie avenue; James Hall, 29, Olean Hotel, Fulton street, and William Jones, 21, 2511 Mahon street, Pittsburgh. The prisoners were to be questioned in connection with a series of robberies in the eastern part of the county, Clark said.

Australia Cuts Defense Budget

MELBOURNE, April 17.—(AP.)—It was officially announced that the Australian Commonwealth Government has ordered a reduction of at least $2,500,000 in estimates for national defense. Half of the reduction would apply to the Navy and the rest be divided between the Army and the Air Force.

Put Behind Bars Until He 'Tells The Truth'

William Smith, 55, employed as a dishwasher at the Original Coffee Shop, 308 Federal street, was committed to jail "until you tell the truth" by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Central Police Court today without option of a fine.

He was arrested yesterday in connection with the robbery of the restaurant safe of $114 Sunday night. Police said Smith had been observed loitering around the basement after working hours.

He denied knowing anything concerning the robbery. He gave his address as 22 East General Robinson street.

State Nurse Officer Faces Trial Tuesday

HARRISBURG, April 17.—(INS.)—Mrs. Helene Herrmann, lately secretary-treasurer of the state board of examiners for the registration of nurses, will be given a preliminary hearing next Tuesday on charges of defalcation of state funds amounting to at least $4,000. Mrs. Herrmann, bonded for $2,000, is reported as willing and eager to make up the difference between the bond and the amount defaulted.

$3,500 LOST IN BANK HOLDUP

FRANKFORT, Ill., April 17.—(Ins.)—A careful audit of the books at the Frankfort State Bank here today showed that two armed bandits who invaded it late yesterday made off with $3,500 from the vault after kidnaping J. A. Luhring, the cashier.

After speeding two miles northward the bandits tossed Luhring from their automobile.

Entering the bank with revolvers drawn, the robbers forced the cashier to sit in a chair while one of them entered the vault and scooped up all the currency in sight.

20 Private Planes On British Air Tour

LONDON, April 17.—(AP.)—Twenty gaily painted airplanes, piloted by 20 carefree young people, soared into the air from Heston Airdrome today on the first continental air tour in the history of flying by a fleet of privately owned light machines.

The party totals 32 persons including a number of well-known Britishers. Some are comparative novices, but each machine has an experienced pilot.

Town Has More Officers Than Voters

TETERBORO, N. J., April 17.—(AP.)—Here's a town with more officials than voters.

The census, completed today, showed Teterboro's official family numbered 12, including mayor, magistrate, clerk and a council of five. The voting population totaled 11. Twenty-six is the borough's total population.

Clarence Chamberlin formerly was justice of the peace here but quit the job to fly over the Atlantic.

Suspect Arrested In Attack on Pair

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 17.—Jake Miller, New Geneva district Negro, was arrested yesterday as a suspect in connection with an attack on Joseph Minor and his niece, on their farm near Connellsville Sunday. Police said Miller is on parole for killing two Negroes at New Geneva seven years ago.

GOVERNOR AIDS CHICAGO RELIEF

CHICAGO, April 17.—(INS.)—Gov. Louis Emmerson, bent on untangling Chicago's muddled financial situation, today was laying plans for an extra session of the Illinois Legislature from which he hopes will come some measures of relief. The session is practically assured, he said.

The Legislature, according to the Governor, will busy itself at drafting amendments to the tax articles of the state constitution. It is expected to pass a series of bills designed to bring temporary relief to Chicago and Cook County.

Chicago's corporate fund will have a deficiency of more than $5,000,000 on July 1, in addition to the standing debt of $13,500,000, Comptroller George Schmidt informed City Council yesterday.

EXPERT URGES CANCER CLINICS

BOSTON, April 17.—(AP.)—Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, of Baltimore, Johns Hopkins Hospital surgeon and cancer authority, told the New England Health Institute that in spite of all educational compaigns and all progress in surgical and X-Ray treatment, cancer is still increasing and that it never will be controlled until its cause and cure are discovered.

Dr. Bloodgood said he had recommended to the United States Public Health Service at their request a thorough survey of cancer cases and records, but continued:

"There is no doubt that this survey will demonstrate that, no matter how extensively the people are educated, no matter how accurate the diagnosis and skillful the treatment, cancer can never be controlled until its cause, its preventative—and its curative treatment are discovered."

One remedy in the meantime, Dr Bloodgood suggested, was the establishment of cancer clinics throughout the country where all doctors competent to diagnose and treat cancer are grouped together in one clinic-hospital and the public and the medical profession are told that this is the proper place for the recognition and treatment of the disease.

$137,000 BANK LOSS BARED

LANSING, Mich., April 17. —(AP.)—Officials of the Capital National Bank announced the discovery of a $137,000 shortage in their note department.

The bank is a United of the Guardian Detroit Union Group, Inc. Officials from the Detroit office have been co-operating with local bank officials in an effort to determine the source of the shortage since last Friday, when the first irregularities were discovered.

Frank Gorman, executive vice president of the bank, said that the shortage had been so carefully covered up that it was unnoticed by state bank examiners. No criminal action has been undertaken.

See "HIGH SOCIETY BLUES" at The Aldine Theater as the Guest of the Sun-Telegraph

Here's a real treat for Classified Ad readers. Here's your opportunity to see "High Society Blues" without spending a penny. Here's the "dope." The story of this thrilling love romance, starring Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor, is published in synopsis form in the Classified Section. Five sentences similar to this: "Eddie's sister and the count fall in love," are published every day in the Classified Section. Five sentences were published Tuesday. Five more were published yesterday. The above sentence and four more appear today. Five more will appear tomorrow, making a total of twenty sentences. Go through the ads carefully and clip out all the sentences. If you don't have the first ten, get copies of Tuesday's and Wednesday's Sun-Telegraph and keep a sharp lookout for all the rest.

In short, find and collect the twenty sentences which will tell the whole story of "High Society Blues." When the last five appear Friday, copy the twenty sentences in your own handwriting and mail your presentation to the "Manager, Classified Dept., Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph." The twenty persons submitting the neatest manuscripts will each be given TWO GUEST TICKETS to "HIGH SOCIETY BLUES," which comes to the Aldine Friday, for an extended run. Look for the hidden sentences—while you are looking for bargains. When you see this picture, for nothing, you will feel well repaid for your effort. You may also see the apartment, or used car, or new home you are interested in while you are looking.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

Five sentences published each day, twenty in all—Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—last sentence appears Friday. All answers must be in the hands of "The Manager, Classified Advertising Dept., Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph," not later than midnight, Monday, April 21, 1930. Neatness will be the basis of award. Write in your own handwriting, on one side of the paper, only. Names of the Winners will be announced in The Classified Section, Wednesday, April 30, 1930.

Girls Wear Them on Suits and Dresses

Sketched—a heavenly blue silk dress with two little capes instead of a collar. On the capes and on the tiny cap sleeves—clusters of cord bows. Sizes 8 to 14. 12.75.

The suit is smart not only because it has its cape—but because it's of covert cloth. The jacket has three little nipping-in tucks on each side. Sizes 10 to 14. 19.75.

Don't fool yourself!

Husbands and wives should be careful

To meet anyone with halitosis (bad breath) even occasionally is bad enough, but to be married to one is indeed a trial. When this condition is present no wonder husbands are less considerate—wives less tender.

Don't fool yourself that you never have halitosis. Since it does not announce itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it. Unknowingly, you may offend.

Why take the chance at all? Simply use full strength Listerine every day. Then, if you have halitosis, Listerine ends it. If you haven't—your mouth has had the benefit of a thorough antiseptic cleaning.

Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is an instant deodorant. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

We Now Present

By DARRELL V. MARTIN,
Radio Editor.

THRILLING exploits of King Arthur and Knights of the Round Table will be depicted in a new series of programs to be inaugurated over WJAS at 7:15 tonight under the sponsorship of Kaufmann's and the Defiance Tire Company.

Armored knights of medieval history will parade before the microphone in the person of leading Broadway actors and musicians. The origin of King Arthur's power will be dramatized tonight.

Richard Crooks

Two other new features will be introduced by KDKA. The Knox - Dunlap Orchestra will have its network debut at 9. At 11 o'clock fans will hear the first of a new series planned by the Continental Oil Company.

The second Jeffries - Corbett battle, which took place in San Francisco in 1904, will furnish the Frank and Seder attraction on WJAS at 8 p. m. The fight will be announced blow by blow from the ringside together with all the intimate details that give these recreated championships a touch of realism.

WCAE will have Richard Crooks and Lawrence Tibbett in Stainier's "Crucifixion" at 10 o'clock. Mark Andrews will play the organ. Stainier's work tells the story of the Passion and Crucifixion and the music is of the inspired type which is at once melodious and moving.

* * *

Jim Higgins, brother of Peter Higgins of RKO fame, is to entertain on a new KQV feature which starts this Saturday night at 11.

* * *

Acts are to be introduced in a singing way by Eddie Cooke, Pittsburgh's first radio m. c.

* * *

The whole thing, called "Samples," is the creation of Steve Forrest, veteran theatrical man.

* * *

"Our business is sound—a new pun by Christy Wilbert, p. a. for Warner Brothers, who stops at our desk every occasionally.

* * *

Christy says Sammy Cohen, famous comedian of "What Price Glory," will do his stuff over the KQV "mike" at the Warner Theater dedication Friday night.

* * *

"National Defense at Home and Abroad" is the subject of Senator Millard E. Tydings, of Maryland, for his D. A. R. broadcast over WEAF, WRC and WSAI at 7:30 tonight.

* * *

Senator Carter Glass will discuss "Stock Gambling" over WABC at 10:30.

* * *

"The Secret Crime in App's Woods" on WJAS at 9 tonight, has Snyder County, Pennsylvania, for the scene.

* * *

TODAY'S TID BIT:

R. P. Griffith, better known as Gus Schmaltz, of Dilworth's Little German Band, laughs himself blue in the face doping out "highbrow poetry" for the broadcast. When KDKA folk hear his "hyena laugh" they know he's had another inspiration.

Crooks and Tibbett Sing "Crucifixion."
Stainer's famous cantata, "The Crucifixion," will be presented with Lawrence Tibbett, baritone, and Richard Crooks, tenor, as soloists. Mark Andrews, famous organist, and the Trinity Choir, an organization of leading church singers, will assist.
The complete list of numbers in "The Crucifixion," which Stainer describes as "a meditation on the sacred passion of the Holy Redeemer," follows:
Recitative: "And they came to a place called Gethsemane."
The Agony: "Could ye not watch with me one brief hour?"
Processional to Calvary: "Fling Wide the Gates."
Recitative: "And when they were come to the place called Calvary."
Hymn: "The Mystery of the Divine Humiliation."
Recitative: "He made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men."
Solo: The Majesty of the Divine Humiliation.
Recitative: "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up."
Chorus: "God so loved the world, that He gave His only-begotten Son, that whoso believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."
Hymn: Litany of the Passion.
Recitative: "Jesus said: Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."
Solo: "So Thou liftest Thy divine petition."
Hymn: The Mystery of Intercession.
Recitative: "And one of the malefactors which were hanged, railed on him."
Hymn: The Adoration of the Crucified.
Recitative: "When Jesus thereafter saw His Mother."
Recitative: "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?"
Solo: The Appeal of the Crucified.
Recitative: "After this, Jesus knowing all things were now accomplished, saith: I thirst."
Hymn: For the Love of Jesus.

COURT PONDERS POLICE APPEAL

FRANKLIN, Pa., April 17.—Judge William M. Parker will rule in three weeks on the appeal of Harold Watts and J. Walter Lyster, coal and iron police, for a new trial on a charge of manslaughter, formally filed in Venango County Court today.

Arguments were completed temporary arrest of judgment granted and the court promised to go over the 16 reasons filed for new trial at an early date. The men were convicted in February.

Watts and Lyster are held in $2,000 bail each, and were not present yesterday.

Warburg Awarded Medal for Service

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP)—Felix M. Warburg, banker, has been awarded the Gottheil medal for 1929 by the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, as the American who has done the most for Jewry and Judaism during the year.

A committee of 16 newspaper editors from the United States and Canada, which made the selection, characterized Mr. Warburg as a "financier, philanthropist, art patron and a citizen whose humanitarianism is without frontiers."

Falls Face Suit In Hotel Collapse

EL PASO, Tex., April 17.—(AP)—Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, and Mrs. Fall, owners of the Topeka Hotel which collapsed here April 1, were named defendants in a $10,000 damage suit filed in District Court by E. Reisen, a sign painter.

NEGRO MYSTIC SLAIN IN SIEGE

KANSAS CITY, April 17.—(AP)—A self-styled Negro mystic was shot to death here yesterday among his voodoo charms after a shot-punctuated two-hour seige by 25 policemen.

Patrolman Morris Cole was injured by a shotgun charge from the Negro's shanty on the banks of the Blue River.

The Negro, Tom Sims, recently discharged by a steel company for preaching voodooism to other Negro employes, was reported by neighbors to have been shooting at ghosts the last few nights. He barricaded himself in his hovel and shot through windows at passers-by.

The first charge penetrated the home of Frank Crawford, endangering Mrs. Crawford and her children. Crawford fled and telephoned police.

Sims was ordered to surrender. "No!" he shouted, leveling his shotgun. Patrolman E. C. Britton dodged, escaping the charge and then fired one shot through the window.

Police reinforcements arrived, deploying behind fences and buildings. Both sides kept up a desultory fire as the officers planned to burn the house by tossing oil soaked rags at it.

Finally an officer hurled a large stone, forcing the door open and bullets tore off the hinges, exposing the interior.

Sims was seen crawling along the floor, apparently blinded by tear gas and wounded, but still carrying his shotgun. Detective R. K. Cole fired the fatal shot from a riot gun.

Single Vote Elects Man Village Clerk

MILTON, Ill., April 17.—(AP)—One vote, unsolicited and unexpected, elected Ollie McCann village clerk yesterday, the vote count revealed. There had been no candidates for the office, but some one wrote his name on a ballot.

EASTER RITE ON HEARST RADIO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—(Universal)—Radio will play an important part in this year's Easter sunrise service to be held at the top of Mt. Davidson next Sunday morning.

For the first time in the history of the eighty-year pilgrimage to the shrine of the Easter morn mountain rites the event is to go out over the air. It will not only be a broadcast of local or sectional interest, but one of nation-wide importance.

Through the coast-to-coast network of the National Broadcasting Company the broadcast of the service to the nation is being made possible. The San Francisco Examiner, as a unit in the Hearst radio service, is assisting the National Broadcasting Company as a gesture of civic pride and in an effort to give the national television picture of San Francisco to the entire country.

Woman Run Down, Injured by Trolley

Mrs. Liddie Lipman, 58, of 3209 Ward street, suffered bruises about the legs when she was struck by a street car at Murray and Morrowfield avenues last night. Mrs. Lipman had alighted from another car and was crossing the street when struck. She was taken to the Montefiore Hospital.

'Lost Ship' Spars Merely Stakes Set in Bay

BALTIMORE, April 17.—(AP)—Two spars protruding a few inches out of the water in the channel of Chesapeake Bay, near Gibson Island, and bearing burlap bales, have given up their secret.

It was believed that they were the masts of a schooner that had sunk after sending out a distress signal. But it was found they were only surveying stakes planted by United States Army engineers engaged in work at that point. Lights were placed on the poles, it was explained, so that no one would run into them and snap them from their frail foundation.

Raided Island Kind To Census Woman

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., April 17.—(AP)—A definite little woman who, as a census enumerator, set out for Big Island, scene of frequent liquor raids, came back today with her book full of names and an assertion that the island people need more Bibles and schools and fewer revenue agents.

Mrs. Clara Rose, who accepted the assignment in the face of reports from Tennessee that men had declined similar jobs on islands in the Mississippi River, said the people of Big Island entertained her royally and that she questioned all but two persons.

JAKEY VICTIMS' OIL CURE HIT

WICHITA, Kan., April 17.—(AP)—Small groups of the hopeful continued sloshing about in petroleum slush ponds here and in nearby oil fields, seeking a cure for "Jake paralysis," the mysterious affliction which cripples feet and legs and which physicians believed is caused by drinking Jamaica ginger.

A sharp decline in the number of persons at refinery and oil well refuse pools was noted here although employes at one refinery, the Golden Rule, said the five or six waders there said they felt better after foot baths in the mire of base oil, mud, sulphur compounds and other chemicals.

One or two were enthusiastic but all left the pond with the same painful shuffle they had brought along.

Refinery officials said they may have to make a small charge soon for the cleaning distillate they have been giving waders to remove slime from their legs.

City Physician R. E. Hobbs declared the treatment was the bunk, and that any relief the waders thought they felt could be only imaginary. Sulphur in the fluid could not penetrate the skin, Dr. Hobbs said, and a slow building up of broken down nerve tissues is the only cure he believes.

A census of needy victims was started with a view to the possible establishment of an emergency hospital here. Dr. Hobbs estimated 75 sufferers were without funds. A score of them are being cared for by the county at the poor farm.

Backfire Hurls Crank Yards, Hits Man

CHARLEROI, Pa., April 17.—Backfire by a car of Benjamin Warner, 29, of Ellsworth, hurled the crank through a window of his garage and struck Mike Stoivich, 33. Stoivich was stunned.

MAN ARRESTED IN BANK FRAUD

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 17.—(AP)—Charged with securing money on raised certificates of bank stock, Raymond W. Renshaw, of Stevensville, Bradford County, was arrested by local police and held for hearing.

Officers of the Peoples National Bank of Edwardsville, charge that Renshaw, a former local bank employe several weeks ago secured a loan of $4,200 on a certificate purporting to be for 45 shares of the Chatham-Phoenix National Bank of New York City. Later it was discovered that the certificate represented but five shares, the figures having been changed to 45. Several other local banks later informed the police they had also received certificates raised from 5 to 45, 55 and 65 shares, as collateral for loans.

Police said Renshaw was allowed to communicate with a man in Western Pennsylvania, who promised to come to Wilkes-Barre and make good with the banks.

PLAN MERGER IN COPPER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—(AP)—Louis B. Cates, vice president of the Utah Copper Company, has confirmed reports that the Phelps Dodge Corporation is negotiating a merger with the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company and the Nichols Copper Company. Cates will become president of the Phelps Dodge Corporation on May 1.

Executives of the companies involved in the pending merger Cates said, are awaiting engineers' evaluations and other reports before taking definite action. Cates will leave here Sunday for Salt Lake City, where he will sever his connections with the Utah company before proceeding to New York.

New Kind of Salts Taking Country By Storm

They Revitalize the System — Induce Youthful Activity—Keep Body in Splendid Condition—Free From Fat.

It doesn't take long for Americans to wake up to a good thing—only a few months ago Kruschen Salts were introduced into this country and the wonderful power of their superior goodness and swift rejuvenating power traveled so fast that at one time the supply was many carloads behind the demand.

All of which goes to prove that Americans know good salts when they take them and want their friends to benefit also.

Kruschen Salts are taken for their health building value all over the world, they are the largest selling medicinal salts in Great Britain today.

Kruschen Salts are different from other salts—Kruschen is six salts in one—the very same six salts that nature put into the human body at the beginning of creation and demands you keep them there or your health won't be as good as it should be.

Unlike most salts Kruschen isn't simply a laxative—if that's all you want a kind of a salts will do—but is that all you want?

When you take Kruschen Salts you not only eliminate your bowels, liver and kidneys to function naturally and perfectly but you supply every internal organ, gland, nerve and fibre in the body with nature's own revitalizing and rejuvenating minerals.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but $1.25 at all Kaufmann & Baer's Drug Stores or any drug store in America. Take half a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning, before breakfast—in just a few days indolence changes to activity and life grows brighter.

Before the bottle is empty you will feel years younger—eyes will brighten—step grow sprightlier—nerves steadier—you'll sleep sound, enjoy your meals and after a hard day's work you'll be ready for wholesome recreation—one million Americans know all this—ask your druggist.

MAN MOURNED 27 YEARS, DIES

BALTIMORE, April 17.—(AP)—Authorities of the Springfield state hospital at Sykesville last night completed identification of Capt. Bailey Van Wagenen, an 82-year-old patient who died Wednesday and who was believed by his family to have perished at sea 27 years ago.

Identification, according to the hospital officials, was made through a son, Walter L. Van Wagenen, of Norfolk, who had been told by his mother his father had gone down with the schooner Maria Ashby off the coast of North Carolina in 1903.

Capt. Van Wagenen, a veteran of the Confederate Navy, was sent to the hospital in 1917 by Baltimore authorities.

TUNE IN—THE RCA HOUR, EVERY THURSDAY NIGHT, OVER A COAST-TO-COAST NETWORK OF THE N. B. C.

KENTUCKY MINE STRIKE ON

CENTRAL CITY, Ky., April 17.—(AP.)—The assertion that 4,000 miners in four western Kentucky counties are now on strike, though a strike voted in December for the entire field has never been approved by the national officers, was made by W. D. Duncan, acting president of district 23, of the United Mine Workers of America.

He said the December strike vote resulted in 9,000 votes for a strike for recognition of the union and payment of the 1917 wage scale, and only 200 votes against it.

Duncan defended the local strikes.

"The miners believe they can do just as well striking as working," he said.

Western Kentucky operators have closed a number of mines contending they can make nothing under present conditions and have pending a complaint before the Interstate Commerce Commission attacking the freight differential given Illinois mines in the Chicago and Northwestern markets.

Duncan said the union is "ready and willing to make a contract with the operators on a basis that will permit them to market their coal and run their mines."

The western Kentucky field had been non-union for several years until a reorganization campaign last summer and fall. About 16,000 are registered in the eight major coal counties.

SEEK LUNATIC AS SLAYER

CHICAGO, April 17.—(AP.)—An escaped lunatic, with a penchant for automobiles, was being sought today as the man who accompanied Edward L. Wolf, automobile salesman, on a fatal automobile ride Friday night.

Wolf was found shot to death in the west part of the city and the car, which he had been driving, wrecked against a tree two blocks away.

Howard Kennedy Webber, 27, who escaped from the Asylum for Insane at Kankakee, is the man now sought as the slayer. His photographs were identified by employes of the automobile sales agency with which Wolf was connected, as those of the man who left the agency with Wolf.

Webber was fascinated by automobiles, the police were told by Mrs. James Riley, a cousin, and by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Peter Riley. He had been visiting at the homes of both these relatives since his escape from the asylum, but disappeared April 10, the day before the murder, and has not been seen since. Webber was sent to the asylum after he had been involved in an automobile accident nearly a year ago. He escaped a short time later.

GIRL'S SLAYER GIVEN LIFE

SALEM, Va., April 17.—(AP.)—A verdict of life imprisonment was returned by the jury yesterday in the case of Buren Harman, charged with the murder of his 18-year-old sweetheart, Freeda Bolt. Counsel for both sides had agreed to such a verdict, and the court instructed the jury to make their findings in accordance.

The verdict carried out a recommendation submitted by two alienists after they had examined the prisoner for five hours. The alienists had been summoned by the prosecution after Dr. L. S. Pedigo, of Roanoke, had testified for the defense that the accused youth had the mind of a 12-year-old child and was suffering from an epileptic form of insanity.

Holy Land Revivals Arranged by Aimee

JERUSALEM, April 17.—(INS.)—Mrs. Aimee Semple MacPherson, American evangelist, was making arrangements here today to conduct a series of Gospel meetings. Mrs. MacPherson and her party were greeted by a number of officials and friends upon arrival.

She plans to study all the places of interest in the Holy Land, not only because of personal interest, but to gather material for an opera she is writing, based on the Old Testament.

Wrap-Around Dress for the Home

Pattern 1886

Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

Practical, as well as becoming, is this attractive house dress that is held in place by a sash forming a bow in back. The short kimona sleeves are mighty comfy, and the small turned back, front collar is indeed flattering. A pocket on the right side, or one on each side if you wish, is large enough to be useful.

Design 1886 will wear and launder well if made of gingham, percale, cotton broadcloth, dimity, pique or rayon. Dots and floral prints vie for popularity this season. White or pastel grounds are lovely.

This pattern may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 39-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

Our PATTERN BOOK of NEW SPRING and SUMMER STYLES is FIFTEEN CENTS, but only TEN CENTS when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Sun-Telegraph Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

1.—Enclose 15 cents in coins.
2.—Write clearly NUMBERS of patterns and SIZE wanted.
3.—Write or print your NAME and ADDRESS plainly.
4.—If you want SUN-TELEGRAPH Style Book send 10c extra.
5.—Address your request to

CLAIMS GRAIN MEMBERSHIPS

CHICAGO, April 17.—(AP.)—Grain Exchange memberships held by William G. Kellogg, resigned general manager of the Farmers National Grain Corporation, revert to the corporation, C. E. Huff, president, said.

The memberships, according to Huff, were purchased by the corporation in blank and Kellogg's name was placed upon them to fulfill requirements of the various boards of trade.

Officials of both the Farmers National Grain Corporation and the Grain Stabilization Corporation refused to discuss rumors in grain circles to the effect that Kellogg received nearly $50,000 to relinquish a three-year contract calling for $36,000 a year.

"Like Mark Twain's death," Huff said, "the report is greatly exaggerated."

Huff also denied the report that Kellogg's separation from the corporation presaged any radical changes in policy.

ACCUSE BANKER OF KILLING

WEWOKA, Okla., April 17.—(AP.)—Paul Cole, former banker and member of the Seminole County Election Board, late yesterday was charged with murder in connection with the death of Ernest Irby.

Irby's body was found several days ago in a lake near here, weighted down with a length of iron pipe to which rocks had been fastened with wire. Further examination revealed two bullet holes, one in the head and one just above the heart. At the time of his death, Irby was under indictment for violation of federal liquor laws and was at liberty on bond.

Cole and Irby were friends.

PROMOTER HELD IN MINE FAKE

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—(AP.)—Melville S. Lewis, described by police as a "million dollar promoter," was held in $5,000 bail here on two new warrants charging fraud.

Last week Lewis, who is 57, was held in $20,000 bail on charges of having fraudulently obtained more than $40,000 from companies interested in the development of mining properties in the West.

The charges were preferred by Miss Caroline J. Gould, secretary of the National Tin Company, New York, and Milton R. Wise, owner of an iron mine near Lewistown, Mont. Miss Gould said Lewis had obtained $8,000 from her company "on the pretense" he would float a bond issue of several million dollars to develop a mine in Pennington County, Ida. Wise testified that he had given the defendant $15,000 on the promise that Lewis would finance a $5,500,000 bond issue to develop his mine.

Lewis was said to have recently been convicted in Washington, D. C., on similar charges and to be under $20,000 bail in that city pending an appeal.

AMBRIDGE WINS DEBATE FINAL

CALIFORNIA, Pa., April 17.—(AP)—Ambridge High School, representing Beaver County, won the debating tournament of the Western Pennsylvania district of the National tournament here last night, defeating Allegheny county. The winners will participate in the tourney at Philadelphia.

The contests were staged at the California State Teachers' college here. In the opening debates Beaver won over Westmoreland, represented by East Huntingdon Township High school. Allegheny won from Greene county.

In the semi-finals Beaver defeated Somerset and Allegheny drew a bye.

UPHOLDS ARMY CHAPLAINS

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP.)—The exchange of letters between prominent ministers of Washington and Baltimore on the issue of military chaplaincies continued with the issuance by Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational Church here, of a flat refusal to lead in a move to withdraw chaplains from the Army.

In an open letter addressed to Dr. Peter Ainslie, pastor of the Christian Temple, Baltimore, Dr. Pierce asserted that as long as the armed forces of the United States exist, the churches of the country "owe an inescapable duty to their personnel."

The public discussion was precipitated last Monday when Dr. Ainslie, preaching in Dr. Pierce's church here, expressed the belief that there was as much justification for having chaplains in speakeasies as in the Army and Navy. Dr. Pierce wrote him an open letter accusing the Baltimore minister of insulting the government, the church and the chaplains.

Dr. Ainslie replied without withdrawing his statements but asserting that he condemned the churches "furnishing chaplains for an institution which that government has outlawed." He urged Dr. Pierce, a wartime chaplain, to lead a movement of withdrawal.

Foot Crushed, Man Crawls to Call Aid

Swanson Offers Hoover Motto For Camp

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP.)—As one fisherman to another, Senator Swanson (Dem.), Virginia, suggested to President Hoover an inscription for the doorway of the Hoover fishing camp on the Rapidan River. It read:

"Lord suffer me to catch so large a fish that even I in talking of it afterwards shall have no need to lie."

THORNE GIVEN $2,000,000

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP.)—Gordon C. Thorne, son of the late vice president of Montgomery Ward and Company, who is paying alimony now to three ex-wives, has received $2,000,000 in a trust fund by the will of his mother, Mrs. Catherine Comstock Thorne, who died April 4.

Thorne was already the beneficiary of a $1,500,000 fund created by his mother several years ago. The will also leaves him her $100,000 personal estate.

Thorne's father, William C. Thorne, died in 1917. Later Mrs. Thorne married William C. Camp and in 1922 began a long litigation to obtain from him control of her estate and of a $350,000 trust fund set up for him. She got it and also a divorce.

Thorne, now married to his fourth wife, is awaiting Supreme Court action on a contempt of court sentence for failure to meet an alimony order of $750 a month to his first wife, Mrs. Virginia Milner Thorne, of New York. He settled out of court a citation for the same reason obtained last winter by his third wife, Mrs. Anna Thorne Hutchins.

CHARLEROI, Pa., April 17.—Ceremonies will mark the laying of the cornerstone for the new Methodist Episcopal Church in Monessen on Easter Sunday. The Rev. L. D. Spaghy, of McKeesport, will be the principal speaker. The church will cost $125,000.

HOBOKEN PIERS SALE O. K.'D

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP.)—The House agreed to the Senate plan for placing on the auction block the six Hoboken piers from which nearly half a million doughboys sailed for France during the World War, but the addition of a technical amendment necessitated sending the bill to conference.

The stipulation that the sale be made only to American citizens or corporations controlled by Americans, a customary one in authorizations for sale of government property, was added by the House. The Senate was expected to agree to this clause before the end of the week, the bill then going to President Hoover for signature.

Twelve years ago this month by proclamation of President Wilson, the government took over the Hoboken piers from the North German Lloyd and Hamburg-America lines, and long lines of troops bound overseas marched from the Jersey heights through the night to transports at the Hoboken docks.

20 MILLION OIL DEAL MADE

BRADFORD, Pa., April 17 (AP.)—An oil deal, said to involve $20,000,000, was completed here when the Niagara Oil Corporation purchased 14,000 acres of producing territory in five states. The land was bought from Thomas H. Kennedy, S. P. Kennedy, Homer G. Barcroft and E. H. Kennedy. The property obtained from the three latter men formerly was owned by the William C. Kennedy Company.

The territory—in Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois—has 1,000 wells producing more than 1,000 barrels of oil per day.

The Niagara Oil Corporation is an independent concern. Forest D. Dorn, Bradford, is president.

Fascinating Story of Physician, Spanish War Veteran, Who Discovered HERBAL FLAXOLYN'S Great Benefits After Years of Search for Health Help

Dr. B. B. Smith (M. D.), who says: "You are at liberty to use my endorsement as you may see proper, in the furtherance of Flaxolyn. I am a retired physician of thirty years' practice. Never in all these years have I found anything as good as Flaxolyn for the relief of gas in the bowels and colon, and for the general aid of health."

Was Suffering So Intensely and So Desperately, He Decided to Try Flaxolyn Himself—Got Such Wonderful Relief, Dr. Smith Happy to Give Public Endorsement

Of all the messages that have been received by Dr. Harris H. Luntz, the discoverer of Flaxolyn, there is none quite as important nor as touching as the following most interesting letter from Dr. B. B. Smith, physician of Clinton, N. C.

"I have just about finished using, personally, the first thirty days' treatment of Flaxolyn," reads Dr. Smith's letter. "I began its use as an experiment for the relief of gas in the bowels and colon, which had distressed me greatly for nearly a year.

Served in Philippines

"As a member of the Medical Corps of the 29th U. S. Vol. Infantry during the Spanish-American War in the Philippines, where I was all through southern Luzon, I contracted malarial fever.

"I was never well enough for active duty again, and had to resign and come home. As is well known, there is no disease known to the American people that so demoralizes the system as does tropical malaria.

Causes Aches in Head, Back and Joints

"It especially blocks the action of the liver and kidneys, resulting in many troubles, aches and pains, rheumatism, constipation, loss of appetite, vertigo, headaches, etc.

"I had tried every known remedy, I think, and resorted to all sorts of means, including massages, etc., etc., without relief. I searched for years for something that would give satisfactory and lasting relief to these complications, and I am happy to say that I have found it in vitaminized Flaxolyn.

Recommends Flaxolyn for Constipation, Liver Torpor, Poor Appetite

"I am greatly improved by the use of Flaxolyn, and I gladly recommend it to everyone as a reliable and dependable aid for conditions of constipation, liver torpor, loss of appetite, headaches and all troubles due to faulty elimination of body waste and poisons."

North, East, South, West Combine to Call Flaxolyn "Greatest Tonic-Laxative and Aid to Health"

Above you have, from the pen of a Southern physician, one of the finest testimonials ever written on behalf of any health formula.

Flaxolyn has repeatedly proven itself worthy of the highest endorsement of members of the profession.

From the West comes the endorsement of Dr. George Starr-White of Los Angeles (M. D., LL. D., F. R. S. A., London), who has repeatedly praised Flaxolyn in many of his health books.

From the East comes the statement of Dr. T. A. Wallace of New York, who says: "Through the use of Flaxolyn sound sleep and soothed nerves are quickly attained by the counteraction of toxic poisons. The action of Flaxolyn is so much better than anything I have ever prescribed that I use it now in every case where the stomach-tone is low and the liver needs mild stimulation."

From the North comes the message of Dr. Victor P. Fleming (M. D., M. B.), graduate of the University of Toronto. Dr. Fleming says, "I have always refused to consider prescribing or endorsing any product which could not measure up to my exhaustive tests as being worthy of my whole-hearted approval. Flaxolyn has come through these clinical tests with flying colors."

From Europe comes the endorsements of such men as Professor Dr. Remy Hirsch, one of the greatest blood, nerve and skin specialists in all of Germany, who says of Flaxolyn: "Care before repair, is a rule I always lay down for my patients. I believe that fully ninety per cent. of the serious ills arising from improper functioning of liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels would not exist if more persons knew of a safe, pleasant, powerful remedy. To these sufferers I am glad to advise: 'Take Flaxolyn.'"

TEAR OUT THIS VALUABLE COUPON

Flaxolyn must bring a satisfactory improvement in both health and appearance by the sixth pleasant spoonful, or return the partly used bottle to the drug store and get your money back.

Don't delay taking Flaxolyn. This pleasant-tasting health product cannot hurt you and it may do you a tremendous amount of good. There are any number of folks right here who tell how the new Flaxolyn has put new pep in their step, new keenness in their appetite, new brightness in their faces, and new zest in their lives. CLAIMS WOMAN HOLDS MATE

MEDIA, Pa., April 17.—(AP.)—Mrs. Aaron Unger, wife of a New York candy manufacturer, in an application for a writ of habeas corpus filed in Common Pleas Court here, alleged that her husband has been held prisoner for four weeks in a Lansdowne apartment by Miss Amelia Phillips, 30, and asked the court to compel the woman to release him.

Mrs. Unger, who was joined in the application by her brother-in-law, Elias Unger, charged Miss Phillips with obtaining a power of attorney from Aaron Unger "by duress and coercion." They asked that a temporary receiver be appointed. The habeas corpus application will be heard today.

Lansdowne police said they had been informed that Unger, who is 48 years old, was an invalid and that Miss Phillips was a nurse employed to care for him. Robert W. Beatty, counsel for Mrs. Unger, declared, however, that Miss Phillips was "neither a nurse, a relative, nor Unger's secretary."

Police said that for several weeks after Unger left New York, his whereabouts was a mystery. They said he had been located at Miss Phillips' apartment after her address had been obtained from correspondence she was alleged to have had with the candy firm.

TO CURB AGENTS FOR MAGAZINES

Public Safety Director James M. Clark announced today that he intended to make Pittsburgh unsafe for traveling magazine solicitors.

Clark said he would instruct his police to arrest all solicitors who are not residents of the city and do not have a city permit.

The great majority of the solicitors who have operated in the city have not bothered to take out licenses, Clark said. He asked persons solicited to notify the police.

Clark's order is expected to prove troublesome for the hundreds of solicitors who explain they are working their way through college.

Draws Three Years In Cutting Charge

Enoch Yankevich, 22, of Cuddy, Pa., today began serving three to six years in the penitentiary, following his pleading guilty before Judge Harry H. Rowand to three charges of felonious cutting. He admitted that on February 16 he went to Treveskyn to the home of John A. Bowen, where his estranged wife, Esther, was staying. In an argument with her and Mr. and Mrs. Bowen he cut all three with a knife.

Fears License Loss Skipper Shoots Self

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—(INS.)—The fear of loss of his master mariner's license due to an accident on the high seas was given today as the motive for the suicide of Capt. James H. Beveridge, of the British freighter Pacific, here yesterday while his ship was ashore off the Camden wharf. The skippr shot himself through the head.

Residents Seize Rum Cargo of Smashed Car

Steubenville, O., April 17.—(AP.)—It's to be a wet Easter at Amsterdam, O.

Sheriff Yost says while he and deputies lay in wait for a rum runner from Cleveland, the whiskey car was wrecked at Amsterdam. The driver took flight and residents of the town took the liquor, the sheriff claims, beating him to the prize by two minutes.

Search for the missing cargo has been unsuccessful.

BRIDE AVERTS TRAFFIC CRASH

Mrs. Russell Piper, 20, stenographer and bride, of 429 Tenth avenue, Munhall, was being acclaimed by Homestead police today for averting a probable traffic accident.

She was on her way home last night, during the rush hour, when she saw a run-away automobile speeding down McClure street toward Eighth avenue, the main thoroughfare.

Dropping her umbrella and market basket, the young woman leaped to the running board of the machine, opened the door and applied the brakes in time to stop the car at Ninth avenue. She was dragged a short distance in boarding the car and suffered a bruised ankle.

The car belonged to Mrs. Frank Noroski, 1001 McClure street, and is believed to have started down the McClure street grade when the brakes became loosed.

MINE WORK SAPS HEALTH

Need Specially Good Digestion and Resistance,

Men who work hard hundreds of feet under the ground need to care for their health more than people who are outdoors. Most mines are damp or dusty and exposure to this condition leads to rheumatic troubles, catarrhal ailments and the like. Then the air is poor. It is often filled with gases and dust, which set up an irritation in the nose and throat that soon becomes chronic.

Small wonder that all through the mining districts men suffer from rheumatism, weak stomach and backache. They are the risks of their work—risks that are easily guarded against, it is true, but that many people do not know how to avoid.

Nearly all their physical troubles are due to the failure of their kidneys to filter out the poisons in the blood. Sometimes this is because these poisons are being manufactured too fast for the kidneys to keep up, and sometimes the kidneys themselves are sluggish. In the first place there is no benefit in whipping overworked kidneys. The causes of the poison in the blood must be removed to give the kidneys a chance to keep up.

Nine times out of ten constipation is present, and in most of these cases the constipation is due to a catarrhal inflammation. Not all cases of catarrh are in the nose and throat. Wherever this condition exists, it is likely to overwork the kidneys. World's Tonic is intended to help overcome such conditions. It has a long record of success in helping dispel catarrh, overcoming constipation and restoring kidneys to normal, as shown by the grateful statements of people who have been relieved. It may be that it is just what you need to restore the balance in your system and bring back to you the strength and health you want. A trial will prove it to you. World's Tonic can be obtained of Dow's, May's & Liggett's, Mayflower or at any other first class drug store. (A-15)

Do you know a bargain when you see one?

ARE you able to spot a real bargain? Are you what the ladies would call "a good shopper"? In that case, you'll realize that every ORANGE AMERICAN GAS Pump offers a genuine bargain! For this gas was originally manufactured to sell at a premium -- and did in many places.

But today, owing to greatly increased production and steadily growing sales, ORANGE AMERICAN GAS is sold at regular gasoline price everywhere -- despite its all-round superiority. Getting a gasoline of such uniformity, such power, such flexibility, with so high an anti-knock rating is just about the greatest bargain ever in the opinion of thousands of experienced motorists!

2 HELD IN BANK DEATH PLOT

FT. WORTH, Tex., April 17.—(AP.)—John Alsup, a former policeman, and A. P. Boyt, a barber, were charged here with murder in connection with the slaying of two Negroes in the attempted robbery of the First State Bank of Polytechnic, a suburb, recently. Police Chief Henry Lee, who signed the complaint, charged that there was a "frame up" for the Negroes to be slain so the $5,000 standing reward by the Texas Bankers' Association for each "dead bank bandit" could be collected.

The pair was charged with the slaying of Will Tate and George Terrell. Alsup, Chief Lee charged, shot the Negroes as they fled from the bank. Boyt did not participate in the shooting.

An investigation by city and county officials of the attempted bank robbery and slaying of the two Negroes, one of whom was unarmed, has been under way since a few hours after the killings. Alsup denied there had been a frame-up for the Negroes to be slain so the $5,000 reward might be collected.

Several Negroes told officers they believed the robbery had been arranged.

Officials of the bankers' association announced after the shooting, however, that the bank had never contributed to the reward fund and for that reason no reward could be paid by the association.

MORE BRITONS GO TO CANADA

LONDON, April 17.—(AP.)—The House of Commons was told that emigration to Canada has increased more than 25 per cent during the past four years, although emigration to the Dominions generally has shown a considerable falling off since 1926.

W. R. Smith, parliamentary secretary of the Board of Trade, in reply to questions said emigration to Canada had increased year by year, namely from 49,632 in 1926, to 65,558 in 1929, while Board of Trade figures showed the aggregate emigration to Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa had decreased from about 119,000 in 1926 to about 94,000 in 1929.

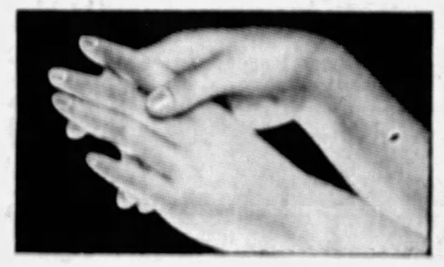
NEW THINGS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

"My China Sparkles Like Jewels"

"my hands look like strangers to the dishpan"



A Simpler Way to Wash Dishes

SPARKLING glass and gleaming china are as much a mark of social knowledge as good manners.

To have them—impeccable and flawless—and, at the same time for the housewife to have caressing, white hands is a problem that has now been solved an interesting, new way.

Use any kind of soap, soap powder or soap flakes, in washing dishes. But add a teaspoon of CLIMALENE to the water.

This enables you to use ONE-FOURTH the usual quantity of soap. For it softens the water instantly so that far less soap is needed.

Being a GREASE SOLVENT in itself, it DISSOLVES grease instantly; and eliminates ALL FILM or scum from glassware. Makes it sparkle like rare jewels.

Containing superlative SKIN WHITENING and SKIN SOFTENING ingredients—used by scores of beauty specialists—it leaves the hands soft and lovely beyond words.

Women are flocking to it. It costs only a dime at grocers. Try it. Just ask for Climalene.

KANSAS KILLER GETS DEATH

TOPEKA, Kan., April 17.—(AP.)—Carl Panzran, 38, Leavenworth federal penintentiary prisoner, yesterday was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of R. G. Warnke, civilian laundry foreman of the prison.

The execution was set for September 5 by Judge Richard J. Hopkins, in the United States District Court.

It was the first death sentence pronounced in Kansas in approximately 14 years.

The trial was interrupted while a sanity commission asked by defense counsel heard the slayer boast of 23 murders. The commission reported it believed the defendant was of unsound mind.

Government witnesses, chiefly fellow convicts testified Panzran, in a fit of rage, killed Warnke with an iron bar.

In a published letter to Judge Hopkins, Panzran demanded "justice" which he described as "that I be found guilty of murder in the first degree and sentenced to die."

A search of Kansas records shows that Panzran, if executed, will be the first man legally to be hanged in Kansas since 1870.

NEW TOWBOAT IN SERVICE

CHARLEROI, Pa., April 17.—Bells and sirens saluted the new towboat Leona, of the port of Charleroi, as she was cut loose from her construction wharf here late yesterday and steamed up the Monongahela River to California in the first test trip.

Hailed as one of the finest boats built on the upper Monongahela River in a decade, the Leona cruised the river with memberes of the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce as guests of the pilot and builder, Capt. Richard Hiernaux of North Charleroi. Capt. B. F. Crawford, assistant transportation manager of the Carnegie Steel Company and Capt. Philip Elsey, of the Elsey Transportation Company, were guest pilots.

The new craft has been fitted for Mississippi and Missouri river service. The Leona, named for Leona Hiernaux, daughter of the owner, is to go into service today when she takes a steel tow south.

GIRL UNAFRAID by Gladys Johnson

MELLON NAMES CHURCH ARCHITECT

SIDE WALKS of PITTSBURGH

by WILLIAM PFARR

CAPT. BILLY BRYANT and his troupe are moving southward once more on the good ship Bryant, which is such a show boat as Miss Ferber described in her novel "Show Boat," and much more realistic than the boat of Mr. Ziegfeld's stage production.

Capt. Billy and his troupe have spent the winter living on the boat at Elizabeth. Now they move slowly and successfully down the river, stopping at mining towns, settlements — any place which has a population of a few hundred. This year Capt. Billy will go as far south as New Orleans.

The Bryant troupe is mostly a family affair. Its stars are Capt. Billy himself, his wife, his 9-year-old daughter, his mother and father. If you have a good memory, you can recall the Four Bryants of vaudeville, three of whom were the elder Bryants and Billy. The Four Bryants and the Four Cohans were of the same period.

The Bryant boat is so constructed that with his left hand, Billy can sell tickets and with his right hand collect those same tickets. Before the show, young Miss Brant will be found selling autographed photographs of herself, along with boxes of candy, and at intermission she can abandon this activity to do her imitation of Mr. George M. Cohan in a clog dance. Somebody recently asked Miss Bryant whether she expected to be starring on Broadway in 20 years and she answered, "Oh, no! I'll be acting on the river."

* * *

Capt. Billy himself is a naive, likeable soul who puts everything he owns into every performance. This year he has elected to play another Cohan piece—"At the End of the Road," for George M. Cohan is the Bryant idol.

A few years ago Capt. Billy went to New York and asked Cohan to name his price for the river rights to the Cohan plays.

"Kid," said Cohan, who remembered the days of the Four Bryants and the Four Cohans, "take 'em all, but they won't cost you a dime."

Billy says he just couldn't help weeping then, for he had tried hard and long through Cohan's lawyers and managers to get those rights. "There's a fella you oughta write up," Billy says of Cohan. "By golly, he's a great man."

* * *

ONE of Capt. Billy's ambitions has been to play the city—Pittsburgh. This year he had everything arranged to anchor his boat at the Smithfield street wharf but at the last minute it developed that the curtain on the small Bryant stage was not asbestos, as the law requires. Well, the day may come when Billy may install an asbestos curtain.

Billy himself is a pretty good advertising man. Two years ago, when he did a musical on the boat (musicals are rare on the river) he hired a pretty but inexperienced blonde to play the lead and promptly billed her as the "Mary Pickford of the River!!"

However, her stay was short-lived, for she eloped with the boat's mechanic, the same mechanic who did those acrobatic numbers at intermission.

Will Rogers Says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 17.

JUST reading these late census reports and it shows that the small town is passing. We not only ought to regret it, we ought to do something to remedy it. It was the incubator that hatched all our big men, and that's why we haven't got as many big men today as we used to have. Start to have a presidential election nowadays and have to postpone it. Neither side has anybody big enough to run.

Take every small-town-raised big man out of business and you would have nobody left running it but vice presidents. You can kid about the old rubes that sat around the cracker barrel, spit in the stove, and fixed the nation, but they were all doing their own thinking. They didn't have their minds made up by some propagandist speaker at the "get nowhere" luncheon club.

Yours for more small town rubes, WILL.

Gleason Persuades Ardeth To Motor With Him

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Ardeth Carroll is being wooed by Neil Burke, who rooms with her Aunt Stella. Almost every night when she returns home from work she finds him waiting in the hall for her, and he often causes her to be late for dinner. Aunt Stella gets angered and scolds Ardeth for holding back the meals. Ardeth feels depressed. Ardeth goes for a machine ride with Neil. Passing through a park Ardeth gazes at Kent Gleason, a college football player, whom she knows to see. Neil shows signs of jealousy. Later, when Neil kisses her, Ardeth realizes that she does not love him. Jeanette Parker, society girl, calls at the store to see Ardeth. Jeanette is revengeful against her own sister, Cecile, who is taking the spotlight of prominence from her. As an excuse to shun social events, Jeanette plans to open a specialty shop. Ardeth goes to work for her. Neil begs Ardeth to marry him, but she refuses. Gleason visits the shop and is introduced to Ardeth by Jeanette.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VIII.

HAD Jeanette been less absorbed in her own affairs the next day, she might have noticed that her faithful Joan Friday looked a trifle forlorn. There was a wistful droop to Ardeth's young mouth. A very distinct dimming of the flame like quality about her.

But Jeanette was happily absorbed with a perfumery salesman all morning; expanding to glowing importance under his subtle flattery.

"He said my shop was smarter than any thing he had seen west of New York, Ardeth," she confided when the wily salesman had left. "Said it reminded him of those exclusive little Parisian places. I ordered Mimosa and Narcisse Bleu—that's always good. And for the more exclusive sale we'll have Across the Fields, Intrigue and Idle Dream."

Ardeth's sensitive imagination caught at that. I'le dream! Her gaze went across the store to meet her own golden gaze in the mirror and a scornful little smile touched her lips.

In the middle of the afternoon Jeanette hurried into her hat and furs.

"I'm off to Mary Eastwood's tea," she explained. "Ardeth, I don't see why we can't mix different perfumes together and sell them as individual scents. That's an idea! I'll run a small ad in the Sunday papers. 'Have your personality expressed in your elusive fragrance.' I don't believe most people can tell one scent from another half the time!"

She went away with knit brows, contemplating the matter with the intense gravity of one who packs a world burden.

Gleason Visits

Volunteers to Drive Ardeth Home

At 6, as Ardeth was closing the store, Ken Gleason walked in.

"I came to drive Miss Parker home—" he explained easily.

Nothing in the girl's composed manner to betray the thumping at her heart when she saw his tall figure.

"But she isn't here. A tea—"

The face of the young fellow dropped and his tone was as regretful as though he had not heard Jeanette planning to do this very thing last night.

"Always the way, when I try to be a good boy scout and do my good deed for the day!" he said plaintively, with a side glance to see if she would smile. "Well—see here, Miss Carroll—" as though the idea just presented itself, "don't you think you should sub for Jennie? Ah—don't let my noble impulse count for nothing!"

Girl-like her thoughts had flown to her clothes. This black georgette she had made to wear down here—that was all right. But her old blue coat with the matted fur collar—the fabric gloves. Have Ken see her at such disadvantages?

Machine Ride

Persuades Her to Go With Him

"Oh, no—don't bother.... I catch my street car just a block below."

Then all of her convincing arguments were hollow. She was seated beside Ken in his blue car while he steered it through the six o'clock traffic.

A melting Spring night. The last sunshine had just left the tops of tall buildings. The sky was a quiet, depthless green with little rosy ripples of cloud running through it like the pattern in moire silk. There was a salt tingle in the air which brought a picture of the ocean running high and green.

Perhaps it brought that message to the man, for he turned the car with an inquiring little glance at the girl beside him.

"A little ride out to the beach?" Then, as she opened her lips to protest, "Please—I'll still get you home as quickly as you could ride on a street car."

"Not long then—"

She settled back against the cushions filled with a breathless sense of happiness. Glorious, to be sitting here beside Ken Gleason—driving into the sunset. Just those two—closed away from the world like this in the cozy intimacy of the car.

They talked and laughed—though what they said, why they laughed, she could not afterwards have told. Beneath her thoughts ran a tingling consciousness of his nearness. She stole little side glances at his intent profile as they rounded corners. That nice straight nose of his; she had an impish impulse to run her finger down it. Delicious laughter bubbled within her at the thought.

'Moth'

Ken Gives Ardeth a New Name

Her own nose sniffed eagerly at the tweedy smell of his overcoat—at the smoke of his cigaret. Something thrilled in the capable way his thin brown hands grasped the wheel.

And stealing another glance up at him she was confused to meet his eyes.

"Know what I was thinking?" he asked earnestly. "I was thinking that your eyebrows are the same dark gold as a moth's wing. Sort of tan gold, you know. Yes—" he nodded his head with mock solemnity. "I shall take that for my name for you. How does that suit you—Moth?"

They had laughed through sheer lightheartedness. Only when the man reluctantly turned the car about, did a cloud come on their high spirits.

Fell street—the gaunt old-fashioned houses looking more forbidding than ever in a grey twilight. Lights of the Harrison flat gleamed through cracked blinds.

Ken stopped the car before the shadowy entrance. His hand took her own gloved one and held it in goodby.

His lips smiled but the blue eyes were somewhow wistful.

"Does it have to be good night, so soon, Moth?"

WITNESS TAKEN TO SCENE OF SLAYING

Alleged Partner of Fazio Said to Have Further Involved Barrel Suspect

Jakale Blazkovac, 37, alias Schultz, alleged partner of Philip Fazio in a beer racket, today was taken by detectives to the brewery in Lorigan street where William J. Gregory, barrel-murder victim, is believed to have been slain.

Blazkovac was also confronted with the barrel in which Gregory's headless body was found, and was taken to the spot in Penn Township where the murder was discovered.

Arrested in his home in Brookline boulevard late yesterday, Blazkovac, according to detectives, has given evidence further implicating Fazio, who has been held since a few days after the murder.

Another suspect arrested yesterday was Emil O. Wenning, 34, of Wilkins Township, who was committed to jail when he was unable to explain, detectives say, how he spent March 31, the day Gregory is believed to have been slain.

Wenning is said to have admitted hauling beer from the Lorigan street brewery.

Chemical analyses of stains found on bricks, gloves and the wrench, were to be reported on today by County Chemist F. C. Buckmaster.

RETAIL TRADE ON UP GRADE

Mercantile trade in all retail stores is on the up grade throughout the state, James H. Hays, president of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Pennsylvania, said yesterday, in addressing the Western Pennsylvania group in the William Penn Hotel. He spoke on "Selling Service" and said he has always been a firm believer in the use of advertising in doing it. Mr. Hays is the manager of the Harrisburg Credit Bureau.

Representatives were present at the gathering from the merchant-owned Credit Bureau, Inc., of Pittsburgh and the Retail Credit Men's Association, with which it is affiliated, as well as delegates from Washington, Uniontown, Franklin, Altoona and many other towns.

EASTER EXODUS BEGINS HERE

A vanguard of 6,000 Pittsburgh residents today began visits to former homes and to points of scenic interest throughout the country, as the three local railroads reported the beginning of a big volume of travel for the Easter holidays.

Three thousand will "go back home" over the Pennsylvania road, officials estimated. On the Baltimore and Ohio, according to passenger agents, many began today taking advantage of excursions to Washington, D. C., Harpers Ferry, Va., Baltimore and other points. Nearly all trains had extra coaches. The climax will be reached Saturday night. Patrons for this service are estimated at 2,000.

The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad reported large numbers of reservations for Albany, New York, Chicago and Niagara Falls. Many students from the three local colleges left for their homes over this road.

Daylight Saving Proclamation Next Week

Mayor Charles H. Kline next week is expected to issue his annual proclamation on daylight saving, which is to go into effect Sunday morning, April 27. On this day the clocks will be advanced one hour. The daylight saving schedule will continue until the last Sunday in September.

The railroads soon will announce their summer schedules. The railroad clocks will not be changed, but many trains will be run an schedules suited to the riders using daylight time. Clocks in the City-County building also will remain on Eastern standard time, but the working schedules will be adjusted so that work starts and ends an hour earlier.

LIBERAL 'PROF' STAYS AT PITT

What seemed like a storm hovering over the Pitt campus was transformed into an April shower yesterday as difficulties between the administrative staff of the University of Pittsburgh and W. Ellison Chalmers, liberal and instructor in economics, were halted.

Chalmers, who, it was rumored, was not to be retained was offered a contract for next year by Dr. J. Steele Gow, dean of administration. Chalmers told a friend that he liked Pitt and was glad to stay.

The dissension, which grew out of the fact that many believed Chalmers was to go because he was a liberal, and not because he was not a good teacher, was set at rest following a meeting of the board of trustees. The instructor was secretary of the local branch of the American Civil Liberties Union.

Dr. Gow appeared at the meeting of the board and recommended that Chalmers be offered another contract, to which the board agreed.

W. G. Nowell, state secretary of the Civil Liberties Union, issued a statement in which he said:

"That our cathedral-building university cannot wholly disregard the ordinary rights of academic freedom is shown by the reinstatement of Mr. Chalmers."

UNLIMITED FUNDS FOR EDIFICE

Boston Gothic Exponent Given Free Hand in Plans For Most Recent Gift

Ralph Cram, of Boston, America's outstanding exponent of Gothic architecture, has been chosen as the architect who, with unlimited funds at his command, will design R. B. Mellon's most recent gift—a new East Liberty Presbyterian Church.

While it had been rumored that the new church, to be "the most beautiful in America," would cost approximately $3,000,000, J. H. Runnette, a spokesman for the trustees of the church, said last night:

"Mr. Mellon will pay what it costs. There has been no limit set."

The first official announcement that the church would be built on the site of the present structure—a beautiful stone building—followed what was called "an adjourned meeting of the congregation." Exactly 305 members of the 1,868 enrolled communicants attended, and accepted the offer. During the weeks previous, trustees and elders of the church had sanctioned the gift. An exclusive announcement of the project as a Mellon gift was published in Tuesday's Sun-Telegraph.

TWO-YEAR PROJECT

Tearing down of the present building will not begin for six months, Runnette said, since Cram has not started on the plans for the new building. The actual construction would require at least a year and a half. He did not know the type or proportions, the detail of equipment or kind of material to be used, he said, but was certain that it will be the most beautiful in America, one that will be equipped with the most modern appliances and conveniences—such as should keep it modern for 100 years.

The action of Mr. Mellon follows the course of three generations of his family, who gave and attended churches on this site. Prior to the development of East Liberty, it had been the Negley farm, and in 1819 Mrs. Barbara Negley, his grandmother, donated the ground and erected a little wooden church—the first East Liberty Presbyterian. Beside it was the farmhouse where Sarah Jane Negley, mother of the Mellons, was born.

JUDGE BUILDS CHURCHES

Judge Thomas Mellon, their father, aided in the building of a second wooden structure in 1848, and in 1864 the first brick one—of two stories. In 1888 the present stone building arose at what is now Penn and Highland avenues.

In 1926, R. B., A. W. and James R. Mellon, brothers, donated an additional plot of ground adjoining the church site and cleared it of buildings.

The resolution offered last night and adopted said in part:

"This congregation, with a due sense of the greater and wider field of Christian service afforded by Mr. Mellon's generosity, accepts, thoughtfully and prayerfully, the full measure of responsibility thereby imposed on it and solemnly pledges itself and the loyalty and devotion of its present and future membership to the full and faithful performance of that service."

DISCUSSING IMMERSION AT SHERADEN

THE REV. W. J. JOHNS

The Rev. Mr. Johns, pastor of the Sheraden Baptist Church, discussing immersion with the Rev. Mr. Briceland, minister of the Community Church. The Rev. Mr. Briceland will be immersed Sunday morning.

THE REV. J. M. BRICELAND

Sheraden Pastor Plans For Own Immersion

Believing that if he is to immerse others, he too should be immersed, the Rev. J. M. Briceland, pastor of the Community Church, Sheraden, a Presbyterian minister, will be baptized in that fashion Sunday morning.

"Our Christian Chuch brethren did not demand I be immersed and left that up to me," said Pastor Briceland, whose union church is composed of members of the Christian, Presbyterian and United Presbyterian churches. The latter denominations baptize by "sprinkling."

"When we formed the union as it now exists, it was with the understanding that we would immerse anyone desiring it. So I had to be consistent. The officers of the Christian Church told me the rules of their church required that ministers who immerse, must themselves be immersed. That's proper doctrine."

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. W. J. Johns, pastor of the Sheraden Baptist Church, who is retiring from the ministry and whose flock is considering joining the Community Church. Seven others will be baptized at the same time.

Mr. Johns has been preaching for 46 years, starting at 17. He does not believe his membership will call another pastor. The Community Church now has 1,000 members. The Baptist has 100.

Mr. Briceland says that the Presbyterians, Christians and United Presbyterians are maintaining their identity in the union church and worshiping God according to their own belief.

This spirit prevails even to apportioning money for missions.

BLONDE BANDIT PLEADS GUILTY, SENTENCED

Two Companions Give Up Fight When Confessions Are Read Before Jurors

Changing her mind about leaving her fate with a jury of 11 women and one man, Mrs. Elsie Sheets, 19, blonde bandit, of 835 Tobin street, withdrew her plea to guilty and threw herself upon the mercy of visiting Judge Ivan J. McKendrick, of Cambria County. Today she is beginning a sentence of nine months to 10 years in Allegheny County jail.

The trial, in which she and two youths were charged with three robberies, an attempted robbery and carrying firearms, had been in progress all day yesterday. Assistant District Attorney Earl R. Adair had built up the case against them, with detailed testimony from police and the robbery victim. Then he read to the jury confessions the trio had made after their arrest. It was at this point all pleaded guilty.

Henry Marty, of 2728 Spring Garden avenue, was sentenced 18 months to 10 years in the penitentiary and James Scullen, of 517 East Lacock street, two to 10 years. James Owens, of Los Angeles, alleged fourth member of the gang, was shot and killed by Policeman John Hooper, and through the girl's visit to him in a hospital, the police arrested her. When questioned at the police station she confessed.

RIVAL GROUPS ARGUE FOR 2 HOURS

Residents Protest Taking Of Road for Building of High School Athletic Field

The proposed vacation of Hays street, between Highland avenue and Beatty street, to make room for an athletic field for Peabody High School, is furnishing Council with its most puzzling problem of the year.

That body, the final court in the situation, must choose between the Board of Education, which insists that the site is the only one available for the purpose, and residents of the district who maintain that the street is a needed traffic thoroughfare.

For two hours yesterday the members were bombarded by arguments and charges by representatives of the two groups. President of Council John S. Herron announced that decision will be reached as soon as possible.

PETITIONS ATTACKED

Petitions asking the vacation of the street, said to contain 25,000 signatures, were attacked by Attorney Charles A. Fagan, Jr., and L. G. Lytle. They declared that they contained the names of residents of Beltzhoover, Wilkinsburg, Greenfield, Wylie avenue, Turtle Creek, the North Side and other sections of the county not affected by the change.

Those who spoke against the vacation were Mrs. Morris Singer, E. J. Cyphers, A. P. Flood, W. W. McAdams, Foster Dickey, N. S. Sprague, Mrs. W. W. Robinson, F. S. Byers, head of the East Liberty Chamber of Commerce, and Max Mallinger, Mrs. Bertha Sherman, Henry B. Rae, H. L. Brenner, Miss Katherine Stayer and Harry B. Ackerman. N. R. Criss and Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of schools, spoke in favor of the closing.

TERM SERVED, MAN FREED

Edwin David Mitchell, 28, who was confronted by detainers from two Federal District Courts at the Western Penitentiary, when released Tuesday, after serving three years for robbery, is now a free man.

Judge Nelson McVicar yesterday disposed of a charge of transporting a stolen automobile against Mitchell, who had pleaded guilty by sentencing him to one day in jail. Assistant United States Attorney Zeno Fritz told the court that the second detainer, from the middle district of Pennsylvania, involved the same offense.

He said that when Mitchell was convicted on the robbery charge in Clearfield County he was sent to the Huntingdon Reformatory. The detainer was lodged against him there, and when transferred to the penitentiary it followed him.

Mitchell had the stolen automobile when he committed the robbery at DuBois, Pa., it was said.

HOLDUPS NET BANDITS $195

Holdups last night of a gasoline station and a confectionery netted bandits $195.

Three armed Negroes entered the store of Morris Fivaras, at 715 Estella street, forced the proprietor into a rear room and looted the cash register of $160. They escaped in an automobile which they had parked in front of the store.

Donald Kaiser, manager of the Houston Oil Company's station at 1307 Washington boulevard, was ordered to throw up his hands by an armed man who escaped with $35 from the register.

Missionary Circle To Meet Tomorrow

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Brighton Road Presbyterian Church will meet at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the church rooms. Mrs. J. E. Pennington will conduct devotional services. Miss Viola Bayne, medical missionary to Abyssinia, will speak.

CLUBS, HOMES YIELD LIQUOR

Seven quarts of whisky and three quarts of gin were seized by prohibition agents yesterday in a raid on the Owls Club, on the second floor at 644 Penn avenue, agents said. O. B. O'Donnell, 41, the steward, was arrested and held in bond, according to the agents.

A 150-gallon still, 77 barrels of mash and 40 gallons of moonshine found in a dwelling at 629 Ridge street, Clairton, were destroyed. In another Clairton dwelling, in Worthington avenue, the federal raiders destroyed 4,000 gallons of mash and 85 gallons of moonshine, they said.

Samuel Salpetro, 30, was arrested in a raid on a second-floor club at 802 North Homewood avenue, where several bottles of gin and whisky were confiscated, raiders asserted.

COURT GRANTS ERIE RUM BANS

Preliminary injunctions were granted by Federal Judge Nelson McVicar against alleged anti-dry places in Erie, on complaints filed by the prohibition authorities. Final hearings will be held June 13.

The places named and alleged proprietors were as follows: Restaurant, 1701 Liberty street, Arcolan Ferrilli; club, 1029 East avenue, Irvin Bach; drinking room, rear of 909 East Eleventh street, John Doe; club, 2502 Peach street, Forward Singing Society, John Schuster, president, and a club, 729 West Seventeenth street.

The owners of the properties also were named defendants.

'Gas' Station Robbed By Highwayman

A lone robber entered the office of the Houston Oil Company, 1307 Washington boulevard, pointed a gun at the attendant, Donald Kaiser, and compelled him to hold up his hands while he rifled the cash register of $35 shortly before last midnight. Warning Kaiser not to follow, the robber then fled on foot, Kaiser told police.

BANQUET HELD BY AMARANTHS

Two sessions scheduled for today were to close the four-day convention of the Amaranth Society of Pennsylvania, in session in the William Penn Hotel. The society elected officers yesterday and last night held a banquet in honor of the 300 delegates. Mrs. Maude Pittis, of Jersey City, grand royal matron of the international order, was the principal speaker.

Mrs. Mary Foley, of Pittsburgh, retiring grand matron, and John Taylor, of Philadelphia, retiring grand patron, were speakers at a business session yesterday afternoon. Two Pittsburghers were honored with office, Mrs. Dora Smith being named conductress and Mrs. Sarah Killen, associate conductress. Mrs. Mae Armstrong, of Philadelphia, was named grand royal matron.

DENY HOLDUP, THREE HELD

J. W. Starr, 29, of 7030 Spencer street, repudiated an alleged robbery confession when arraigned in Central Police Court today, declaring he had made it because he feared abuse by city detectives.

He had previously admitted, detectives testified, that he had held up and robbed L. J. Ettinger, of 1357 Cordova road, April 9, at Negley avenue and Bryant street, of $8. Two companions, Michael Madden, 30, of 7002 Hamilton avenue, and Elmer Loper, 29, of 302 Sandusky street, sat in his auto while the robbery was perpetrated, according to his alleged confession.

Magistrate Leo Rothenberg held the three defendants for court, charged with robbery.

Driver Hurt When Auto Hits Pole

Myers Cedeloan, 604 Dallas avenue, was taken to a hospital today when his sedan suddenly swerved from the road and crashed into a light pole on Grant avenue in Etna. Two women and a man accompanying him were unhurt, according to Etna police.

SPROUL SUED FOR RADIO PAY

John W. Sproul, evangelist, who recently has faced much trouble in the local courts, has been named defendant in another suit. Archie Orbeck, engineer of radio station WMBJ, who severed connections with Sproul recently, has brought suit to recover six weeks' salary totaling $300. A hearing will be held Friday before Alderman Sol S. Goldstein.

This is the fifth action in which the evangelist has been named within a year. Yesterday an indictment charging fraudulent conversion was returned against him for the second time this week. The charge was made by John M. Luterman, commercial manager of the radio station, who said the evangelist devoted to his own use $1,000 which Luterman gave him to pay for operating expenses.

Meanwhile the radio station is listed for sheriff's sale to satisfy a lien of $7,943.75 which Sproul's former attorney, Kenneth R. Cunningham, claims Sproul owes him for professional services.

Turtle Creek Man Awaits Sentence

Charged with conducting a lottery in connection with Christmas baskets for worthy poor of Turtle Creek, J. T. Brown was in the Allegheny County jail today prepared to go before the court to plead guilty, his counsel said. Brown was bound over in $1,000 bail by Justice of the Peace William Wilkinson, of Turtle Creek, last night.

Brown was brought back to Turtle Creek from Akron, O., by Police Chief W. J. Whalen, of Turtle Creek, for arraignment. It was testified Brown neglected to pay for the grocerits contained in the baskets.

Slain Bandit Still Remains Unknown

The supposed identification of the young bandit killed in an attempted holdup of the Shady Avenue Pharmacy, 527 Shady avenue, a week ago, proved false today, when relatives of the man believed the victim, denied that it was his body at the morgue. The robber was fatally shot by Harry Bluestone, proprietor, when he and an accomplice, who escaped, entered the store and fired at Bluestone.

Unemployment Up Before Open Forum

N. Y. C. TO SHOW CONTAINERS

A public demonstration of the New York Central Railroad's new type container car was to be given in the Carson street yards of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad at 2 p. m. today. The New York Central has about 200 of these cars in service, but none has yet been placed in the Pittsburgh district. Demonstrations will be held under direction of J. N. Croaker, of New York, manager of the mail, express and container service of the New York Central.

The containers, built of steel, and loaded 12 to a car, are filled through the top. To unload them onto a truck they are lifted over the vehicle and the drop bottom doors released. Each container has a capacity of six tons.

2 Hurt Avoiding Plunge in Auto

Two persons were injured early today when an automobile driven in Paulson avenue was swerved to avoid a plunge down an embankment into Washington boulevard. Russell L. Cade, 24, of 519 Cora street, driver of the car, and Miss Frances Steven, 26, of the Elmo Hotel, 6249 Frankstown avenue, suffered lacerations and were taken to Pittsburgh Hospital. Later Cade was able to leave the hospital and was arrested on a charge of reckless driving.

Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's Question: The Supreme Court rules a defendant can waive jury trial. Would you rather put your fate in the hands of a trained judge or a jury?

CLARENCE GILBERT, weather observer: Give me a trained judge any day to our average jury. Almost every day we read of blunders and miscarriages of justice caused by a group of ignorant jurors. Take a good look at some of the people sitting in judgement as jurors, then glance at lady justice blindfolded.

Clarence Gilbert

MISS MARGARET BERNY, secretary: To begin with, I've never committed a crime, but if I would happen to be arrested I hope its a judge who would hear my case and not a jury. Everybody is laughing at our jurors. I heard of a case once where a woman was serving on the jury and was too deaf to hear the testimony.

Miss M. Berny

MISS BLANCHE B. LEVY, attorney: I believe in trial by jury. It is the jury's duty to care for facts in the case being tried. A judge, with all his experience, is no more capable of weighing the facts and finding them than the jury, providing, of course, that the jury is composed of people of average intelligence. Some say a jury is apt to be biased. Well, so may a judge be biased.

Miss B. B. Levy

MRS. MERCEDES COHILL, assistant to chief clerk of Quarter Sessions Court: The jury system has been in vogue for hundreds of years and has come down to us recognized as one of the best possible instruments for meting out justice. An institution such as this cannot be dealt with lightly. As far as I am concerned, I would be quite satisfied to rest my case with a jury.

Mrs. M. Cohill

SAMUEL H. GARDNER, district attorney: From time immemorial the rite of trial by jury has been the boast of the English law. No better method of ascertaining facts has ever been devised. While juries sometimes may go wrong, I would rather put my fate, if accused of a crime, in the hands of a jury, drawn from all walks of life, than with a trained judge.

S. H. Gardner

WILLIAM S. HERBSTER, attorney: It is my belief that the Supreme Court has acted wisely in granting the defendant the right to waive trial by jury. Our jury system has deviated widely from the older system and whether the deviation has been for the best is a matter for discussion. To my mind a jury should reach a decision by a majority vote. If the majority vote prevailed, I would place my fate with the jury.

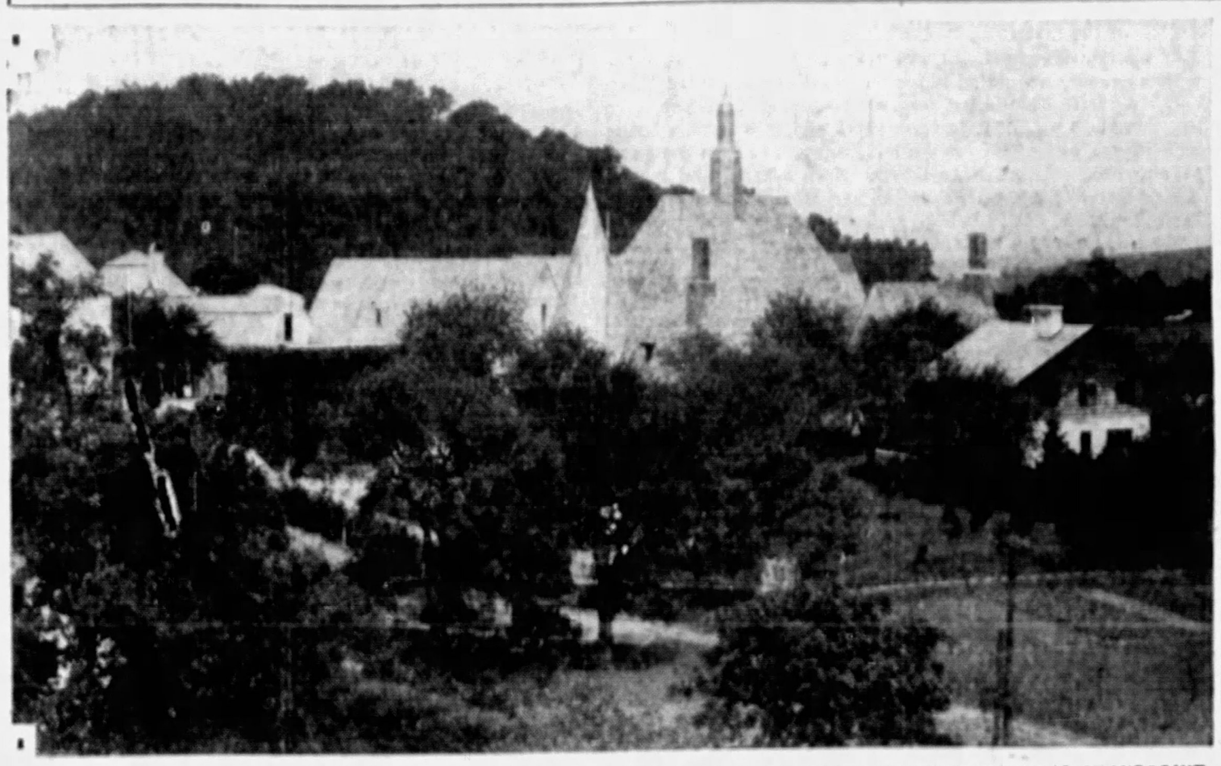
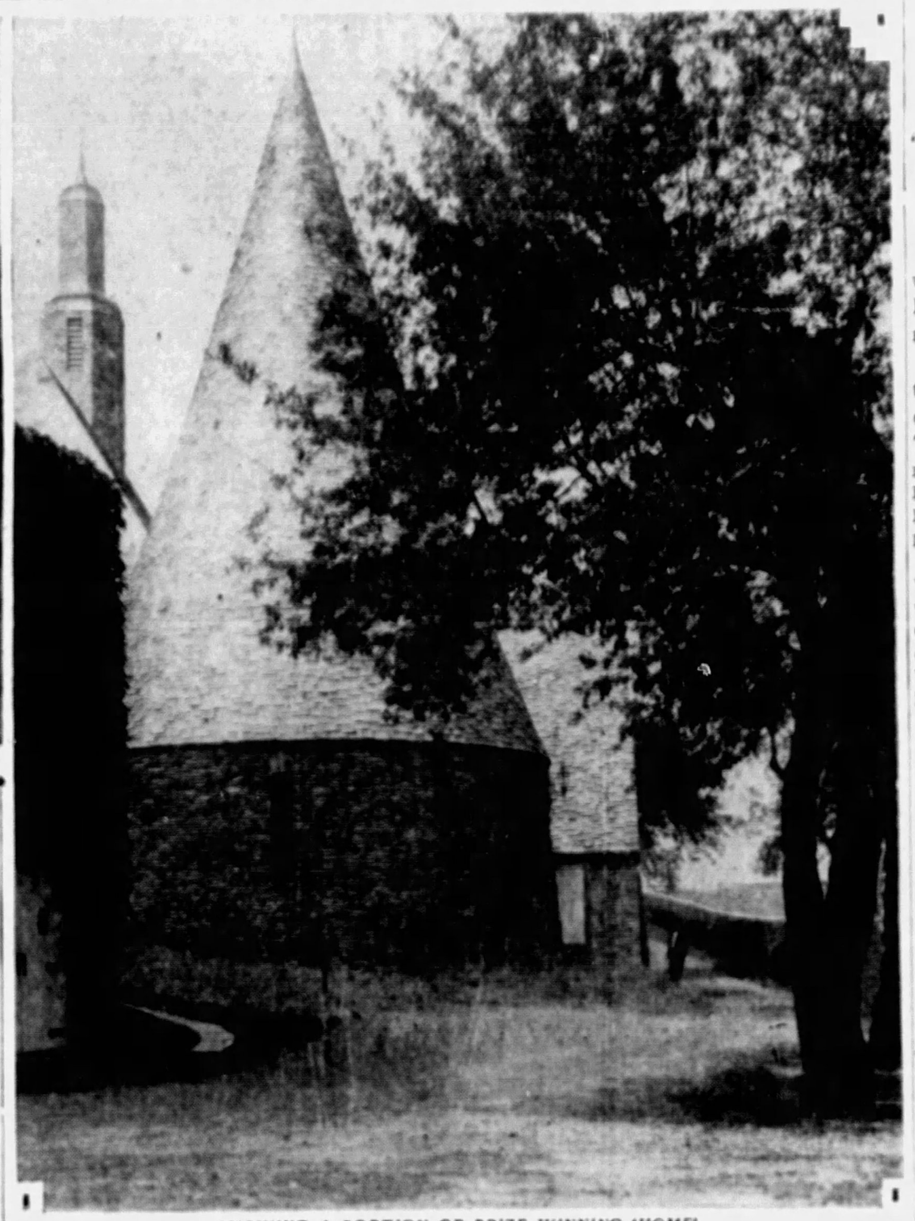
Mellon Stables Voted Finest 'Residence' in Architectural Exhibition



THE STABLE OF THE ROLLING ROCK COUNTRY CLUB, ADJUDGED BEST 'HOME' FROM AN ARCHITECTURAL STANDPOINT



SHOWING A PORTION OF PRIZE WINNING 'HOME'

A closeup of part of the Rolling Rock stables at Ligonier. Janssen and Cocken were the architects given first prize in the residence class. The exhibit was sponsored by Chamber of Commerce.

MELLON STABLE WINS PRIZE

The home of the Mellon family horses at Rolling Rock, near Ligonier, which is one of the most elegantly appointed stables in the world, won the prize as the finest "residence" in the architectural contest of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

It was announced that the judges made their decision in classing the stable as a residence because there was no stable or barn classification in the contest.

The prize winning building was designed by Jannsen & Cocken. The same firm won the other two prizes, namely, the Longuevue Country Club, in the institutional class, and the Keystone Athletic Club, regarded as best commercial structure.

Edgar J. Kaufmann's home on Indianola road, a Jannsen & Cocken design, won honorable mention in the residence class.

Ulrich Schoenberger, Carnegie Tech graduate of 1925, won the $100 prize for his design of the bronze plaques to be awarded the winning architects.

The judges were C. Herrick Hammond, Chicago, president of the American Institute of Architects; Frank J. Forester and H. T. Lindeberg, New York, and William S. Miller, Pittsburgh.

HOLMES TALKS ON VENICE

Venice in all its charm and beauty was shown and talked about last night by Burton Holmes in the last of his season's travelogues at the Carnegie Music Hall. From sea -level to Alpine regions of North Italy, the traveler took his audience and the coloring of the landscape and picturesqueness of the peoples offered a delightful evening.

It was Venice, however, which most fascinated and new impressions of the Grand Canal and byways of the watery city were obtained. Thence over the Stelvio Pass and into South Tirol and along the Road of the Dolomites, showing many striking views of mountains. The travelogue closed with thrilling motion pictures of young Bradford Washburn's ascent of the famous and difficult Aiguille de Grepon, c. "Grand Diable," which left a memorable impression of Alpine climbers' risks.

W. C. Miller Dies; State Clinic Chief

HARRISBURG, April 17.—(AP.)—Dr. William C. Miller, chief of state clinics of the State Department of Health, died last night after a long illness.

Dr. Miller was a native of Neosho, Mo., and as a boy went with his family to Arizona, where his father was killed by Indians. With his mother and a brother, he came to his mother's former home in Schellsburg, Bedford County. He was a member of the House of Representatives for two terms, beginning 1899, and served two terms in the State Senate, beginning in 1902.

HURT AT PARK, $75,000 ASKED

Claiming to have been seriously injured when thrown from "The Thunderbolt," an amusement device, Gertrude Vaughn, 18, through her parents, Leo and Mary Vaughn, asked $75,000 damages from The Berger Roller Coaster Company, in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court.

The suit averred that the girl was riding on the coaster July 27, last, in the National Amusement Park, operated by the Berger company along the Freeport road, Aspinwall. Due to a sudden stop and start at the platform she was thrown to the tracks, suffering numerous injuries, according to the suit.

HELD FOR POSE AS DRY AGENT

Adolph Fiill, 41, of 1717 Larkins way, was being held in the South Side Police Station today, following his arrest yesterday for impersonating a Federal officer, police say.

Fiill, former member of the Pittsburgh and McKeesport police departments, and now a private policeman at a Woodland road residence, was arrested on complaint of two roomers at the home of John Benert, 42, of 104 South Nineteenth street. The roomers, John B. Schaffer, 45, and Adolph Barker, 30, told police Fiill representing himself as a prohibition agent, searched their rooms for whisky. The roomers were held as material witnesses.

GIRL WRITERS WIN PRAISE

If the magazine writing success of two 10-year-old Pittsburgh school girls can be construed as a criterion of future possibilities, then a lot of present day authors better look to their laurels.

The writers, Margaret A. Lavine, 6400 Bartlett street, a student at Colfax school, and Shirley Meyers, 5638 Beacon street, of Wightman street school, recently accepted the invitation extended by Young Israel Magazine, published in Cincinnati, to try their hand at writing pieces for that publication.

Many children in other sections of the United States took similar action. So good were the results the magazine decided to devote the entire May issue to juvenile authors and writers.

Shirley wrote a "sob story" on a little consumptive, she said, whose plight appealed to her so much that she thought the theme worth chronicling. Margaret "did" a feature on a school program, which Elsa Weihl, editor of Young Israel, thought excellent and gave it special editorial treatment.

Both girls are bright students in school, according to their teachers. They intend developing their individual writing talents to perfection as time goes on. Both have an aptitude for syntax, chronology, grammer and the King's English—so necessary for literary success.

Army Fliers to Take Pictures of Eclipse

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 17.—(AP.)—Aided by four Army airplanes, man is to attempt to climb far above the earth's dust and haze belt and photograph a solar eclipse, scheduled for April 28.

First Michigan Man Liquor Lifer Freed

FLINT, Mich., April 17.—(AP.)—Channie Tripp, the first man in Michigan to go to prison for life on the basis of four liquor law violations, was free today. His sentence under the habitual criminal clause of the state criminal code was quashed by Judge James S. Parker yesterday. Cases against 33 other liquor law violators were expunged.

The way for Tripp's release was paved when the last state legislature amended the habitual criminal code to remove liquor offenses from the classification of felonies.

CHURCHES HERE PREPARE FOR EASTER

'The Passion' to Be Sung At Trinity Cathedral; Union North Side Meet

Special Good Friday services will be conducted in many Pittsburgh churches tomorrow.

"The Passion," based on the seven last words of Christ on the Cross, will be sung in Trinity Cathedral, Sixth avenue, under direction of Alfred Hamer, organist and choirmaster. Dean Percy G. Kammerer will preach on the "Seven Words."

A cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ on the Cross," will be sung by the choir of the Glenshaw Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. Dr. Robert S. Young is pastor.

BELLEVUE COMMUNION

Members of the Bellevue United Presbyterian Church will join in communion services at the Bellevue Presbyterian Church, North Fremont street. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath is pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and Dr. James M. Ferguson is pastor of the United Presbyterian. Officers of the two churches will serve the sacrament. Dr. Donald MacKenzie, a professor in the Western Theological Seminary, will preach.

Bi-lingual services will be held in the Evangelical Protestant Church, Smithfield street, at 10:30 a. m., when Dr. Carl A. Voss, pastor, will speak in German on "Beneath the Cross" and in English on "The Shadow of the Cross." Services will be concluded with communion.

Rotarians Learning How to Cast Fishin' Lines

CASTING THE WRONG WAY

Ned Lawrence, fly and bait casting expert, demonstrating his art before Pittsburgh Rotarians in the Fort Pitt Hotel, struck this position to show them how not to do it.

SCIENTIFIC METHOD

Lawrence showing the scientific way to hold the rod before casting. There is no chance now of getting the line entangled in trees and underbrush along the side of the stream, he said.

'BRAND' LIFTED FROM ANGLER

Contrary to popular opinion, a trout fisherman isn't the biggest liar in the world. He's only a jovial exaggerator. He may be so enthusiastic about the sport that a wrong impression is formed of him. The truth of the matter probably is, he's just trying to instill enthusiasm into those he wants to become followers of Izaak Walton.

So said Ned Lawrence, fly and bait casting expert, during a vivid demonstration of his art before the Pittsburgh Rotary Club at the Fort Pitt Hotel. C. W. Ward, president of the local Isaak Walton chapter, also spoke.

One should never use the sidewinder method in letting go his line, Lawrence told his audience. The danger is that the reel will backlash. The overhand cast, using the wrist as the propelling motive, is best. The fly then will speed to the mark.

Wet flies, which fool the fish, are the most popular. Dry flies are next. Then comes the worm, but experts don't think much of it.

To show proficiency of practice, both Lawrence and Ward cast at a target erected at a far end of the room and hit it every time.

Divorcee Kills Self In Police Station

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—(INS.)—Investigation was to be started today of the sensational suicide here of Mrs. Edith Neal, 40, divorcee, who swallowed a bottle of acid in a police station after hurling a similar bottle at S. A. Hanlin, wealthy and retired.

Hanlin and two officers were slightly burned. After Hanlin rushed into the station and said a woman was trying to kill herself in his car, police persuaded Mrs. Neal to enter the station, where a moment later the tragedy occurred.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Sewickley Girl Weds In South

EASTER celebrations and Easter gowns may be distractions, but the chief interest of society folks nowadays is spring weddings. It seems that never before have there been so many attractive young brides and bridegrooms, too.

A picturesque wedding took place yesterday afternoon in St. Pierre's Chapel in Gautier, Miss., when Marjorie Patricia Grinstead, daughter of the William Wade Grinsteads, of "Oldfields," Gautier, Miss., and Sewickley, and Peter Anderson, son of the G. W. Andersons, of Ocean Springs, Miss., were married.

St. Pierre's is a lovely small stone church hidden among the trees on St. Pierre's bayou just below Gautier. And for the wedding the old church was decorated with mountain laurel, wild azaleas and native smilax gathered in the nearby woods by friends of the bridegroom. Hundreds of tall candles lighted the lovely scene.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rt. Rev. Theodore Dubose Bratton, bishop of the diocese of Mississippi.

THE bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an imported gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a court train, and a veil of tulle arranged with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her flowers were white roses and lilies of the valley.

Ivory Gown

Caroline Gilchrist and Agnes Grinstead, sister of the bride, both from Sewickley, were her only attendants. They wore similar gowns of green chiffon with horsehair braid hats and slippers to match, and carried bouquets of native wild flowers.

Walter Anderson was his brother's best man, and McConnell Anderson, another brother of the bridegroom, and Steven Hellmuth of Chicago, cousin of the bride, were ushers.

After the wedding there was an informal reception in the home of the bride's father and mother. Upon their return May 1 from a motor trip, the young Andersons will live in Ocean Springs at the family estate.

And among those attending the wedding were Mrs. James Lyall Stuart and her daughter, Emily and Elizabeth George, all of Sewickley.

EVERYONE is always interested in the activities of the Stage and Play Society, and now the society is to present several short plays on the evening of Tuesday, May 6, in Carnegie Music Hall, completing this season's schedule with its fourth presentation.

Amateur Plays

I know, too, who some of the cast are: Mrs. J. L. Dawson Painter and George C. Burgwin, Jr., will appear in "Study of a Girl in a Hat," by Carroll Fitzhugh, president of the society.

In the second play on the program, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," by Anatole France, which is being directed by Mrs. Howard J. Burgwin, will appear Mrs. Percy Kammerer and her daughter, Eleanor Kammerer, who are leaving in June to live in Avon, Conn.; Mrs. F. LeMoyne Page, Elizabeth Scott, Harold Geoghegan, C. F. C. Arensberg and his son, C. F. C. Arensberg, Jr., Alan Donnelly, Howard Wilbert, Charles McClintock and George S. Oliver.

MISS GRACE NUTTER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Nutter, of Ben Avon, has chosen Saturday, May 10, as the date for her marriage to David Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cunningham, also of Ben Avon.

To Wed May 10

Miss Elizabeth Flanders, of Melrose, Mass., will be the maid of honor, and the four bridesmaids will be Miss Jane Witherspoon, Miss Elizabeth Cunningham, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Margaret Patterson and Miss Ruth Dawson, all of Pittsburgh. Alfred Nutter, Jr., brother of the bride, will be the best man, and William G. Johnstone, Jr., Donald B. Straub, Richard A. Ullery, all of Pittsburgh, and Lieut. Charles L. Munroe, Jr., of New York and Pittsburgh, will be ushers.

The wedding is to take place in the Presbyterian Church of Avalon at 4 o'clock that afternoon, and there will be a reception later in the Shannopin Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham will go on a brief motor trip and later will be at home in Avalon.

Wednesday Current Events Class Ends Year With Luncheon for 50

ONE of the first clubs to close its season is the Wednesday Current Events Class which finished its year yesterday with a prettily appointed luncheon of 50 covers in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association Annex. Mrs. J. H. Harrison, who has served as president for two years and who is now living in Syracuse, came back for the luncheon and to turn the gavel over to Mrs. William Penn Baum. Both retiring and incoming executives made brief speeches and Mrs. Baum announced her committees.

The program was a lovely one, consisting of solos and a duet by Mrs. Martha L. Roberts, soprano, and Mrs. Anne Hagmaier Woestehoff, contralto, with Mrs. Martha Meyers Murdoch at the piano. It was the first time the club had heard Mrs. Roberts, who pleased her audience with a French group including "Psyche," by Paladilhe; "La Pluie," by Georges, and "Carnival," by Foudrain, and later a group of English songs, Huerter's "Today;" Cyril Scott's "The Unforseen" and "A Spring Fancy," by Densmore.

Mrs. Woestehoff again impressed with her artistry when she sang Trunk's "In Die Nacht," "Stanchen," by Brahms, and Tschaikowsky's "Warum," and three English numbers, Spross's "Minor and Major," "Daffodil Gold," by Hodgson, and Alexander MacFadyen's "Love in the Wind."

Mrs. Baum's committees are: Executive, the officers and chairmen and Mrs. J. H. Harrison, Mrs. J. D. Holt, Jr., Mrs. John L. Gerber, Mrs. Harry D. Burke, Mrs. Otto M. Reif, Mrs. Phillips A. Pyle, Mrs. J. Lee Rodgers, Mrs. W. C. G. Hogan; social, Mrs. A. F. B. Morris, Mrs. Will A. Rhodes, Jr., Mrs. Roy W. Rodgers, Mrs. Charles E. Reif, Mrs. Harry M. Baldwin, Mrs. J. T. Shuman and Mrs. H. J. Wilhelm; magazines for hospitals, Mrs. J. G. Klingensmith, Mrs. George L. Ball and Mrs. Charles E. Willock. Mrs. B. W. Berry and Mrs. Louis F. Wentz are the delegates to the Congress of Clubs.

To Give Opera

The attraction selected is Victor Herbert's popular opera, "Sweethearts," which will be presented at the Nixon Theater the evenings of May 23 and 24, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shea.

Tryouts for all parts, including principals and chorus, will be held at Trinity House Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

The committees in charge are: Production, Agnes Frey and Hazel Samples; rehearsals, Edith Landerman and Naomi Mutschler; tickets, Ada Wagner, Catherine U. Born, Jane McCalmon and Ruth Vanse; patrons, Ruth Blazier; publicity, Katherine Monheim, Verna Allwes and Jane Kerr; programs, Irma Ehrhardt, Adelaide Morey, Sara Smith and Flora Salisbury; candy, Mary Dittmer, Katherine Brown and Sara Cumming.

Miss Lucy J. Newton, branch president, will have general supervision over all committees.

KAUFMANN'S

EMPIECEMENTS ACHIEVE MUCH FASHION CHARM

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, April 17.—The piece conference seems to have been very successful among the sartorial powers. For all couturiers evidently agree that piecings are among the most desirable methods of achieving charm in the silhouette and adding distinction to the dress. Many frocks there are, that are completely made of empiecements intricately placed, while other models are fashioned completely of vertical piecings. Diagonal, V and U shaped piecings are also to be found in dresses that appear at first glance to be so very simple and assuming. Suits, too, use intricate piecings to achieve the goal of smartness, and even the most simple and unassuming suit has a little piecing somewhere or another.

* * *

TWEED suits continue to triumph here. Jaunty little affairs they are that bespeak youth and freshness in every line. Short coats, sensible skirts, striking trimming or effective plain, all contrive to add satorial splendor to the spring, and will make the early "walking" an affair of pleasure as well as healthful duty. The suit sketched for you is a very blithe affair from Schiaparelli. It is of a tweed mixture in gray, black and white, combined with black velours de laine to create a very striking effect. The deep yoke of black is looped up in front to provide the sole fastening for the jacket. The yoke on the skirt is drawn up in front, pulled around in folds at the side and buckled behind.

* * *

AN interesting study in empiecements is provided by the dress sketched at the atelier of Jane Regny. It is of moss green wool etamine and is expertly tailored. The entire frock is formed of vertical piecings gradually widening on the skirt to form circular godets. A stiffened belt of the etamine has tailored buckle in silver.

CLUB NOTES

IT was decided yesterday at the affiliated club day meeting in the Congress of Clubs to hold a similar meeting next year and to limit reports to two minutes. About 80 clubs were represented and a report of the year's achievements of each was given, these activities touching scholarship, philanthropic, civic and social work and clubhouse building. Mrs. Elsie Breese Mitchell led community singing and, there were contralto solos by Mrs. Eda J. Kreiling. A talk on behalf of the blind was given by Mrs. C. C. Taylor, chairman of work for the blind in the State Federation; Mrs. J. F. Moore led the afternoon discussion of how the Congress may better serve its affiliated members, and Mrs. J. Charles Wilson rounded out the day with several lovely readings.

Little Girls' Hats

In Easter Egg Colors

$1.95

Easter hats in Easter egg colors—red, green, blue, pink, and yellow.

Little girls choose the color first because their favorite color is their idea of a good-looking hat.

We know that the styles, as well as the colors, are right. Maidens may select hats with long streamers, plain tailored ones, or hats with brims that form a halo-like frame for the face.

At $1.95 they have a choice of smart hats of woven straw, soft silk braids, and tuscan straws. (These last are natural color straws.)

Three Other Groups of Smart Hats for Girls

$2.50 — $3.50 — $5.00

—Second Floor—

Men's EASTER Suits

With Two Pairs Trousers

$35 — $40 — $50

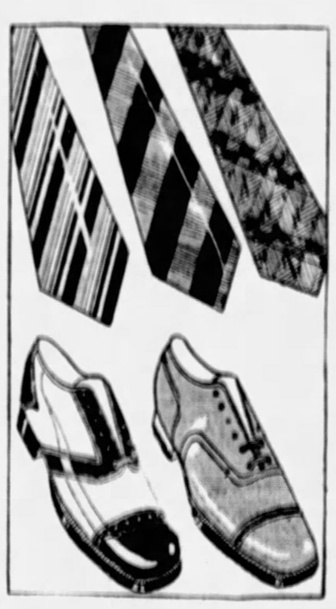
You men who choose your suits for STYLE are going to be mighty well pleased with the appearance of these in the Easter parade. The models are as correct as can be. The fabrics and patterns are sparkling and new.

As for VALUE—you'll go far to find their equal. Tailored of splendid cheviots, unfinished worsteds and hard finished fabrics that will stand up under severe usage. And while you only wear one pair of trousers in the parade, it's comforting to know there's a freshly pressed pair at home. Excellent choice in all three groups—$35, $40, $50.

New Easter Topcoats

$30 — $35 — $50

Don't mar your otherwise perfect ensemble with the wrong topcoat. Here are handsome toppers in tune with the times. Tweeds, mixtures and herringbones in light and dark colors. Superbly tailored to fit during shower or sunshine. $30, $35 and $50.



Men's $2.00 to $3.00 Ties

$1.15

A timely sale of men's fine neckwear. Wool lined—hand tailored—made of finest quality imported silks. Bright, colorful designs and patterns or the more conservative shades. Buy your Easter ties and your entire season's needs at this extraordinary low price—$1.15.

Men's $6.85 to $8 Oxfords

$5.85

One glance will convince you they're worth far more than $5.85! Neat plain models, narrow pointed, square and the extreme broad toe models. Blacks, newer dark and medium tan shades, as well as sports models. Practically every good style of the season is here. All sizes.

Easter Gift News

There are strong indications that Sunday will be a sort of second Christmas—with new clothes, the young people home from school and the increasing likelihood of getting gifts like these.

Bando Sets $1.25

Bando sets (bando and panties) are breaking out with colors these days—and seem infinitely more interesting than last season. Giftees will find these awfully cool for summer wear and practical as far as washing goes. Rayon, 32 to 36. Others to $2.95.

Parisian Prints 25c up

French prints are appealing at any time, but designs as original as these are actually thrilling! The 'kerchiefs have hand rolled hems, hand scalloped borders, petit point and lace footing or demure hemstitching. Conventional or modernistic patterns. Sketched, 50c.

Collar Effects $1 up

These are fashion-important and femininely interesting. On the model is a lace bow effect with cuffs to match ($2.95); also sketched is a glistening beaded yoke from abroad ($2.50). Both are fascinating in gift boxes. Others, $1 up.

New Bracelets 95c

Bracelets to add color and be smartly barbaric—bracelets to express a sense of individualism.

Galliera, metal, rhinestone and composition ones are here with matching necklaces, priced 95c to $25. Including types for thin and not-so-thin wrists.

Beaded Bags, $1.95

Little girls, 9 to 15, can carry them—so can larger ones who bridge or dance or dine out frequently. For, oblivious of the low price, they're fetchingly silk lined, fringed, and imported from France. White kid bags are nice, too, ranging from $1.

New Hose, $1 up

Chiffon hose ($1.65 up) are to a college girl a gift from the gods, and she'll love as well the new "inside out" stockings ($1.95), the mesh-lisles and tweeds ($1 to $3.25), and the new dull-sheer hose at $1.95. Several pairs would be very nice. gift boxed.

FAVOR SHORTER LABOR HOURS

GENEVA, April 17 (AP)—Giving ear to the troubles of white collar workers, the International Labor Conference which opens here June 10 will discuss the question of hours of work for salaried employes.

Twenty-nine countries have reported their attitude toward legislation of salaried workers' hours by the international body. Eighteen countries are definitely in favor of such international regulation. They include the Colonies, France, Germany, Italy, Portugal, Spain and Uruguay.

Reports from 11 countries indicate a preference for a recommendation to the conference rather than the adoption of a draft convention for submission to governments.

Great Britain, Japan, South Africa and Switzerland consider the time premature for setting up international regulations on this question.

Having received the replies of governments, the International Labor Office has prepared for the April 30 conference the draft of a convention concerning commercial establishments and offices.

The draft convention proposes to limit working hours in commercial establishments and offices to 48 per week, the daily hours in principle to be eight, with a proviso limiting total weekly hours to be not in excess of 10 hours daily.

APPEAL GETS KLANNER TERM

TORONTO, Ont., April 17 (AP)—Convicted of being masked in public demonstration with alleged Ku Klux Klan activities, H. A. Phillips of Hamilton, Ont., appealed to the High Divisional Court.

That body, however, decided that a fine of $50 and costs was too small a penalty and sentenced Phillips to three months imprisonment on a counter-appeal of the attorney general's department.

A group of alleged Klansmen from Hamilton visited the home of Ira Johnson at Oakville last fall and removed Isabel Jones, who was said to have been living with Johnson. Johnson and the woman since have been married.

In commenting on Phillips' conviction for participation in this demonstration the court's judgment said:

"The motive of the accused and his companions is immaterial, their action was unlawful and it is the duty of this court to pronounce the appropriate punishment."

Stay Granted 'Whim Slayer'

CHICAGO, April 17.—(AP)—A stay of execution until May 9 was granted today to August Vogel, who was sentenced to die tomorrow morning for the "whim slaying" of Lyle Perrenaud. Vogel's attorney pleaded to three judges before Judge Walter P. Steffen finally granted the stay. A hearing to determine whether the condemned man is sane is to be held April 28.

Vogel's wife and sister have made affidavits declaring his mind has been unbalanced since he was sentenced.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative, safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Perfumer Wants To Spray N. Y. Streets

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP)—The sidewalks of New York have a bad odor, says George Klotz, Parisian perfumer who just arrived here. And M. Klotz knows what to do about it.

He suggests that the street hydrants be transformed into gigantic perfume atomizers. Odors would be varied according to the neighborhood. Fashionable Park avenue might get something with a French name, and Chinatown, of course, would be favored with an Oriental scent.

HIGHER POSTAL RATES URGED

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Postage increases on both air mail and regular letter postage were outlined here by Postmaster General Brown as the plan by which the administration hopes to cope with the deficit that has arisen in the business of handling the nation's mail.

Appearing before the House Postoffice Committee to urge early passage by the House of the Waters bill to change the basis of payment to air mail carriers from a poundage to a mileage basis, Brown said that as soon as it was put into effect the air mail postage rate would be raised from five to probably seven or eight cents an ounce. The Postmaster General said that President Hoover had been urging for over a year that the rate be increased. Almost a year ago President Hoover called attention to the gradual deficit in the operations of the postal system.

Representative Bankhead (Dem.), Alabama, inquired of Brown if he planned to increase the air mail rate to cover a deficit of $7,000,000 in that branch of the service, why he did not recommend that Congress raise the regular postage rate of two cents to cover the anual deficit which amounts to more than $75,000,000 in postal revenue.

Brown said he recently suggested in a speech in New York that an increase from two to two and one-half cents would net a $50,000,000 revenue. He added, however, the deficit this year would amount to nearly $100,000,000 because of aid given the air mail and the merchant marine mail service.

Ex-County Treasurer Dies At Centerville

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., April 17.—Jesse Hancock, 70, former treasurer of Westmoreland County and banker at Monessen, died suddenly at his home in Centerville, near here, yesterday. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Maggie Hancock; a daughter, Mrs. Carrie Schuck, of Monessen; a son, Wayne Hancock, of Buffalo, N. Y., and a brother, George Hancock, of Centerville.

BORNO OUSTS 12 FOES OF ROY

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, April 17.—(AP)—President Borno officially dismissed 12 members of the Council of State who failed to carry out the plan of the Hoover Commission and formally elect Eugene Roy as temporary president. Twelve other men were appointed in their places.

The new council was ordered to meet on April 19 for organization and then to assemble on April 21 and elect a president. All government departments and schools will be closed on the latter date.

The presidential action has relieved the uncertainty of the situation caused by doubt as to whether the Council of State would carry out the plan of the Hoover Commission and give Haiti a stable government after the expiration of President Borno's term on May 15. The fact that the President summoned the new council to hold its first meeting in the midst of the Easter holidays helped to stabilize public opinion.

Noted Physician Dies in His Office

CHICAGO, April 17.—(AP)—Dr. Joseph M. Patton, 78, former president of the Chicago Medical Society, died suddenly in his office yesterday, supposedly of heart disease. Dr. Patton had been a professor of clinical medicine at University of Illinois College of Medicine and professor of internal medicine at the Chicago Polyclinic. He was president of the medical society here in 1912 and 1913.

RAIL SERVICE ARGUED

The right of the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania to order resumption of an abandoned railroad passenger service between certain points, declared a public necessity, although operated under a private contract, was argued before the Pennsylvania Superior Court here yesterday. The question was involved in the appeal of the Erie Railroad Company from an order of the commission for passenger service accommodating coal miners between Jessup and the Underwood colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal Company.

Other appeals argued were: Antonio Kunish against Earl S. Porter, appellant, Fayette County; Norman Romesberg, appellant, against Charles A. Merrill and others; Sullivan Machinery Company, appellant, against Roy T. Griffith, receiver, and Smith and Varner, appellants, against administrators of Joseph Walat, deceased, Somerset County; Highway Advertising Company, appellant, against Philadelphia Development Corporation, Philadelphia County, and appeal of H. P. Shearer from order of Public Service Commission refusing certificate for a bus line in Westmoreland County.

Bus Crash Victim Dies, Toll Now 22

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 17.—(AP)—Frank L. Myers, of Columbia City, Ind., died yesterday, bringing to 22 the number of fatalities from the wrecking of a Pickwick Greyhound Line motor bus by a Santa Fe train at Isleta, N. M., last Friday.

Prison Population Gains 163 Per Cent

KEOKUK, Ia., April 17.—(AP)—An increase of 163 per cent in the population of the Iowa State Penitentiary at Fort Madison was reported for the last 10 years by Miss Merta Mitchell, census supervisor.

She announced the population of the prison as of April 2 this year was 1,241, compared with 471 in 1920, an increase of 770 persons.

Does Your Baby Ever Embarrass Your Friends?

Particularly when you give your baby to them to hold? Do your friends show a reluctance to hold your baby in their arms—to fondle him and love him? Watch, the next time you let someone hold your baby on their lap!

Perhaps it is embarrassing to your friends to hold your baby. Perhaps they would rather you left him in his little crib.

Some babies are awfully embarrassing to hold. They cry, they squirm, they kick, they squall—and are generally regarded as "cry-babies."

But it isn't baby's fault. And you, the mother, can prevent all this crying and irritability by stopping the pains and irritations that make your baby uncomfortable, unhappy, and continually peevish.

Note your baby's body. The tender flesh on the thighs and buttocks is probably red-raw from the scalding effect of the bacteria in the diaper region. The little body is in such pain that it cannot but make baby cry and fret.

Look into the folds of the skin. See the red spots, the soreness from chafing. Note the coarseness of the skin. It should be smooth and soft and pink.

To check all this you should anoint your baby's entire body daily with Mennen Baby Oil, rubbing it gently into the folds and creases of the skin and after every diaper change you should cleanse the buttocks and thighs with Mennen Baby Oil.

The oil will act as a water-proof coating in the diaper region and will prevent chafing and friction over the body. It will keep baby's skin soft and smooth and do away with all irritating skin dryness.

After wiping off the excess oil be sure to dust Mennen Borated Baby Talcum over your baby to keep him sweet-smelling, cool and comfortable.

Special Offer! This week your druggist is offering a can of Mennen Borated Baby Talcum FREE with a purchase of a bottle of Mennen Baby Oil for 50c. Mennen Baby Oil is a sterilized blend of oils, properly medicated, pleasantly scented and will not become rancid.

IS THERE A PRICELESS PAINTING AMONG YOUR PORTRAITS?

SEVERAL recent discoveries have led to the startling conclusion that thousands of great masterpieces worth $500,000 or more are at present concealed beneath the paint of apparently worthless old pictures. Equally interesting is the fact that these precious old masters can be completely freed from the overlying paint by the scientific methods of modern picture restorers and thus acquire their full value.

So surprising has been the success of several persons in discovering ancient masterpieces that have made them very wealthy, that many Englishmen and others are now feverishly searching old curiosity shops, old country houses and other likely places for similar treasures. And they are being found in unexpected places. Read the interesting details next Sunday in The American Weekly.

Love Songs' Strange Effect On Composer's Family

Music is credited with all-persuasive charms—to inspire—to dissolve trouble—but here is a case where sentimental melodies inspired trouble in abundance. She felt perfectly sure that when her husband, a well-known popular song writer, wrote his lilting melodies, he was not writing about her as the one "the angels must have sent" to him. Alluring, sentimental melodies all of them—resulting in a strange marital tangle. Read about this queer mix-up next Sunday in The American Weekly.

Is Facial Beauty An Over-Rated Asset?

Plans are going forward for a national anti-beauty contest to find the homeliest man in the United States—to prove that beauty in man and woman is an over-rated asset. The sponsors of the contest hope to prove that nature seldom puts a beautiful front on a high-grade brain—and they point to world-renowned men and women as shining examples. What do you think about it? Pass judgment after reading the details next Sunday in

ROAD PROGRAM 61 MILLIONS

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 17.—(AP.)—Contracts entailing an expenditure of $57,500,000 for highway construction during the present year have been planned for the final year of the Fisher administration.

Governor Fisher was advised today at a conference with Secretary of Highways James Lyall Stuart, Samuel Eckels, chief engineer, and other officials that the department by the end of the year will have that much for road construction alone. The sum is expected to build 1,200 miles of pavement, constituting the greatest construction program in the history of the state.

With contracts for 900 miles already in force calling for an expenditure of $42,500,000, the majority of the task of getting the work under way has been completed. By August, the department officials informed the Governor, the last of the contracts will have been awarded.

In addition to the road work, $4,000,000 is to be spent for bridges, half of which is already under contract.

For the 10 months from June 1, 1929, until April 1, 1930, actual receipts of the department exceeded by $260,710 the estimates of the department comptroller and other statisticians.

The Governor, after the conference, said the program did not contemplate depletion of all funds so as to leave the incoming administration without money to pay for contracts let during his term. There must be definite assurance the money is available before contracts will be let, he said, following out a policy of his administration in previous years.

Actual operations of roads, Mr. Eckels said, is about two weeks ahead of the last several years.

CANADIAN TAX RECEIPTS FALL

OTTAWA, Ont., April 17.—(AP.)—The total revenue from customs and excise in Canada for the fiscal year 1929-30 was $305,659,808.75, according to a statement issued by the Department of National Revenue. This was a decrease of $23,218,107.27 from the fiscal year 1928-29.

Total income tax collections from the last fiscal year were $69,020,751.72, an increase of $9,598,453.96 over the fiscal year 1928-29.

Net customs duties collected during the fiscal year 1929-30 totaled $177,712,071.54, a decrease of $6,771,753.31.

Excise taxes totaled $61,926,920.36, a decrease of $18,105,539.56 from the year before.

Excise duties totaled $64,540,689.85 an increase of $1,487,956.78 over the year before.

Sundry collections added another $1,480,127, an increase over the year before of $171,228.72.

Officers Named By Glider Club

OIL CITY, Pa., April 12.—The Oil City Glider Club has been organized, with Harry Crouch as president; Douglas Brown, vice president, and Les Bartlett, secretary. The treasurer is Samuel Forker. An order is to be placed at once for a monoplane glider. The Splane memorial field will be used for training purposes.

Civil Service Clerk Lopped Off Payroll

OIL CITY, Pa., April 17.—Oil City council has found a way to save $300 a year. It has abolished the $25 a month salary given the city clerk as secretary of the civil service board, which, it was found, had held but two meetings in the last two years.

Miner Again Fails In Suicide Attempt

BELLAIRE, O., April 17.—(AP.)—Pat Morgan, 28, Powhatan coal miner, made his second unsuccessful suicide attempt in a week. He tried to hang himself in a city jail cell, where he was placed on a charge of intoxication. The other attempt also was by hanging.

Kisses Strange Girl, Says It's 'Free Country'

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—(AP.)—George Pappa, 30, who said he kissed a girl at Eleventh and Market streets because "this is a free country," was rewarded with a slap in the face and a ride to a police station to await a hearing.

The girl, Catherine Decker, 18, testified that Pappa stepped in front of her as she walked along the street, swept her into his arms and planted a kiss on her lips. Whereupon, she said, she let go with a swing that landed on Pappa's jaw and then called a policeman.

FISHERIES BILL AIDS PENNA.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—The fisheries bill, passed by the House, carried an appropriation of $100,000 for the construction of a station and a substation in Pennsylvania under the direction of the United States Bureau of Fisheries. The provision was written in the measure, when in the Merchant Marine Committee, by (Rep.) Magrady, of Mount Carmel.

Recently spawned fish will be sent to the sub-station hatchery, the fisheries bureau explained, and when matured, they will be moved to the station hatchery. Pennsylvania streams will be stocked from the station. The general object of the bill is to promote fishing by progressive appropriation and through cooperation between the federal and state governments and between the federal government and individuals.

Do you eat bread from habit . . . or for real enjoyment?

. . . Some folks eat bread just as a matter of habit, you might say.

Others get real enjoyment out of their bread—whether as toast, sandwiches, or plain bread-and-butter. They have learned the advantage of specifying by name the kind of bread they like best. And the great majority of them specify Aunt Hannah's.

LIFETIME SUFFERING RELIEVED BY GREAT NEW MASTER MEDICINE

MRS. ELLA LEMOX,
331 Scott St., Covington, Ky.

MONROE'S FORMULA NO. 7 PROVES ITS CLAIMS QUICKLY

Why linger and worry over pains and aches which you need not suffer? Why let them tear you to pieces when you can obtain relief so easily and economically? Rheumatism, neuritis, indigestion and constipation, kidney and bladder troubles result from run-down condition and impure blood and poor action of the vital organs. MONROE'S FORMULA NO. 7 clears the blood and speeds up the action of the entire system. Ask the MONROE'S NUMBER 7 MAN to explain just what is in every bottle and just how it can help you.

Mrs. Ella Lemox, Covington, Ky. (a part of Greater Cincinnati), wrote us: "I have been a sufferer from rheumatism all my life. An attack of la grippe in February left me in a critical condition. My heart was bad and I had no appetite and was weak and run-down in general. I started on MONROE'S FORMULA NO. 7 and am already commencing to feel better and am surprised at the benefits already received. My strength and appetite have returned and I sleep well. I know that a few bottles will restore me to complete health."

At DOW'S DRUG STORE, Diamond and Smithfield, Pittsburgh, you will find the MONROE'S FORMULA NO. 7 Man. Consult him without obligation and he will tell you what to do. He is there daily from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Saturday.

CHICKIE By ELENORE MEHERIN

Ila Causes Chickie to Turn Against Lectures

CHAPTER LXII.

CHICKIE stood behind the curtains in the living room, glancing with suppressed excitement down the block. She could feel her eyes hard and bright, her breath strain. A hot vividness, like flame, touched all her nerves.

She was beautiful tonight. She had made sure of that—combing her hair so, polishing her nails, a touch of rouge to her cheeks. Oh, he would see! He would find her lovely, lovelier than ever. Others, even a girl more brilliant, even a girl who knew all about Plato and strange theories of ideas, would pale beside her.

And he would look down gayly and murmur: "Ah—the dear thing—so pretty she is! Away with pedantic dames!"

She expected this. Yet now, awaiting him, she was all taut—uncertain. She saw his car swing round the corner, and ran into her room, making Jonathan open the door.

But his eyes did light when he saw her. And he did say with the merriness in his voice: "Ah—you sweet thing! All dolled?"

That boldened her so that she said as they drove downtown to dance: "And you had a nice time, Mr. Red, flirting with other frails!"

A burst of enthusiasm: "You missed it! I wished a hundred times you were there. Say, we've been buried for the last year—we don't get around—don't see things. We've just about gone to seed. I've forgotten there was such a thing as a thought in the world—"

"Oh—as worse as that is it? Heavens—an they let us live!" But she felt a stiffness like a thing that folded down its wings within her.

Praises Ila

"Well—but people like the Moores know how to live. They're tingling. Basil Arthur was there. That fellow's a genius. Inspiring to hear him go to it. And there was a girl friend of Ila's who's just returned from Russia—been all over the world—some talker! And a young fellow's who's been engineering in Alaska since he quit college—all kinds of racy experiences to tell. I never heard so much spontaneous brilliance in my life. It was a treat.

"There was a big editor from some eastern magazine. He's out here on a visit. Interested in Ila."

Faintly: "You mean he's in love with her? They're engaged?"

"Oh, no — he's old — about fifty. I mean he's excited about her poetry. Thinks she has a big future."

"She writes? Oh—I didn't know about that—"

"Well—she hasn't done much with it, yet. She won a prize last week. She's done some good stuff. I only read a couple."

Watching him feverishly, but with a soft, gracious smile: "Gifted, isn't she? And beautiful, too—"

"Yes—and not a trace of conceit. Doesn't seem to think herself at all wonderful. That's rather unusual, isn't it?"

He said all this as though he were talking to his mother or to any dear old lady whose heart has long ceased its storm.

"Why she even asked my opinion as though I were an infallible critic!"

Chickie Pensive

"And aren't you? Why, I thought you and poetry were twins—"

"Well—I like it—that's all."

"So it was all wondrous. I take it?" She spoke with unnatural quiet. This he didn't observe.

"Yes, it was! You begin to stop, look and listen after an evening like that. It makes you want to clip on your spurs—"

And suddenly, with a little gulp at her throat, she laughed. She touched his arm. "Clip on your spurs, Barry, and gallop away with your poor, untutored idiot. Oh—and you would?"

The color died in his cheeks. He looked down. As he did this, she had a queer feeling that he had forgotten her; that he had been talking on in this joyous stimulation as though to his own thoughts. And he was now recalled by her voice to her form next to his.

He said abruptly: "Don't say a thing like that! Why should you?"

She laughed. She ran her fingers along his arm. She said: "Well—and what else? They said, 'Come again and stay longer,' didn't they?"

He shrugged. "Well, naturally—" He had finished his account. He wouldn't add to it.

But when they were dancing and he held her so that she felt his heart thump, she murmured, her lips brushing an instant along his chin: "Barry—look down now. Barry, oh, I feel so—"

"What—"

"That you don't love me—"

"No—that's not it. You're angry that I went, Chickie—"

"Then you're sorry I enjoyed it. You don't want that."

She was silent, knowing this was true.

He went on, moodily. "Why? I can't figure that. It's the first time I've met a crowd like that in years. I'd almost forgotten such people lived. They're the only ones worth while. And you blame me for enjoying them. Don't you?"

No—how can you say it? I don't begrudge you anything—oh anything." Her fingers trembled on his. "You know that, don't you?"

Softened, he drew her: "Yes of course! But why do you feel so then? You're not sorry I like it—but what?"

A faint laugh: "I don't know. Except what you said about going to seed this last year and then clipping on your spurs—oh all that—"

She raised her eyes, moist—shining—smiled. He looked at them a long while. Then he said: "I won't go again, Chickie."

Lightness in her thoughts. The evening glowed.

But that night, kicking off her pumps, she sat motionless on the bed. She remembered the look on his face when he said, "I won't go again."

Another Lecture

And now it troubled her. So quiet his eyes were!

She said suddenly: "But he'd like to go again—oh, he wants that—"

When finally she slept his eyes returned in her dream—then his face. He said: "You begrudge me pleasure! You want to hold me back—" A look of anger straightened the young, impetuous mouth.

She was unhappy until she saw him the next day, until she found him buoyant and careless again. He brought her a book. "Here, frail—read this! Since you will drag me to lectures, let's know what they're about!"

It was "Plato's Republic."

She said dismayed: "Oh—well—well, I don't care if you don't want to go to those lectures. I won't drag you."

But the Tuesday night when they started for Bess Abbot's home she was all on edge. She had read here and there through the book—gathered a few ideas. She felt as though she were at school, going to take some grilling examination. And she would fail—surely.

The lecture never touched on any of the themes she had read. She watched Barry's face—she glanced furtively about the room.

Then she saw Ila Moore, a tranquil understanding like a light in her eyes. She wondered if Ila would come and talk to them afterwards.

Ila's Poem

She did. She seemed to know everything—as much as Basil Arthur—more than Barry. The two of them were soon talking. Chickie listened.

Barry drew her into the conversation—mentioned things he knew she had read. They talked about an hour.

In her heart Chickie thought: "Why should she come and talk to him? She knows I love him—she must know that." A fury of possession roused. She had no right to walk over so calmly, talk so confidentially. Well, there would be no more of these lectures.

But there were. She grew to fear them—then to hate them.

Little groups of three or four remained afterwards. Controversy waxed spirited. Often Barry and Ila Moore were left discussing vividly the points that had arisen.

As they drove home and he would continue animatedly the discussion with Chickie, she grew silent. Often she would put her hand in his: "You love me, Barry?"

One night, taking a paper from his pocket—a card with verses written on it fell to the table—he picked it up quickly—his face red. He drew a long breath.

Finally he said: "Like to hear this, Chickie? What do you think of it?

It was a poem Ila had written.

Chickie said in a strained, hurried voice: "Oh—beautiful—did she send it to you?"

He said quietly: "No—no—she asked me my opinion of this and several others—well—you see—I've read a bit—well—I went out there yesterday and she read them to me—"

Mrs. Ticer Discovers Pass-Key Has Been Stolen

MY mother-in-law, though a martinet in her family, and, as Dicky expresses it, "a wizard in getting her own way," is quick to yield a point gracefully when she faces the traditional stone wall. The fact that Mrs. Ticer was so ingenuously obtuse to her wish to go along with me to The Larches made it impossible for Mother Graham to insist upon the point without hurting our neighbor's feelings, something which none of us would willingly do. So when Mrs. Ticer said that she had plenty of time and would love to go with us, my mother-in-law smiled graciously at her.

"That will be very nice of you, Mrs. Ticer," she said. "But let us hurry. Mrs. Bickett has to take that afternoon train to the city and my daughter-in-law must have consultation with her, before she goes, about her son."

"I'm all ready except putting on my cloak and hat," my neighbor said, "and they're right here. But I wish you had time to look at my fuchsia before you go."

Mother Graham stiffened into attention.

"How many buds has it?" she demanded.

"I don't rightly know," my neighbor hesitated. "I haven't counted them lately."

My mother-in-law snorted.

"You can't take much interest in it," she said. "Now I know every bud and blossom on mine. There were thirty buds and twenty-nine blossoms on it last night when I counted."

"You've got me beat, then," she said. "When I last counted quite a while ago, I had fifty-three buds and blossoms, and I'm sure there haven't any more come on since."

"You don't deserve to have a plant like this," she told Mrs. Ticer, "if you haven't got gumption enough to count the blossoms. Here, Margaret, you come and help me, and do you count, too, Mrs. Ticer. This has more blossoms than mine, I am sure. Indeed, I never in all my life saw one that had more. We'll three of us count them twice and then we'll compare notes."

We counted silently, with faces as intent as though we were settling the question of reparations. Then at my mother-in-law's signal we spoke.

"Fifty-three," Mrs. Ticer said stubbornly.

"You mean sixty-three," my mother-in-law said. "Isn't that what you made, Margaret?"

"Yes, sixty-three," I agreed.

"Well, I certainly congratulate you on your success. But that's a wonderfully sunny window you have there. There's a tree outside mine that takes a lot of sun away."

She had been regal in her acknowledgment, but I saw that she had reached the limit of her graciousness, for in reality she was greatly chagrined at Mrs. Ticer's triumph. I struck in placatingly:

"That tree is bad there, mother, I know. I've often thought of getting rid of it. But I really think we ought not to delay any longer in starting for The Larches."

"I'm ready now," my neighbor said, putting on her hat and catching up her coat as she spoke, and in another minute we were out of the house and climbing into the car.

But we had only just gone through the gate when my neighbor cried out in chagrin.

"Well, if I ain't a fine one!" she said. "I've come off without the key. Don't turn the car. I can run back for it in a jiffy."

But it was several minutes, during which Mother Graham fairly raged with impatience before she returned with panic-stricken eyes and whitened face.

"The key's gone from where I've always put it, and I can't find it anywhere. It's been stolen!"

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Why They Re-Marry

IT is quite the smart thing, now, to re-marry your ex-wife or your old, last-year's husband. Just as if is the fashion to take your grandmother's chairs down from the attic and put them in the livingroom.

* * *

This companionate divorce has a great deal more to recommend it than companionate marriage, and those states which require a probationary period between the granting of the first decree and the final release are truly beneficent.

* * *

At the end of that time, you are probably disillusioned and angry with somebody else, and beginning to think almost tenderly of each other.

* * *

There is nothing like the torment of a new shoe or a new love, to make an old one seem comfortable and desirable.

* * *

Every time your new Sheik is 20 minutes late, you remember wistfully how your ex-husband always put his key into the latch promptly at 6:15.

* * *

Every time you spend twenty dollars for orchids and taxis on your new flame, you think passionately of how your ex-wife cleaned your cravats in gasoline and always insisted on taking a street car to save your money.

* * *

But, oh, how far more wonderful and beneficent would be a law demanding a wait between the granting of the marriage license and the signing of the certificate!

Seeing a man or woman mornings instead of evenings—facing each other across the breakfast table while the baby cries, instead of across a rose-shaped lamp, while the ukulele plays—gives you a totally different light on each other.

* * *

You never really KNOW each other until you have had to share the same bath-sponge, the same newspaper, and the same dollar bill.

* * *

Still, there are other and less desperate methods of sifting the gold of love from the dross.

* * *

If you can watch a girl frying bacon and fighting red ants for a whole week on a summer camping party, and still see the halo around her head, it's REAL love.

* * *

If you can sit through four hours, under a boiling sun, in a stalled motor-boat, and still find each other interesting—

* * *

If you can spend seven evenings a week together and still be eager for the next meeting—

* * *

If you can teach a woman to drive a car, or help her mend a punctured tire in the rain, without wanting to murder her—

* * *

If you can play GOLF together—

* * *

Then you were mated in heaven—and not even marriage here on earth can separate you!

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Two Guests Of Honor

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. I am going to have a luncheon for 12 guests including two guests of honor, engaged girls. How shall I seat these two guests of honor without offending either? My table is oval.

2. Is it proper to have candles on a luncheon table and a crepe paper centerpiece with corresponding nut cups?

E. K.

SEAT the guests of honor next to you, one on the right and one on the left. If one is, perhaps, a bit older than the other, seat the older one on your right. Or, if you wish to give the more honored seat on your right to the one whom you have known longer, this will be correct. As a matter of fact, since you are honoring both, neither one will. I am sure, see any distinction between them as to seating arrangement.

2. It is better form not to have candles on a luncheon table. However, sometimes, when there is otherwise not enough light, we do use candles. But they should not be used for the luncheon table if we can avoid it.

Instead of a crepe paper centerpiece it is better taste to use a glass or silver or pottery bowl to hold the floral centerpiece. And use silver or glass nut cups.

The Widow's Formal Name

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Will you please let me know whether I am right? Doesn't a married woman retain the name of her husband as long as she lives? If her name is Mrs. John King before her husband's death, isn't that her name after his death? So many people use their first names and I maintain that it is incorrect.

D. M.

YOU are right. Correctly a widow retains her husband's name, and if she is Mrs. John King before his death, she is Mrs. John King after his death. And, for instance, this is the correct form for her visiting cards, which are the test of correct formality.

I agree with you that it is unattractive for a widow to use her first name after her husband's death; that is, of course, for formal uses. Such as signing a hotel register. Again here she uses her formal name, Mrs. John King.

An Ungracious Attitude

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

One of the members of the bridge club was ill and unable to attend and a substitute was invited to take her place. The substitute won high prize, and this raised the argument as to who should have the prize, the substitute or the member of the club having high score. A vote was taken and the prize was given to the member of the club having high score. Was this correct? M. G.

SINCE the substitute was gracious enough to accommodate her friend and the club by being a substitute, and since she won the prize, it seems to me the way of graciousness and fairness that she should have been given the prize. She won it—why shouldn't she have it? I should think that she would feel that the club had been ungracious to her. I can't see why the club members allowed the question to come up at all, and I do hope that the woman who was substituting was not present when this unfriendly vote was taken.

Esperanto

IT IS an idle fantasy, perhaps,
To think at last all languages will fuse,
And after many long decades elapse,
Mankind may have a common tongue to use.
Too long has speech made sharp divisions here,
And parted heart from heart and hand from hand;
The words which should have made thought crystal clear,
Instead, have raised a barrier round each land.
Yet from the first one language has been free
Of bleak futility that marks the rest,
Throughout the world it knows no boundary,
Asks no interpreter, but is possessed
By all who worthy of its blessings prove:
It is the universal speech of love!

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Infantile Paralysis

CHILDREN go through many troubles before they grow to maturity. Many diseases bring misery to them. One of the worst of these is infantile paralysis, or, as the doctors call it, "poliomyelitis."

DR. COPELAND

Fortunately few children are susceptible to this disease. More than three-fourths of the cases are met in the first two or three years of life. It may come at any age, even to grown-ups, but as I have said, most children are immune.

It is really a terrible disease. The paralysis leaves too many of the little ones crippled for life.

The attack comes without warning. The child is taken suddenly with vomiting, fever, headache and extreme prostration. After these acute symptoms have abated the paralysis is discovered. The damage is likely to affect the lower extremities. One leg or both may be involved.

There are several types of infantile paralysis. One is of the brain type. The latter is the more common form.

A child with this disease should be isolated. This is done for safety's sake, even though there is doubt that it may be transmitted to others. All the body excretions, including secretions from nose and mouth, should be burned.

At first, in the progress of the disease there is complete paralysis, and motion is not possible. After a few weeks or months the muscles grow stronger, but whatever paralysis is left after this time is apt to remain permanently. There is a withering of the limb and it grows smaller. Walking is very difficult.

There are some things which are helpful in regaining muscle control. Massage, electricity, baths, sprays and other stimulating applications are helpful in removing the effects of infantile paralysis.

Many children are crippled every year by this malady. But there is always a bright spot in every picture. I was reading the other day of work being carried on by the Board of Education of New York City to help crippled children at home. Many of these lame children in the city are helped in a most practical and tender way by being provided with special educational facilities. When necessary they are carried to school, where they are under special supervision for their physical defects and given instruction too.

Even more striking is the fact that teachers are sent into the homes of the crippled, where their infirmities make it impossible for them to be taken to school. More money is needed for more teachers. The public should be willing to help in this work, which was taken over by the Board of Education after the last epidemic of poliomyelitis. At that time in New York some 500 children were left "home-bound" by this disease. What a wonderful work this is for the crippled children of the city.

It has been thought by some investigators that this disease has been carried through contaminated milk. If this be true, then it behooves every parent to see that their children are provided with pure, clean milk. The extra expense of the best milk may be taken from some of the luxuries if necessary, but the children should have only the best milk and the best food possible. Clean milk, good food, clean surroundings, plenty of fresh air and sunshine will help to rout the forces of disease. Every child is entitled to these.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

SKINNY gals should take cod liver oil. They should drink milk, plenty of it. The day should start off with the consumption of a bowl of cereal, rich with sugar and cream. Being slender is one condition, being scrawny is something else again, not so nice. The healthy, beautiful body needs a padding of adipose tissue to provide a storage place for reserve energy and to produce graceful lines.

WOMEN with thin feet are more likely to have blisters than those ladies whose little mouses are plump. Especially at the heels. If the feet are particularly rebellious against heavy shoes, the counters at the rear can be removed. Shoes that are too large and slip continually will do almost as much damage as those that are too snug, packed too full of feet, as it were.

CLEANLINESS, neatness and order belong to this efficient, modern life of ours. Order helps a woman to do her work more quickly, and it has a better effect on the mind than scattered, unsystematized effort. In the matter of dress and appearance, neatness and order are essential. The applicant for the job is looked over with a seeing eye, which notes if hair is tidy, fingernails shining, clothes spick and span.

FOR general everyday use, for the purpose of keeping the skin smooth, to clear away atmospheric dust, to allay smarting and burning caused by wind and sun, the cold cream jar is the good ole fren'. Disappearing creams are designed as foundations for powder and other makeup. They aren't lapped up eagerly by the pores as are the oily types. Vanishing creams now come in flesh and tan tones.

WHEN selecting a perfume don't sniff too many samples. If you do, your nose will suffer from aromatic confusion and won't know what it likes, or what it doesn't like. Some scents are fragrant; others are merely odoriferous. You must watch out. A good grade of jassmine or jonquil is usually delicate and refreshing. The perfumes with catchy titles are all bouquets, blends of florettes aromas. Beware of overpowering synthetic scents; they wander round and yet always stay home.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, April 18.

THE sidereal operations for this day assist to excellent opportunities for forging ahead to very high achievement in employment, as well as in the launching of new projects. All affairs should be pushed to the desired goals, with assistance of those in powerful places assured by way of personal as well as business preferment. But it might be well to be careful in signing all writings and to preserve harmony in domestic, social and affectional relations.

Those whose birthday it is may plan for a year of excellent opportunities in employment and in all sorts of new undertakings. They may seek promotion, preferment and the assistance of those in places of power and authority, but it is advisable to be careful in the signing of all contracts and writings. Also shun friction and inharmony in the personal relations.

A child born on this day should be excellently talented and endowed for success and progress in life, with assurance of personal popularity and good social position.

PIRATE ROSTER REDUCED

SPORT COMMENT

WORK OF NEW PIRATE ENCOURAGING

IF there is one detail of the Pirates' activities that is being watched more closely than any other in the early games of the season, it is the work of Gus Suhr, the new first baseman.

Gus Suhr

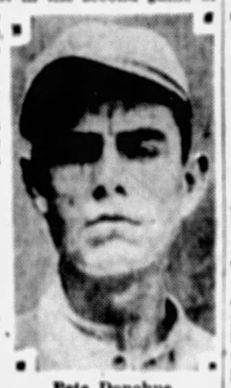
The Bucs' chances of getting anywhere this year are going to depend largely upon how the Coast recruit shapes up, and local fans accordingly are paying particular attention to the manner in which he acquits himself in his first appearance in fast company. What they have seen thus far has been very gratifying and encouraging. Even in yesterday's defeat, Suhr's showing stood out as a consoling feature, as he turned in two hits, one of which was a double, and scored Pittsburgh's only run, besides playing a smooth game in the field. It was his two-base smash in the ninth inning that opened the way for the tally that saved the Rovers from a shut-out. In his first two big-league games Suhr made four hits in nine times at bat for an average of .444.

OF course, it is still much too early to get any definite line on the club's only new regular. What a player does in his first few contests is not to be taken as an indication of what he will do later. Besides, a newcomer has an advantage for a time, as the pitchers do not know his weaknesses, if he has any, and must throw to him blindly. It takes weeks and weeks to prove a case of that sort one way or the other.

With due allowance for all this, however, it must be said that Suhr's start has been of a nature to give Pirate rooters plenty of ground for hope. It is not to be expected that he will continue to hit at any such gait as .444, or even approach the high average of .381 that he made in the Coast league last year. But he is starting out in a way to confirm the testimony of his minor league record that he is a real hitter, and in a general sense his work has been fully up to the fondest expectations.

NO sooner had one old Pittsburgh pitching jinx gone down than another came to life again. Following the routing of Red Lucas in Tuesday's opener, Pete Donohue stepped out in the second game of the season at Cincinnati yesterday with a slab performance that was a disagreeable reminder of the way he was wont to handle the Picaroons a few years ago.

For Donohue once was almost as much of a pest to the Pirates as Lucas has been in recent seasons. Next to the Phillies, whom he could beat with his eyes shut, Pete was particularly effective against the locals for a time.



Pete Donohue

DURING the last three years conditions have been different, due possibly to the fact that Donohue was having trouble with his pitching arm. He won twice, lost twice and was lifted once against the Bucs in 1927, was lifted from the only game he started against them in 1928, and last year won once, lost once and was lifted once. But judging from yesterday's result he will have to be reckoned with again. He was reached for 10 hits, three more than Brame yielded to the Reds, but when the bases were occupied he was as affective as ever.

DONOHUE'S good start for 1930 may mean the end of a long slump caused by arm trouble and a come-back on the part of a pitcher who formerly ranked among the stars of the big leagues. The extent of Pete's falling-off is shown by the fact that whereas in his first six years with the Reds he won 103 games against only 67 lost, in his last three seasons he won only 23 games against 40 defeats.

Mention of the seeming ease with which Donohue defeated the Phillies a few years ago recalls a remarkable record made by him against that club. Starting in 1921, Pete won no fewer than 20 straight games from the Quakers before they broke his streak by defeating him 5 to 4 on August 19, 1925.

IT was not the fault of Ervin Brame by any means that the Buccaneers failed to follow up their opening-day success with another victory yesterday. The big right-hander pitched fine ball throughout and only two runs should have been scored against him.

There need be no tears for the welfare of the Corsairs if they continue to get that kind of pitching, particularly in view of the fact that they are starting out in promising style on the offensive. Fred Brickell, who went hitless yesterday, was the only regular failing to hit safely in both of the first two games. Paul Waner set the pace by making five hits in five straight times at bat.

Andy Bednar

THE release of Pitcher Andy Bednar to the Wichita Western League club is merely a step to give the youngster more seasoning, a plan on the part of the Pirate management that was announced in the Sun-Telegraph three weeks ago. Only 20 years old and with his experience limited to an engagement in the Class D Nebraska State League, Bednar naturally is not quite ripe for the majors. The further schooling that he will get in his advance to the Class A Western League will do much to develop him. Bednar goes with a stout string attached, of course, and he is certain to return to the Bucs before the close of the season. Experience and polish are all that he requires. He is one of the best prospects the Pittsburgh club has picked up in several years and looks all over like a future star.

BASEBALL deals turn out queerly sometimes. John McGraw was in such sore need of an outfielder last week that in order to get Walter Roettger from the St. Louis Nationals he gave them not only his best extra infielder in the person of Eddie Farrell, but threw in George Fisher, a fly-chaser whom he evidently did not value very highly.

Farrell was looked upon as the actual price paid for Roettger. Fisher was considered merely "good measure." One news dispatch announcing the deal did not go so far as to mention Fisher's name, stating merely that Roettger had been traded "for Farrell and another player."

BUT note the developments. For the first two days, at least, Fisher holds the distinction of being the most sensational batter in the

FLAG FOR BUCS IS HOPE OF BURLEIGH

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Seeing a sure pennant in the 20 or more games he would win on their behalf, the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals already have made overtures to the Boston club for Burleigh Grimes. Both offers were bona fide. Both were refused.

Burleigh Grimes

These statements were fired point blank at the writer today, and the man who vouchsafed them may be designated as one who is in a position to speak with authority on the subject. His name is Grimes. He added that the Cardinals offered two players and the Cubs three, each proposal having a supplemental money inducement. This wasn't haircut money, it seems, but nevertheless the Boston club was looking pensively out the window.

Both the Cubs and Cardinals are ranking contenders, yet Grimes showed no regret that fate had cast him for a role whose prospects were all too dubious. In fact, he professed to hold no resentment for anybody, not even those who last week arranged a trade whereby he went from a possible pennant winner, the Pirates, to a probable tailender, the Braves.

HOPES BUCS WILL WIN

Paraphrasing old Uncle Tom, he dismissed the incident lightly.

"They can sell my body," said he, "but my career belongs to Burleigh Grimes. They can't take that away from me. I'll be pitching baseball when some of the men they trade me for, and even perhaps some of the men who trade me, are gone."

Grimes makes quite a point of philosophy and tolerance. He wants the Pirates to win the pennant, if the Braves can't. He wants Percy Lee Jones, the man who figured with him in the recent trade, to win 25 games this year. Yet, deep down, there must be a feeling of pained incredulity toward the series of asinine deals in which he has figured.

The Pirates were satisfied to take Jones, an indifferent left-hander, and Grimes, no doubt feeling a bit defensive about the matter, attempts to explain it thus:

That Jewel Ens, the new Pirate manager, feared to keep Grimes more than he feared to let him go; that Dreyfuss threatened to reduce his original offer unless Grimes signed promptly at the terms presented, a threat he found so intolerable that he says he asked to be traded.

NO ANIMOSTITY

However, if anybody in baseball feels the slightest animosity for Grimes, he is pleased to reply that he himself feels none. McGraw? It was a real pleasure to work for him. Donie Bush? The greatest guy in the world. Dreyfuss? To Grimes, he is "Mr. Dreyfuss." It seems, and the inference is that their relationship was at least a respectul one. Robbie? They don't speak, but this, says Grimes, is just an incident.

"We all need each other in this game," was his valedictory and not a bad one.

Smarter men have said dumber things than this.

The members of the Islam Grotto bowling league will hold their annual banquet at the Keystone Athletic Club next Wednesday night. This loop includes 180 players, composing 20 five-man teams.

Nick Altrock Says:

BOSTON, April 17.—The ball season has got away to a nice start. The umpires are already calling 'em wrong in mid-season form. There ain't so many peanuts in a bag for a nickel and Babe Ruth's charley horse turned out to be a colt. Attendance is very good except here in Boston. They have been looking at their teams in the cellar so long the Boston fans are all round-shouldered. There is plenty of heavy hitting all around both circuits. It looks like the magnates have picked the rabbit ball out of the hat again and I predict April showers for lots of pitchers.

BEDNAR LEAVES BUCS TO JOIN WICHITA

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

CINCINNATI, April 17.—A noticeable decrease in the big Pirate squad started to take place today with the departure for Wichita of Andy Bednar, rookie pitcher. Tomorrow night three more recruits, Martin Lang and Bernard Walter, pitchers, and Foy Frazier, outfielder, will shove off for Pittsburgh, where they will await further their sailing orders. The three rookies are likely to be farmed out within the next 10 days. Scout Chick Fraser will accompany them to Pittsburgh.

Parson Lang is a promising southpaw who might be able to win the majors right now, but Skipper Ens has four other left-handers in Petty, French, Erickson and Jones, so that he must cut away at least two. Bernard Walter never has had previous professional experience, yet if he is farmed out he probably will carry a Pittsburgh card.

Outfielder Foy Frazier has many of the markings of a big-timer, but there is no room for this southpaw ball hawk at the present time. He seems to be ready for class AA baseball.

Bednar's fine showing in spring training has resulted in a promotion from class D to class A in one jump. Andy has more stuff than a lot of major-leaguers and he also owns fine control, but he is lacking in experience and should profit by the work he doubtless will get with Wichita.

The Pirates dropped the second game of the season to the Reds yesterday, Pete Donohue forcing

BUCKEYES HERE SATURDAY

By JESS CARVER

Maybe Ohio State isn't going to beat Pitt so tragically bad in the dual meet in the Stadium Saturday after all. The Buckeyes are goin' to win, little doubt of that, but unless they show a great deal more strength in the field events than they did Monday against Ohio Wesleyan, the noble Panthers, by shaking up a little pep in those events themselves, ought to be able to keep within hailing distance of the Bucks.

Ohio State's marks in the shot put, pole vault, high jump and discus against the Methodists will never be records anywhere. Schmid hurled the discus 125 feet 9 inches. Mantz pole vaulted 11 feet—and won. Ferrall heaved the shot 37 feet and Telbinger cleared 5 feet 11 inches in the high jump.

If Messrs. Cohen, Lamphear, Goodwin, Utterback and Bowen and Knoblock can turn in the performances of which they are capable, they can win for themselves an even break with the Bucks, and have only the superiority of the Staters on the track to hold down.

WHAT'S ALL THIS?

According to the list of entries turned in by Pitt for the meet, Pete Bowen, captain of the Panther trackmen, is to run in only one event, competing in his specialty, the 440-yard chase. If this plan holds good, it will mean that the promised duel between Pete and the famous George Simpson, world dash champion, will be pitched out of the window and THE feature of the meet lost.

There must be some mistake, however, for on the Ohio State lists, Freddie Strother's name is not included among those who will start in the quarter, which is his specialty, but he is listed along with Simpson, Richards and Bruce in the dashes, both the 100 and 220.

It is a pretty safe bet that Bowen will be lined up along side of George in the century, and that he will have to beat Strother in the quarter. Pete may also attempt the half-mile, a race he has recently taken up and found to his liking.

BEDNAR SENT TO WICHITA

By Staff Correspondent.

CINCINNATI, April 17.—Andy Bednar, star righthand rookie pitcher of the Pirate squad, today was on his way to Wichita, of the Western League, where he will work under a tight Pirate string. Andy has been sent to the Class A team under an option. It is quite a promotion for the Class D coal miner who made such a big impression in the training season.

Manager Ens announced this morning that three other rookies in charge of Coach Chic Fraser would leave for Pittsburgh tomorrow night. They are Martin Lang and Bernard Walter, pitchers, and Foy Frazier, outfielder. The trio will be placed later. Meantime they will work out at Forbes Field.

Ens this morning instructed Pitcher Heinie Meine to go to St. Louis to rest up for the series with the Cardinals which begins Saturday. Meine's home is in St. Louis.

The little Czecho-Slovak expert, who holds the world professional championship, readily accepted the American champion's good-natured challenge to an impromptu match, but found himself unable to cope with the brilliant play of Big Bill, who was at his best.

RAIN, COLD HAND FIRST BLOW TO MAJORS

WEATHER WIPES FIVE GAMES FROM CARD

Associated Press

Old man weather, who has a habit of disrupting early season schedules and causing baseball magnates to mutter dark threats of delaying the start of the next season, has delivered his first severe blow of the baseball year.

Mr. Weather, in the form of rain and cold, wiped off five games from yesterday's major league program, leaving only two contests in the National League and one in the American. And the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians still are trying to stage their opening at Chicago, hopeful of getting it done today before the Indians have to move on.

It might have been better for the National League champions, the Chicago Cubs, if the rainy area had extended as far as St. Louis. Playing their second game there, the Cubs took a 13-to-3 beating from the rampant Cardinals. Starting in the first inning, the Cards collected 20 hits, six of them doubles and one a home run by Jim Bottomley. George Fisher, young slugger recently obtained from the New York Giants, led the parade with four hits, giving him a record of eight blows in nine times at bat for the first two games.

The other National League game gave the Reds an even break in two games against the Pirates with a 3-to-1 triumph for Cincinnati.

In the American League, Washington's Senators became the first team to win two games by nosing out the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 4, on the strength of two home runs in the early innings. Sam West, the first man up, got one, then Ossie Bluege cracked out another with two on base. After the third inning, Milton Gaston gave the Senators only two hits, but Bump Hadley kept the Sox in check by allowing them only six altogether.

Gar Wood Abandons Miami Speed Test

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 17.—(AP.)—Gar Wood yesterday abandoned his plans to attempt a speedboat record of 100 miles an hour with his America VIII and announced that he would ship the boat to his home in Detroit Saturday. His assault upon his present record of 93.123 miles an hour will be made within a month, he said.

The racing enthusiast sent Miss America VIII over a marked course in Indian Creek at an unofficial average of 96.25 miles an hour. Illness of Odis Parker, official A. A. A. timer, at Fort Lauderdale, prevented his attending the speed trials.

Enterprise to Get Tallest Mast Ever Carried

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP.)—The tallest single spar ever carried by a sailing vessel was shipped yesterday to the Enterprise, a candidate for the defense of the America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V. The huge mast towers 168 feet above the deck, completely dwarfing the hull.

An elliptical hollow spar built up of nearly 200 strips of Alaskan spruce, glued together, the mast weighs 5,000 pounds. With the mast stepped, it is expected that the Enterprise will get its first test under its 7,583 square feet of sail next week.

Geneva, W. Virginia Meet Postponed

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., April 17.—Rain that fell throughout the night and early this morning forced the athletic committee at Geneva College to postpone the annual track meet scheduled with West Virginia, booked for today, until Saturday.

The steady downpour rendered the cinder path a regular canal.

HYATT HURT, TEAM BOWS

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 17.—Uniontown mixed up for Charley Hyatt's All-Stars and trimmed them, 55-51, here last night. It was fortunate for Uniontown that Hyatt turned an ankle in the first few minutes of the second quarter. He had to be helped from the floor. The lineup:

Uniontown—55.		Hyatt—51.

Don't deny yourself the luxury of Camels

REAL SMOKE LUXURY, that costs no more! The fullest, most satisfying smoke-delight ever put into a cigarette—and at the usual cigarette price! Why be content with less, when you can have the ultimate smoking pleasure in Camels?

Camel luxury starts with the tobaccos—the choicest Turkish and Domestic leaf that can be selected. All the mild, mellow, natural goodness of these tobaccos is preserved and retained in the exclusive Camel blend—a harmony of fragrance beyond imitation. And the most modern and scientific manufacturing processes complete the assurance of luxury in Camels.

Treat yourself to real cigarette enjoyment!

DORMONT BUILDS STRONG WEST PENN NINE

SOUTH HILLS FANS TO GET REAL CLUB

By TOM BIRKS.

The makeup of the Dormont Club, of the West Penn League, while not announced officially by the club, will compare favorably with any team South Hills fans have supported during the last few years.

A number of players have been approached and it appears the personnel of the Pitcairn railroad club is to be wearing the colors of Dormont in the West Penn, representing Youngstown in Sunday games.

Leo Carroll and Stauffer will bear the brunt of the pitching and Kress may be the first-string catcher. Dick Goldberg will be on first base, Frey will be at the keystone sack, Harry Giesler will cover the short field, and Ollie Carnegie is to play center field, with Lefty Hughes and Joe Lauth playing the other pastures.

When in Youngstown Frank Mills will be in charge. Fitch will be playing at third base and Demont in left field. It looks good on paper—this retrenchment program must be a great thing.

In all, it appears to be a better ball club than George Falconer ever had, and it could compete with any club ever banded on local sandlots.

Officials of Dormont insist a high-paid ball club is out of the question and that many high school boys will be used, but indications show no positions open for these youngsters. It would be hard for a lad to break into the above lineup. It is possible, but highly improbable.

VOLLEYBALL DRAW MADE

Seventeen teams will compete for the tristate district scholastic volleyball championship in the one-day tourney to be staged here Saturday afternoon. Preliminary rounds will be contested at the Downtown Y. M. C. A., Fifth Avenue High School and the Irene Kaufmann Settlement. The finals will be staged at the Y. M. C. A.

All teams drew byes in the first round. The draw and schedule follows:

UPPER BRACKET
First Round.
All teams drew bye into second round.
Second Round.
Carrick vs. Bridgeville at Downtown Y. M. C. A. at 9 a. m.
Allegheny vs. Foxo City at Fifth Avenue High, 9 a. m.
Westinghouse vs. Clairton at I. K. S., 10 a. m.
Rayen vs. Schenley No. 2 at Fifth Avenue High, 11 a. m.

LOWER BRACKET.
First Round.
South Hills vs. Herron Hill at I. K. S., 9 a. m.
All others drew bye.
Second Round.
Oliver vs. Dormont at Fifth Avenue High, 10 a. m.
Schenley No. 1 vs. Burgettstown at I. K. S., 11 a. m.
Fifth Avenue vs. Mckeesport at Downtown Y. M. C. A., 12 noon.
Allderdice vs. South Hills-Herron Hill winner at I. K. S., 12 noon.

them to hit into double plays when victory was at stake. The score was 3 to 1. Pete caused P. Waner to hit into two of these. Brother Paul opened with a single that made it five hits in a row for the star, but Donohue had his number thereafter.

Ervin Brame outpitched Pete in some respects. The tall Kentuckian was stingy with his hits, but he had little chance to win in view of Pete's fine performance. Curt Walker featured the game with a homer into the rightfield bleachers.

READING SELLS NICOLAI

This col'm APPEARS in the GEORGE ADE fashion today just to be DIFFERENT.....Opening of the SCHENLEY Park free links YESTERDAY reminds us that you ALWAYS can tell a big LEAGUE baseball club by its TRAVELING equipment.....The BAGGAGE includes more GOLF bags than the field in a NATIONAL open tourney.....Loudoun Campbell, former LOCAL boxer, for whom a TESTIMONIAL boxing and VAUDEVILLE show is to be HELD in the MOOSE Temple Saturday night, FOUGHT most of the GOOD ones of his TIME, first as an AMATEUR and then as a PROFESSIONAL.....The names of Charles Lovell, Charles HEATHCOTE, Pat Reardon, Joe QUINN, Joe Leonard and Jake METZ, amateurs, dot his record, as well as those of Jimmy DIME, Tommy Hogan, John COATES, Eddie Santry, Joe BERNSTEIN, Charles Knox, Spider KELLY, Mike Farragher, Mike LEONARD, Jimmy Reeder, Larry BROWN, Danny McBride, Art SIMMS and Sam Bolen, pros.....Not to mention HIS two sparrings with TERRIBLE Terry McGovern.....He ONCE boxed a 30-ROUND draw with Eugene BEZENAH, at Bridgeport, O., for WHICH he received $6 in COLD cash.....The rendition of THAT OLD GANG OF MINE by a vocal CHORUS will be one of the FEATURES of the testimonial AFFAIR.....What HAS become of that SPORTS arena that Benny LEONARD and his BACKERS were going to BUILD in Pittsburgh to house his HOCKEY club?.....And what is the BETTING that the hockey TEAM even will be WITH us next winter?.....The LIMIT in trick DECISIONS in boxing evidently HAS not been REACHED, since the New YORK commission has DECIDED that in the FUTURE any boxer WHO fouls must have the ROUND in which HE hits low charged AGAINST him.....Imagine a BOXER knocking down his opponent in ALMOST every round AND having the bell SAVE him several TIMES losing the verdict BECAUSE his sense of DIRECTION is bad.....The PRESENT rule that the BOXER who loses the most ROUNDS in a fight, regardless of HOW narrowly he is OUTPOINTED in them, while he MAY win his own ROUNDS by city blocks, CAN not win is BAD enough, but WATCH the judges AND referees kick 'EM around now.....Ted Goodrich, of ATLANTA, is a great KNOCKOUT fighter in his HOME town, but NOT so hot away FROM home, as his DEFEAT of TOMMY Rios, of MEXICO, in Chicago THE other night attests.....He BOXES Sergt. Sammy BAKER at Atlanta next TUESDAY night and MAY win that ONE on his OWN stamping grounds, although SAMMY is a tough GUY to beat.....Now that the SEASON is under way, the only THING the St. Louis CARDINALS have to worry ABOUT is the selection of THEIR new manager by the FOURTH of July.—HARRY KECK.

Cincy's Double Plays Too Much for Bucs

KELLY — UMPIRE CLARKE — P. WANER

Although the Pirates outhit the Reds, 10 to 7, and Ervin Brame outpitched Pete Donohue, Cincinnati's epidemic of double plays in the Bucs-Reds' second game at Cincinnati yesterday defeated the Corsairs, 3-1—and this picture shows one of 'em. Paul Waner is being thrown out at first in the third inning, having grounded into a double play following Boots Grantham's single to center field. Waner bounced into a double play again in the sixth frame, Critz to Ford to Kelly.

The Lowdown On the Pirates

By The Benchwarmer

CINCINNATI, April 17.—Well, folks, it's too soon to begin crying over the close ones—you know, them kind of defeats that give you a headache. Yesterday's was one of them games, but after we all got in the clubhouse, Jewel said it was just one of those things and not to worry about it. He told us that we had some good breaks on opening day and they had them yesterday.

CRITZ TALKS TO IT

I've heard a lot about the way Critz and Ford handle that ball on double plays, but I didn't believe it all till I saw them reel off those dizzy ones against the Pirates. I think Hughey Critz talks to the ball after it leaves the bat, and when it gets to him it jumps up at him like a dog jumping up to its master. He's faster than Thurston with his hands and the guy on the other side of the bag is as smooth as a pickpocket.

I didn't want to crack wise to Jewel and the gang, but I feel like saying the best way to break up that double play combination is to hit grounders to Cuccinello or Kelly. I wish you could have seen the flock of telegrams Steve Swetonic got after the first game. They was still coming in this morning. Steve must have a lot of friends. Maybe my roommate, Larry French, will be getting some this evening, for Larry is all set to pitch today. All the rookies are pulling for Larry to have a big year, because he's just a kid himself and he's been showing us a good time.

DO VIA "STAR" METHOD

Jewel got a letter today from some nut that tells him how to win his games. It shows how to cop them by the "astral" method.

Steve Swetonic is a college guy and he said it was something about the stars. The gink sent Jewel a big chart that looked like a blueprint. The boss couldn't make it out, so he hung it up in the clubhouse and told us lefthanders to go to work on it. The whole thing was as clear as mud to me so I told Jewel I'd stick to the crossroad puzzles for amusement.

Jewel said something about me being a crossroad puzzle myself, and I let him get away with it on account of us losin' the game.

Crandall to Stage Big Turtle Race Next Month

From present indications a field of 300 turtles will face the starter's whistle in the turtle racing meet to be held Friday and Saturday evenings, May 30 and 31, at Duquesne Garden. Allegheny Valley towns have entered 32 turtles to vie with those owned by Pittsburghers.

A feature of the seven-race program will be a special match race for turtles of 15 pounds or over. Town Hall, the big Oklahoma turtle, likely will go to the post the favorite in this event.

Those owning their own turtles may enter them in the races by writing Frank G. Leighton, racing secretary, care Duquesne Garden. There is no entry fee. A downtown headquarters to handle the advance seat sale and exhibit the turtles will be opened May 1, according to an announcement made by Promoter Milton D. Crandall.

MEDILL BEATS ROSE

CINCINNATI, April 17. — (AP.) — Joe Medill, welterweight, Chicago, pounded out a 10-round decision over Billy Rose, Cincinnati, here last night. Al Gahan, lightweight, Columbus, knocked out Jimmy Sandone, Cincinnati, in the fifth round.

DAVIE CLARKE,

Castle Shannopin Golf Club.

One of the veteran Western Pennsylvania professionals is Davie Clarke, pro at the Castle Shannon Golf Club. Clarke hails from Montrose, Scotland, the same place Harry Hampton and Eddie Towns caroused when they were youngsters. A good bit of Davie's life, like that of the good Captain Vernon A. Smith, of the New Castle Field Club, was spent in the foreign wars under the great flag of his country. He first fought in the Boer war, and then spent six and a half years soldiering in India, returning to Scotland, where he took up the game seriously. He came to the United States as assistant pro to his brother, Norman Clarke, who was pro at Westmoreland for eight years, back in 1911. Next he became assistant pro to Fred Brand at the Butler Country Club. He served later as professional at Stanton Heights, leaving there to take up his duties at Castle Shannon, where he has been located for the last four years. He's hitting them fine this year—and you should see how far a little guy like Clarke—he's just a short chap—can hit 'em.—VERN SWARTSFAGER.

two big leagues. He made four hits in each of the first two games, or eight safeties in his first nine times at bat for the huge average of .889.

And meanwhile Roettger did nothing in the only game he played for the Giants. But of course, that's only the beginning and tells nothing. A few more games may put an entirely different complexion upon things. In spite of his flashy start, there are many baseball men who doubt Fisher's ability to make good in the big show. He hit .336 in 150 games for Buffalo last year but is said to be lacking in other respects.

Earl Sande

IN his attempted come-back at the Havre De Grace spring meeting, Earl Sande, former king of jockeys, has not yet been able to do better than finish third, which he did while piloting. On Her Toes in the fifth race, the Hartford handicap, yesterday, but at that his riding is reported to have been well nigh faultless. Sande himself is said to feel greatly encouraged. He has every confidence in his riding skill and the only thing that bothers him is the matter of weight. Yesterday he rode at 115 pounds, half a pound below his figure of Monday. He wants to take off more, but plans to do it by easy stages and will avoid reducing to a point that might injure his health. The one-time premier says that if he can get down to 110 or 112 pounds without any severe strain he will take out a license and ride in New York.

MAX SAILS APRIL 25

NEW YORK, April 17.—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, will arrive here May 3 to start training for his heavyweight fight with Jack Sharkey at Yankee Stadium June 12. Schmeling will sail from Hamburg April 25 on the Hamburg-American steamer New York.

SAWDUST WINS FEATURE RACE AT WHEELING

WHEELING, W. Va., April 17.—Sawdust, Mrs. M. Hunter's filly, stopped the winning streak of San Carlos in the feature race of yesterday's program, the Ohio Allowances, here at the Fair Grounds. The purse of $1,500 carrying added money, brought out the greatest field of sprinters that has faced the barrier during the meeting. Eight horses went to the post. Sawdust was off to an early lead, taking the rail at the barrier and except for a short time when Saturday Night pulled up neck and neck, she was never threatened.

It was a very muddy track, and once on top, even San Carlos, himself a good mudder, could not catch the 4-year-old filly. The winner covered the distance, six furlongs, in 1:18 4-5.

DRY NATION COPS

The other feature race, the Register purse, was won by Dry Nation, a horse figured out of the running. He went to the track, 20 to 1, but when he faced the barrier, the odds had dropped to 3 to 1. He won in a cake walk.

Swift Current was the only long shot to score yesterday, and this 12-to-1 shot came home to win easily in the third race.

Horsemen here at the track will nominate their entries for the Fourth Estate Handicap, with a $2,000 added purse today. This race is carded for Saturday.

BEROSUS CUT DOWN

Berosus was cut down rounding the first turn in the last race and will likely have to be destroyed. Jockey L. Logan was out in front and had to pull his horse off to the side of the track. He was led from the course.

At a private sale, G. J. Jenkins purchased Clarifier Vladimir and The Runt from the Mulerick Stable.

MARTIN, DUNN MATCHED FOR GARDEN BOUT

CLEVER BOSTON FIGHTER TEST FOR JOHNNY

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor

Johnny Dunn, New Kensington featherweight star, is to get his chance to prove his class in a bout just closed for him with clever Andy Martin, of Boston, at Duquesne Garden, next Wednesday night. The show will be the first in the downstairs arena of the Oakland sports plant in years and will be held on the night of the opening game of the Pirates at home, when thousands of fans will be in the city from neighboring towns.

Andy Martin

Dunn earned the bout with his fine work in defeating Heine Hart, of Lancaster, when he subbed for Jackie Rodgers on short notice recently. Rodgers refused to box him after that although it had been understood that Jackie would take on the winner and, when Rodgers subsequently lost to Archie Bell at Motor Square Garden, Dunn refused to box Jackie, over whom he already holds two decisions.

ANDY FAVORITE HERE

Realizing Dunn's position in the limelight the Duquesne Garden Club has been working for more than a week on a match for him and finally corraled Martin, a favorite here as a result of a classic victory over Johnny Datto in the Motor Square ring and a good fight against Johnny Farr at the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock. Andy is regarded as one of the best feathers in the country, and Dunn has a chance to mak himself overnight with a victory over the Bay Stater.

Jackie Wilson, North Side middleweight, will be one of the principals in the eight-round semi-final to this battle, and there will be two six-round preliminaries.

Between Rounds

The benefit show for the widow of little Billy Hatch, the young Negro flyweight who recently died following a bout in McKeesport, will be held tonight with upward of 10 pug-round bouts listed. All of the boxers on the card have offered their services gratis.

Young Nanni and Johnny Haggerty, who always make a great fight against each other, will appear in one of the feature numbers on the benefit program. Promoter Jim McGirr having chosen for this bout yesterday. Other bouts arranged include: Teddy Welch vs. Jackie Murray; Howard Mayberry vs. Andy Tomonko; Little Jackie Wilson vs. George Tomonko; Eddie Carney vs. Eddie Hebert; Casey Hayes vs. Young Johnson; Ray Ryan vs. Jackie Hamilton; Young Heilman vs. Jackie Brannon and Johnny Shackey vs. Frankie Portland.

Mickey McManus, Wheeling manager of boxers, has contributed $5 to the Hatch fund through Promoter McGirr and other contributions also have been received.

The Bobby Young Battling Coley bout is on at the Windsor at the Mount Oliver Friday night of next week. Meanwhile Promoter Flynn has rounded out the bill for his Jackie Rodgers-Marty Gold show tomorrow night. He has Johnny Shacker and Hans Roberts in the semi-final. Andy Shakura and Dan Frazier in the second bout and Frankie Portland and Roger O'Brien in the opener.

Matchmaker Ed Fritz of the New Castle Jolly Rovers has completed his program for the Tony Herrera-Steve Culver show next Monday night with the signing of three six-round preliminaries. Frankie Fry, Johnny Taylor, Jackie Ward meets Jimmy Thomas, of Pittsburgh, and Jackie King opposes Eddie Flick. The show is being run at a $2 top.

Apples Meyers, of the three Meyers Brothers, owners of the Meyers Bowl, at North Braddock, today announced the re-signing of John Buck as matchmaker for the new outdoor season, which gets under way on May 10. Buck was the matchmaker throughout last season, when the Braddock bowl went over in a big way.

Moon Butch, Dan Ash, Marty Gordon and Tony Martino will represent the Allegheny Mountain Association of the A. A. U. in the Middle States championship tournament at Gary, Ind., next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Two of the bouts arranged for the testimonial boxing show and vaudeville entertainment for Loudoun Campbell at the Moose Temple Saturday night will be Ewalt, heavyweights, and Mike Lynch and Howard Tuller, middleweights.

Tiger Joe Randall, Negro welterweight, of Elizabeth, who signed a three-year contract yesterday to go under the management of Benny Bontrack, will be ready soon to resume boxing, his injured foot having responded to treatment.

Dave McConnell, North Side junior welterweight, has been reinstated by the boxing commission after a layoff of seven months following a bout with Jack Zivic in West Virginia. Dave plans to box around here until the middle of June, when he will move to Canada to make his home.

Teddy Welch, veteran lightweight of McKeesport, has renewed his contract with Joe Dobransky, his manager for two years and has another match pending with his old rival, Young Rudy Dobransky. He also has Chuck Reinach, Glassport middleweight, ready for action and open to bout with Jimmy Blaine, Cincinnati light heavyweight, here.

Battling Battalino, the featherweight champion, and Lew Massey, of Philadelphia, box a return bout at the Arena in Philadelphia, May 5. Massey won an unpopular decision in their first meeting.

THE REFEREE AND THE STOP WATCH

A sheriff in down-state Indiana, on being asked how come there was such a ruckus on the occasion of the Fourth of July carnival, replied: "Well, I made a mistake. I gave several of my constables clubs and they did not figure they were earning their money unless they used them."

Knute Rockne

This is just the danger of the present new enforcement rule on the football shift, which suggests giving the referee a stop-watch.

The new rule saying that a shifting team must stop "at least" one second would be sufficient. But giving them a stop-watch will remind some officials that they will have to do some penalizing, whether it is called for or not, in order to satisfy the opposing coach.

Now, who is competent to time one second accurately? No one that I know. I have been head timer at many a Big Ten track meet and in almost every 100-yard dash the timers will vary two-fifths of a second. As all of the watches are synchronized, the error is in the finger of the timer. I timed our shift last year 100 times, and it averaged 1 1-10 seconds.

This new rule ought not to affect Notre Dame in any manner. However, I remember acting as head timer at a high school track meet in a town where they had a local "phenom" in the 100. Three of us were timing. The two local enthusiasts caught their boy in 9 4-5 seconds, while I was almost run out of town because my watch showed 10 2-5 seconds.

All that the coach of any shifting team next fall can ask for is that the referee be fair and not unfriendly. The objections that cropped up against the shift last winter all were under cover and were made by coaches who had lost. There is a rumor that opposition is now not against the momentum of the shift, which doesn't exist, but rather against the success of the shift.

Cubs' "Hospital Ward" Improving

ST. LOUIS, April 17.—(AP.)—Trainer Andy Lotshaw, the big medicine man of the Clubs, was working overtime today.

As the National League champions prepared for their third game today with the Cardinals, Rogers Hornsby was still getting attention because of his sore heel. Firstbaseman Charlie Grimm was getting treated for his cracked rib. Pitcher Sheriff Blake had a twisted knee. Lester Bell was getting rubbed down for his lame salary wing. Catcher Gabby Hartnett had his thumb taped, and some of the pitchers were demanding a lot of attention.

"It looks like a hospital ward, but they're getting better," Lotshaw chirped.

HORSE SHOW JUNE 5-8

Approximately $8,000 in cash prizes and three stake events, two for $750 and one for $500, along with a number of trophies and cups estimated at $2,000, will be put up for award during the annual Sewickley Horse Show, June 5-8, at the Allegheny Country Club, it has been announced.

Lewis E. Waring, New York, and Claude L. Pemberton, Elizabethtown, Ky., will judge saddle horses and ponies; Dr. A. C. Randolph, Bluemont, W. Va., and George B. Elliott, Toronto, will judge hunters and jumpers, while harness horses and ponies will be judged by Mrs. John Gerkin, Brooklyn. Thomas W. Clark, Edgemont, will judge the farm horse class.

Entries will close May 19. Work is progressing on improving the show and stable room at Allegheny.

PRIMO VERDICT MONDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—(INS.)—The State Boxing Commission will make a final decision on the Primo Carnera-Leon Chevalier fiasco at Oakland Monday night at a special meeting here next Monday, it was stated today.

Nothing of major importance developed at the investigation yesterday, although Leon See, Carnera's manager, announced he would not allow his fighter to meet Chevalier in a "charity" bout, as he claimed such an action would indicate that Carnera admitted guilt.

Carnera was awarded the bout in the sixth round by a technical knockout when Bob Perry, one of the seconds, tossed in a towel. The Negro fighter said he was not in distress. Chevalier also accused Perry of threatening him if he didn't "lay down."

Commissioner Charles Traung, at the conclusion of the hearing yesterday, stated he was convinced that Perry had been instructed to toss in the towel.

When Carnera fought Neil Clisby recently at Los Angeles, Perry also was in the Negro's corner, it has been disclosed. It has been charged that Perry, despite being in the corner of the Italian fighter's two opponents in California, has been associated with the Carnera camp.

Asked why he was in the vicinity of Chevalier's corner during the fight, Frank Churchill, Western representative for Carnera, explained that he was looking for a seat. He denied talking to Chevalier's seconds during the bout.

The Boxing Commission is of the opinion that both Carnera and Chevalier did their best during the fight.

W. Va. School Meet May Be Abandoned

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., April 17.—(AP.)—The West Virginia state high school track and field meet, scheduled for Mountaineer Field May 17, may be the last one to be held under the auspices of West Virginia University, it was intimated last night by Director of Athletics H. A. Stansbury. He said plans for future meets were uncertain owing to the proposed action of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Institutions against invitation tournaments and meets.

Qualifying meets for the May 17 tournament here will be held in several cities of the state on May 10.

BARNYARD GOLF CARDED

A horseshoe pitching tournament with 18 contestants already signed up, will be conducted by Coach Elmer Layden, of Duquesne University, next Thursday, on the Bluff. It is an open event. The Duke handball tourney will be resumed next Wednesday.

Fight Results

At Cincinnati—Joe Medill defeated Billy Rose, 10 rounds; Al Gahan knocked out Jimmy Sanzone, 5 rounds.

At Norman, Okla.—Frank Crider knocked out John Naden, 3 rounds.

At New York—Vic Morocco defeated Mickey Doyle, 6 rounds; Eddie Provol defeated Gus Worman, 6 rounds.

At Burlington, Vt.—Johnny Vaces defeated Nick de Salva, 10 rounds.

At San Francisco—Joe Noto won on a foul over Babe Marino, 4 rounds.

Young Ketchel defeated Johnny Roberts, 10 rounds; Huckey Civatte defeated Ray Gadeby, 8 rounds.

MURRAYSVILLE LINKS OPEN MAY 24

By VERN SWARTSFAGER.

The new Murraysville Golf Club, one of the few semi-private links in Western Pennsylvania, will be opened officially for play on Saturday, May 24, according to James Noble, who is directing things at the new layout. It is understood a number of members are playing there now, despite the fact the course is not in very good condition yet. No transients will be permitted to play the course until after the official opening ceremony.

Noble, who is something of a greenkeeper himself, reports progress on the nine holes to be opened this year.

Tee to Green

Myrtle Stearns, popular free links golfer, was the first of the fair sex to tee off at Schenley Park this year. Despite a downpour of rain, she struck a ball 175 yards down mid-fairway after yesterday's opening ceremony.

Folks at the Schenley Park club were startled to learn John Jay Burke, city office manager for the Allegheny County Parks, and Frank Petrolia met with an auto accident shortly after having participated in the opening. Petrolia received a bad gash over his right eye, and Burke was bruised on his forehead.

Andy Petrolia will be back on the job as caddie master again this year, sheik Andy was out of town yesterday and did not attend the opening exhibement.

Dave Broody and Ben Bright, the golf pals, were on hand. Dick Lorbert would have been there, but Dick's ill.

It is interesting to know that John W. Cuff, secretary-treasurer of the Pittsburgh Field Club and Rev. Warren F. Gookin, rector at Trinity Cathedral, Sixth avenue and Grant, have been friends for years, but that Calvin Gookin's father and Cuff were quite pals in their younger days.

James Francis Burke, president of the Fathers and Sons Association of Western Pennsylvania, anticipates one of the most successful tournaments this year since he first succeeded in inaugurating the event.

'STONE FACE' AT OUTDOOR SHOW HERE

One thousand dollars for a smile and $10,000 for a laugh will be paid anyone who will be able to induce George Mechano Stevens, who has achieved international fame as the man with a poker face, to either smile or laugh, at the Pittsburgh Sportsmen and Outdoor Life Exposition, which opens Saturday at Motor Square Garden and continues until April 26, under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Chapter of the Izaak Walton League.

Stevens will be at the show every night from 8 until 10 o'clock. The people in the audience may use whatever methods they think best to produce the smile or the laugh.

Stevens will be one of the features at the show and will share honors with Art Young, who is given credit for having revived the use of the bow and arrow in hunting big game, and Bob Limbert, world champion exhibition pistol shot.

The Allegheny Acquarists' Association will have an exhibit of tropical fish. This will be the finest exhibit of fish ever shown in this city. Included will be specimens of Chinese walking fish, blue fighting fish from Asia, and rainbow fish from Australia. Robert B. Ford, of Homestead, will exhibit his private collection of big game trophies. This is one of the finest collections in America.

The casting pool was completed today. It is 40 feet long and 50 feet wide. Tournaments will be held daily and W. R. (Flying-rod Bill) Cook will give exhibitions of casting. He will also give individual and group instruction in casting.

Stocks Head Up — Local Market Strong

MARKET OPENS REACTIONARY, TURNS UP

Trading Only Moderate As Readjustment for Holidays Takes Place

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP.)—Curious cross currents of prices ran through today's stock market in reflection of the usual pre-holiday readjustment of speculative accounts. The market presented a reactionary appearance during the morning when selling pressure was renewed against the rail and copper shares, but the general trend turned upward in the afternoon with the farm implement and merchandising shares in the forefront of the advance.

Trading was only moderate in volume due to the disinclination of many traders to add to their commitments over the three-day stock exchange holiday.

RATE REDUCED

Call money renewed at 4 per cent with the supply so plentiful and the demand so moderate that the rate was dropped to 3½ per cent, out-of-town banks were reported to have transferred funds here for emporary employment over the Easter holiday.

Renewed weakness of the copper shares was based on rumors that a further cut in the price of the red metal to around 12 cents a pound was likely, although these lacked official confirmation. Granby, Cerro De Pasco, Calumet and Arizona, U. S. Smelting preferred and Inspiration all dropped to new low levels for the year, Anaconda sagged about 2 points.

Selling of the rails was influenced by the poor traffic and earnings statements now being published and the conservative forecasts of some of the railway executives as to summer prospects.

RAILS WEAK

Boston and Maine dropped 5 points, New York and Harlem 4 and Lehigh Valley, Texas and Pacific, Norfolk and Western and Chesapeake and Ohio lost 2 points or more.

American Machine and Foundry scored a spectacular gain of nearly 21 points by touching a new high record at 274½. J. I. Case jumped nearly 10 points to a new high at 319⅛ on rumors of an early stock split-up. Vanadium Steel jumped more than 9 points to a new top above 128. Allied Chemical and Houston Oil each sold 8 points higher. Eastman Kodak, Best & Co., Worthington Pump, Consolidated Gas, Loew's, Diamond Match, Checker Cab, Auburn Auto, Freeport Texas and Western Union were marked up 3 to 5 points the first two touching new high levels for the year. Oliver Farm Equipment, Clark Equipment, Kraft Cheese and Raybestos also reached new high ground.

Retirement of short contracts over the prolonged holiday caused considerable improvement in the last hour, many stocks eclipsing their previous highs for the year. Utilities that had lagged earlier went forward, and the motion picture group, especially Loew's and Fox, made substantial gains. General Electric, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Corn Products advanced materially. Ingersoll Rand rallied 13 points to 220, new high. The close was steady. Sales approximated 3,700,000 shares.

GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, April 17.—Wheat prices underwent a material setback today after a show of firmness at the start. Reports of new rainfalls in the southwest, including Western Kansas, had a bearish effect, despite estimates that 2,000,000 acres of wheat in Kansas have not yet received rain. Starting unchanged to ⅝c higher, wheat afterward dropped below yesterday's finish. Corn and oats yesterday's finish. Corn and oats ¼@c off to ¼c up and subsequently showing a general sag. Provisions tended upward.

Although wheat started firmer owing to a million-dollar purchase by one broker, general selling increased quickly, and the market soon headed downgrade. Adding to the bearish influence of reported fresh rainfalls southwest was word that in parts of Kansas the moisture supply had been greater this season than last year. Norton, Kan., reported 1.91 inches of rain last night, making 3.88 inches since January 1, against 2.65 inches during the same period of 1929.

Announcement that export purchases of North American wheat yesterday totaled 2,000,000 bushels failed to act as a counter-balance for moisture advices. Meanwhile, today's export business appeared relatively small, and Liverpool dispatches were at hand telling of heavy selling there on orders from this side of the Atlantic. The Liverpool market at the finish showed but little response to yesterday's upturns here.

Wall Street Hopeful Of Special Action By U. S. Steel

WALL STREET has never given up hope that some special action favorable to stockholders of the Steel Corporation will develop in good time. For that reason the financial community is disposed to keep a close eye on the annual meeting of the corporation scheduled to be held next Wednesday confident buying of the stock recently in face of a more or less unsettled condition in the general market has tended to give rise to the theory that some such action may be recommended to shareholders at that time. Ever since the ice was broken so to speak several years ago by the payment of a 40 per cent stock dividend, the Street has been looking enviously at the corporation's huge surplus.

Strength in Raybestos Manhattan Corporation coincided with reports that the company is involved in a deal with Johns-Manville. According to this story negotiations understood to have been in progress between the two corporations have been successfully concluded. Announcement of the details, it was contended in quarters usually well posted, may be expected within a week or so. The stock was in new high ground, while Johns-Manville, still influenced by its disappointing first quarter report, was heavy most of the day.

RECENT weakness of the rail group is directly attributed to the fact that the earnings reports for March will be released for publication in a few days. In many instances, these earnings are disappointing, particularly in the case of the northwestern and southern lines. Carriers in New England and the southwest have done fairly well considering the circumstances. Unfortunately too much emphasis is placed on the comparisons of earnings for the months so far this year with the corresponding period last year when traffic was running at an unusually high level because of generally very prosperous business conditions. A better comparison may be obtained with the corresponding period of 1928 which was a more nearly normal period. However the rail group has a habit of rallying after unsatisfactory earnings reports are out of the way.

Another slight gain in electrical equipment and electrical current consumption is a distinct possibility for 1930 and for that reason market experts are forecasting a brilliant record for stocks of the electrical industry. Together with the utilities, they might easily act as the bull leaders for the next major bull market. Meanwhile, a reaction in the over-bulled industrials would not surprise the financial district.

THE stellar performance of Eastman Kodak in attaining new high ground in the face of a falling market yesterday, is striking testimony to the near term prospects of this issue. A comprehensive analysis of the company by important financial interests has disclosed that Eastman now has a diversified a line of products as any industrial corporation of like standing. Outstanding profit possibilities are expected to result from the colored picture film which has been fully perfected, and the new container manufactured in association with American Can. Fantastic prices are talked of in financial quarters, but it is regarded as certain that a split-up of the stock will take place before long.

Although no market activity of note has been evidenced in American Rolling Mill for some time, reports that the company is operating at close to capacity should signify the resumption of more aggressive operations on the upside. The steel rolling process, which every steel organization of importance is using on a royalty basis, serves as a valuable adjunct to the regular sources of income.

Opposes California Rail Construction

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Dana T. Smith, assistant valuation and commercial counsel of Union Pacific Railroad, appearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission in opposition to the plan of Great Northern and Western Pacific Railroads to link their lines by a 20-mile extension, declared that existing facilities were adequate to handle all present traffic.

Good Railroad Service Association, presented by Harvey Sanborn, also objected to proposal on ground there was no urgent public necessity to warrant an investment of $13,000,000 in the project.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, April 17.—The bond market wobbled uncertainly today. Trading in senior issues was along the small proportions characteristic of a pre-holiday session, and prices fluctuated within a range of a quarter to a half point. The bulk of the earlier transactions were odd lots, with the result that considerable thinness was again in evidence.

Plant Business Acorn, Tend It; Results Amaze, —By B. C. FORBES—

PLANT a business acorn in this extraordinary country, tend it diligently, and, lo, it develops into a mighty oak.

When I first went down to Wall Street as a financial reporter one of my duties was to compile a complete list of each day's sales in the New York Curb Market. That market then was out in the open air, on Broad street. The only method then in vogue for compiling the day's transactions was to buttonhole each curb broker towards the close and ask him what business he had done during the day.

On looking over one of my daily curb reports of almost a quarter of a century ago, I find that, outside of transactions in mining stocks, the day's business in industrials, as reported, totaled 8,205 shares and in "rails" 1,000 shares of Chicago Subway!

This week the New York Curb Exchange's transactions have averaged well over a million-and-a-quarter shares!

On the day here recalled transactions on the New York Stock Exchange totaled 769,200 shares.

One morning last week transactions reached 1,000,000 shares in half-an-hour.

IT was in those days of nearly a quarter of a century ago that Frank A. Vanderlip made his famous remark, "We are a nation of economic illiterates." We certainly were not then a nation of investors. Nor were we a nation of speculators. I well recal' that it was a front page story when transactions on the New York Stock Exchange reached a million shares in one day.

Last fall 16,400,000 shares were dealt in on the fatal Tuesday which marked the culmination, in point of activities, of the panic.

WHEREAS the New York Curb Market is now housed in a stately building, has its president and board of governors, its highly efficient system of reporting sales, its nation-wide ticker service, its rules and regulations in stocks governing the admission of stocks to trading privileges and did a total business last year of 473,770,970 shares, there were times a quarter of a century ago when all business (such as it was) was totally suspended. That was when rain fell in torrents.

"Any fakir could then come along and start a market in any fake stock. The favorite bait of stock then employed to fleece the unwary was mining stock. On the day that non-mining transactions totaled 8,205 shares and included only 11 stocks, business was reported in no fewer than 50 mining issues. Painfully few of them survive today.

BROAD STREET offices overlooking the open-air market were occupied by curb brokers. There was an elaborate system of signaling orders and quotations from windows. It was done by hand, more particularly by the crooking and straightening of fingers. The busiest of curb houses had their offices near enough to enable clerks to transmit buying and selling orders by shouting. One enterprising broker, who, for a spell, did a roaring business, hit upon the idea of having all his men on the curb wear red caps.

THIS table comprises the transactions on the day referred to in all but mining stocks:

Sales.	Stock.	High.	Low.	Last.	Chg.
25	Am. Tobacco	320	320	320	...
50	A. W. P. pfd.	20½	20½	20½	...
1000	Cent. Fdy pfd.	14	14	14	...
100	Int. Mer. M.	1¾	1¾	1¾	...
2200	Mashal. Tr.	4	4	4	½
300	N. Y. & C. M.	27½	26	26	1¾
120	Standard Oil, Ohio	845	845	845	...
1000	Waterbury Co.	4½	4½	4½	1½
400	Wett. & Mfg.	5½	5½	5½	...
2000	West. Ice Co.	20½	20½	20½	¼
1000	Chicago Sub.	20	19¾	19¾	¾

BOND sales consisted of $1,000 of American Writing Paper 5s and $7,000 American Brake Shoe 5s. The curb's daily bond sales this week have averaged $3,500,000!

SOME curb brokers were meanly cranky when approached for details of their day's transactions. There was one conspicuous exception, Billy Stafford, who not only willingly gave data covering his own activities, but used frequently to berate other brokers who were disobliging. Billy Stafford today is an extremely popular—and wealthy—member of the New York Stock Exchange.

YES, this is a great country to grow up with.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 17.—Price movements were irregular and uncertain in today's Curb market, representing the efforts of professional speculators for the rise to maintain a good market before the three-day Easter closing, in the face of a disinclination on the part of traders to carry full lines of stocks over the recess. On the whole, the market displayed a firm undertone.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

CHANGE NOTED IN PURCHASE OF STOCKS

Persistent Increase in Loans Shows Quality of Buying Deteriorating

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, April 17.—A cursory inspection of Wall street board rooms, where venturesomeness has again been waxing, reveals evidence of a reviving will toward what Bernard M. Baruch has picturesquely termed speculative whoopee.

The persistent increase in brokers' loans since the beginning of March indicates a gradual change in the quality of buying, which during November, December and January was obviously of an extremely high grade—close to a cash basis. The change has been gradual, and thus far there has been no indication that the lunatic fringe of the public, which was slaughtered during the panic, has yet amassed the resources which are necessary for a resumption of speculative activity. And yet, with stock prices in some instances 50 per cent above the panic lows, amateurs, who were bearish at the bottom, have recently been tempted to nibble. Meantime, to some extent, canny financiers who stepped in to take stocks at bargain levels ostensibly in the role of public saviors, have been tempted to use the extended rally as an opportunity to turn part of their paper profits into cash. However, the impression prevails that the great financial institutions—the investment trusts and holding companies—have not yet seen fit to dump stocks on a large scale, and their forbearance has been among the factors making for a price equilibrium.

HOLD OUTLOOK FAVORABLE

Others, though somewhat apprehensive of the imminence of speculative reactions, have been reluctant to disturb their positions because of a conviction that the long term outlook for high grade stocks is still favorable. One nationally known sage and experienced financier, in discussing the economic prospects, said that none of the indexes was wholly reassuring, except cheap money, which he regards as an almost all-powerful influence marketwise. He was not prepared to predict how near a more robust revival of business prosperity might be, holding that the question hinged to a large extent on the course of commodity prices.

As for stocks, this financier, who told me in mid-November that he considered standard American stocks unmistakably cheap, was still not bearish, in spite of the advance that has subsequently taken place. He described his attitude as "interested" and said he was watching closely the recklessness of amateurs in certain directions.

Referring to the alertness of the administration in fostering recovery, this financier said that he viewed with alarm the increasing disposition for business to rely on government. He said that in the effort to get the government to help relieve temporary evils of unemployment the business community might pile up serious permanent evils in the form of government meddling. He urged the business community to get back to the older slogan of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which urged "more business in government and less government in business."

HOME FINANCING

Edward H. Chavelle, Seattle attorney, who has been active in financing 2,000 instalment contracts for the purchase of homes, in commenting on proposals made in this column for improving methods of financing junior capital for home building, writes me:

"If big business corporations would appreciate how vital to their interest is the matter of financing the consumer in the purchase of an article as important as his home, the much discussed depression of business would soon be overcome. They will sell him a radio, or an automobile, on the instalment basis, but no arrangement has been made for financing the sale of the cement, lumber, lighting and bathroom fixtures, furnaces, sand and gravel, glass, sash and doods and labor. As the home is built the district is improved, and sewers, sidewalks, grading and paving consume a large amount of material and labor. When the home is finished, it is furnished, and while this end is pretty well taken care of, there is no assistance whatsoever to the prospective home owner to help him get his home started.

"If, instead of talking hard times, the suppliers of building materials would organize a medium for the sale of their products to the consumer who could pay for them only on the instalment plan, they would increase the demand, which would make their business go and would supply money for the performance of the labor and the execution of the work with which to pay the instalments due them and receive a fair price for their materials."

With the decline of interest rates there has been a significant revival of activity in commercial paper in Wall street. Before the panic this phase of banking had become virtually extinct.

Liberty Dairy Plans Customer Ownership

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

FOR the first time in industrial history a dairy company is planning to develop customer ownership. Public utilities throughout the country have realized for years the advantages of taking their customers into partnership with them. They have improved their relationships with the general public and have found that the plan pays dividends. Other industries are just beginning to find that customer ownership has distinct advantages.

On Monday the 600 employes of the Liberty Dairy Products Corporation will start a 12-day campaign to get their second preferred stock into the hands of the people who buy their products. It is expected that, as a result of the campaign, 6,000 shares of the 7 per cent preferred stock of $100 par value will be outstanding.

The stock is to be offered at par. Buyers may take advantage of a $10 down and $10 a month purchase plan.

Low Sales Cost

WITH 155,000 customers the officials of the company believe that little difficulty will be experienced in getting the desired distribution of the stock. They expect the cost of selling the issue will be lower than the normal expense of having an issue underwritten by an investment banker. This is without taken into consideration the value of the good will to be secured by customer ownership.

In addition to obtaining distribution of the stock to customers the campaign calls for taking farmers who supply the organization with its milk into consideration in making the sales. This will increase their interest in furnishing the company wth a good product.

To Expand Plants

THE proceeds of the new financing will be used for the expansion of the organization's operations. Rapidly growing sales have made several additions to plants necessary. About $250,000 will be spent for additions to the East Liberty and North Side plants. At a later date the company plans to double the capacity of the Oakmont plant.

At present five receiving and distributing plants are operating in this city and in surrounding communities. The company was formed a year and a half ago by the consolidation of the Shadyside Milk Company, Reinhold Ice and Ice Cream Company, Kittanning Pure Milk Company, Harmony Creamery Company, Allegheny Dairy Company, Star Creamery Company and the Ohio and Pittsburgh Milk Company which did business as the Hermes-Groves Dairy Company.

Merger Reports Denied

DUE to its outstanding position in the Pittsburgh district as an independent dairy organization, rumors have been current that Liberty is to be acquired by one of the national chain dairy companies.

While it is true that several offers have been made, the officials believe that Liberty offers greater possibilities as an independent organization. In discussing the reports Paul E. Reinhold, president of the company said yesterday:

It is true that several national dairy concerns are desirous of purchasing or merging with our organization but the officials of the Liberty Dairy Products Corporation wish to state publicly that, at the present time they are absolutely not entertaining or considering negotiations for purchasing or consolidating or of permitting Liberty Dairy Products Corporation to lose its identity as a Pittsburgh organization."

GLASS MERGER TO AID KANE

KANE, Pa., April 17.—A. H. Gaffney, president of the American Plate Glass Corporation, announced here that the Indestructo Glass Corporation of Farmindale, L. I., makers of shatter-proof glass, had offered the American Plate Glass Corporation bonds in an exchange for stock. The agreement calls for the erection of a new building, involving expenditure of $2,000,000, and the employment of 200 more men at the Kane plant, bringing the working force to 700 men, with an annual payroll of approximately $1,000,000.

If the bondholders ratify the sale, which they are expected to do, work on the new building will be started within three months' time.

Punta Alegre Sugar Reorganization Plan

NEW YORK, April 17.—The plan of reorganization of Punta Alegre Sugar Company calls for formation of a new company to acquire assets and business of the present company and to assume its liabilities except debentures and notes. Holders of debentures and notes will receive for each $100 principal amount of their securities five share of common stock of the new company and short-time rights to subscribe for 1½ shares of such stock at $10 a share.

Stockholders will receive short-time rights to subscribe at $10 a share for ½ share of common stock of the new company for each share of present stock deposited under the plan.

WALL STREET HEARS

That weakness of Southern Railway reflects estimates that first quarter earnings covered preferred dividends by a narrow margin.

That tin consumers are buying from hand to mouth in expectation of lower prices, and some copper consumers are holding out for a further reduction in the red metal to 12 cents a pound.

That Westinghouse Electric and General Electric do not intend to dispose of their holdings of Radio after the refinancing plan goes through.

That Canadian interests were heavy buyers of International Nickel during its decline, in sympathy with the recent heaviness of the coppers.

Storage Battery Benefited By 'Talkies'

WILMINGTON, April 17.—J. R. Williams, president of Electric Storage Battery Company, stated he is very optimistic as to the outlook for the current year and declared business in the first quarter of 1930 was considerably ahead of normal in lines other than automotive industry's requirements. Battery business as applied to the radio industry has fallen off considerably because of all-electric sets but, on the other hand, business from talking movies is growing steadily in volume and Mr. Williams declared it will prove one of the most profitable lines for the company.

CUSTOMER:
Sure, I carry plenty of life insurance—$60,000 of it. My wife will be well-fixed.

TRUST OFFICER:
Fine. How will the life insurance be paid to her?

CUSTOMER:
By check, I suppose.

TRUST OFFICER:
You mean, payable in cash. Does she handle your other investments now?

CUSTOMER:
No. She doesn't know anything about them.

TRUST OFFICER:
Do you think it well, at such a crisis in her life, to put $60,000 in her lap and ask her to invest it?

Our Trust Officer will gladly explain how a Life Insurance Trust can be arranged to pay your wife a regular income, with extras for emergencies, and protect every dollar of the insurance money you so thoughtfully provided for her.

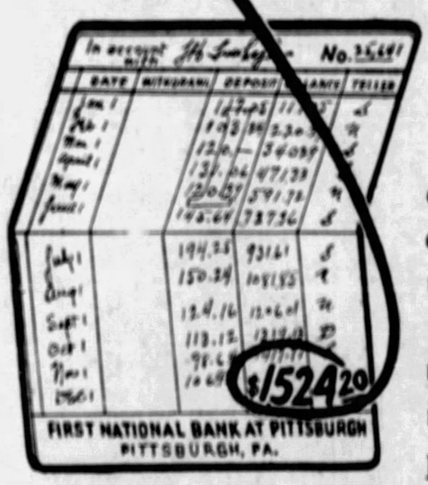
BUYS THE NEW CAR



A MAN we know puts ten cents into his savings account for every mile he drives his automobile

When he needs a new car, he buys it with cash from this fund.

And perhaps you will be surprised to learn that this man could buy a fleet of automobiles for cash if he wanted to, because he is a very successful man.

He tells us that he gets a big thrill out of doing it this way, because it keeps fresh the memories of his youth, when he learned thrift through the dime saving habit.

Equally good for anticipating taxes—life insurance premiums—vacations—a college fund for the children, etc.

DAMAGE HEAVY IN LAKE FLOOD

TOLEDO, O., April 17.—(AP.)—Lake Erie was settling back toward normal today after driving scores of families from their homes and causing thousands of dollars of damage along the western shore.

For two days strong northeast winds shoved the waters up over the shore line like a broom and summer property between here and Detroit and especially at Point Place, Toledo suburb, in Maumee Bay, was flooded. Many families, lured to their summer homes by the warm weather of last week, were forced to retreat to higher ground, and fishermen from here to Sandusky feared heavy losses through inability to reach their nets.

The wind was decreasing early today, however, and further damage was expected to be confined to carrying away of small property by the receding waters.

Point Place was the worst sufferer. Cellars and roads in this residential section were flooded, furnaces were doused with water and 30 families had to leave their homes. It was this district's worst flood danger in history.

Willow Beach and Garland Beach, nearby resorts, were under water and at Garland 12 more families were forced from their houses as water crept into the living rooms. One family was rescued by boat, while food supplies were taken to a number of others by boat. Windows in the pavilion at Lakeside, O., another resort, were broken by large stones hurled by the waves and flood conditions were general as far as Monroe, Mich., 30 miles from here, where hundreds of acres of shore property were under water.

Crusaders Quiz Office Seekers

Taking its first step in politics, the local branch of the Crusaders has written to candidates for governor and United States senator, asking that they announce their stand on prohibition. B. A. Thomas, organizer for the Crusaders, sent the letters out yesterday and inclosed a copy of the Crusaders' platform on prohibition. Thomas said the organization will throw its strength to the candidate whose views on the dry law most closely coincide with those set forth in its platform.

RHEUMATIC PAINS WERE BANISHED BY NEW KONJOLA

"It Is a Pleasure to Endorse the Medicine That Ended My Suffering," Says Grateful Lady.

What cheerful, encouraging news is that which Konjola, the new and different medicine, is bringing to victims of rheumatism, many of whom had just about abandoned hope of ever escaping from the cruel clutches of this dread ailment.

MRS. ANNIE ROVESTI

Also stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles; neuritis and nervousness, and finding their master in this new medicine of 32 ingredients, 22 of which are the juices of roots and herbs of known medicinal value. Konjola, remember, is not a medicine designed to give mere temporary relief. Konjola is not that kind of medicine. Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. This new medicine cleanses and stimulates; opens the door for Nature to assert itself. Six or eight bottles should be taken to receive a fair treatment. Would you see how Konjola works? Then consider the experience of Mrs. Annie Rovesti, 313 Hickman street, Bridgeville, Pa., near Pittsburgh. Then visit the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Store, Penn avenue and Sixth Street, this city, and hear the remarkable story of this remarkable medicine. Just recently Mrs. Rovesti said to the Konjola Man:

"It is a pleasure to indorse Konjola, the medicine that ended my suffering, and I tried many other remedies without results before I put Konjola to the test. I had rheumatism in my limbs and, as everyone knows who has had this dread ailment, the aches and pains were dreadful. In addition to rheumatism, I suffered from indigestion; my appetite was poor, and I could not sleep soundly nor get my proper rest. Severe headaches were common occurrences.

"After reading many indorsements of Konjola, I decided to give it a trial. By the time I had finished the third bottle my condition had improved wonderfully. This gave me faith and encouragement, and I eagerly continued with the treatment. Ten bottles of Konjola completely solved my health problems. I now eat hearty meals; food digests better; I sleep better, and rheumatism is practically gone. I feel and look better than I have for years, and I gladly give Konjola all the credit for the new health I am now enjoying."

Konjola has won and kept a million friends just by doing what it is designed to do. All that is asked for this master medicine is that it be given a chance to prove its merits.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store, Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine.

Bard's First Play Revived As the Birthday Bill In Tech Theater

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

THE first play of a promising young dramatist has been produced in Pittsburgh during this week. The play was "Love's Labor's Lost," and the dramatist William Shakespeare. It is a comedy but rarely seen, and hardly anybody even spells it right. It is not "Love's Labor Lost"—but that is the way it is usually spoken and written. There is just the suspicion of a plot; the characters are farcical and superficial; and the style is full of puns and euphuisms. Shakespeare wrote it, but he wanted to show he could write as gorgeously and prettily as Lyly, the author of "Euphues," who was the English best seller of that day.

George Seibel

So Shakespeare stuck into this comedy as many sonnets as he could, and all the Latin and French he knew, and more similes than Frank Wilstach could digest for his dictionary, and the only plot that appears to be his own original manufacture.

In spite of these defects the comedy appealed enough to Richard Wagner to be used as the libretto of his first opera. "Das Liebesverbot," it was called—"The Prohibition of Love"—which would not have made Wagner famous if he had not followed it with "Rienzi" and "The Flying Dutchman."

The production at Tech, which is in honor of Shakespeare's approaching birthday, was rather a bold experiment, even under a producer like Iden Payne. The experiment was worth while, although the puns, sonnets and complicated pleasantries often get tiresome.

The chief interest of this play is that it shows Shakespeare as a beginner had in him all the germs of his future work, from "Romeo and Juliet" to "Hamlet" and "King Lear."

ANOTHER HAMLET COMING

Shakespeare is not faring so badly nowadays. Three companies have been playing Shakespearean repertoire during the season, though we have seen only one of these, Leiber's Chicago Civic Shakespeare Society. Now Walter Hampden has taken to the road for the close of his season and will bring us his "Hamlet" again, though most of his week in Pittsburgh will be devoted to the new version of Bulwer's "Richelieu."

In Boston they have been playing "Richard II," which brings to mind that the last time this seldom-seen tragedy was played in Pittsburgh it was at the Tech Theater, when young Richard Mansfield played the Bishop of Carlisle.

Soon after this only son of Richard Mansfield left for a Texas aviation camp where he died before he had seen any war service.

SONS OF ACTORS ACT

The sons of great actors do not usually follow in the footsteps of their fathers. Like Edmund Kean, who bitterly opposed his son, Charles, when he wanted to become an actor, these fathers know the heartaches and bitter toil of the profession.

But it will be good news that the son of Robert B. Mantell has joined the company of his mother, Genevieve Hamper, and intends to keep up the tradition of Mantell.

And the young son of Fritz Leiber, who is studying dramatic literature in Chicago University, also made his debut in that city a few months ago—as the Prince of Morocco in "The Merchant of Venice." He has gone back to school, but it is safe to prophesy that he, too, will be unable to resist the lure of the footlights.

Weds Cowboy

Joan Crawford, wealthy heroine in "Montana Moon," coming to the Penn tomorrow, marries a cowboy, only to find he doesn't look well in a full dress suit.

"Du Barry" Reaches Films With Changed Name

By DOROTHY HERZOG

(Copyright, 1930, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, April 17.

LIFE becomes increasingly vague and meaningless. It was announced that Norma Talmadge would bring "Du Barry" to the screen. She will. But the ultra proper title "Du Barry" has undergone a Hollywood baptism and is to reach the screen as "Flame of the Flesh." Et tu, DuBarry. . .

WHICH for no reason at all reminds the story Buster Keaton is telling. It concerns an inebriated lad who became quite a nuisance to his two pals when it was time to go home. The sober ones figured it wouldn't be safe having the drunk bouncing out of the rumble seat. And there wasn't any other place for him. Perturbed, they bolstered the drunk against the running-board and went into a conference. Finally they decided. He drove the car home!

Norma Talmadge

AND COMES PEACE

NOW they're saying that Mary Nolan and Universal have made it up. Lil' while ago, Mary pulled a bubble stunt reminiscent of her Imogene Wilson headlined days. Mary was yanked out of the picture and Pauline Starke shoved in. With competition keener than it has been since yesterday, this is no time for a flickite to pull T. N. T. temperament. Not even for a gag.

IS HE DUMB!

FOUND: A guy who's so dumb he thinks "All Quiet on the Western Front" is a silent film. Are all the museums loaded . . . ?

SHORTLY before Colleen Moore and her husband, John McCormack, agreed to file divorce papers, they foursomed with Mr. and Mrs. Hal Cooley and purchased a large plot of ground in Palm Springs. Some 180 acres, 'tis said. Mr. Cooley figured to subdivide the property but with his partners gone the way of many marriages he's Colleen Moore kinda up a tree.

CHINESE CAMERAMAN

FOR years, James Howe—Chinese, despite his name—was Herbert Brenon's crack cameraman. Of late, though, Howe has been dabbling into new fields. He has made an all-cast Japanese talky for release by Tom White Productions among the Japanese of the Pacific Coast and in Japan proper. Howe utilized Japanese gardens in Hollywood and Pasadena and the dwarfed trees along the Santa Monica Palisades. His backgrounds are reported as accurate and charming. Ito, the Japanese dancer, pronounced the film a remarkable and beautiful portrayal of Japanese character and customs. As Howe is Chinese, he used a Japanese interpreter in directing his players.

FIVE THEATERS OPEN NEW PICTURES TOMORROW

New pictures will open in five theaters tomorrow.

The Stanley and the Enright both will offer Al Jolson in "Mammy."

The Penn is to present Joan Crawford in "Montana Moon."

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are to open in the Aldine in "High Society Blues."

And the Warner, with an evening performance, is to inaugurate an engagement of "Hold Everything," a comedy, which features Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown.

STAGE PLAYS COMING

"The Rivals," Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy, with Mrs. Fiske and an all-star cast, will be the attraction in the Nixon for three nights and a Saturday matinee, April 24, 25 and 26, under the management of A. L. Erlanger and George C. Tyler. Seats are on sale at the box office of the Nixon.

Henry Stephenson, who comes to the Alvin next week in "Journey's End," R. C. Sherriff's famous war play, will be well remembered for his performance in "The Command to Love," when that attraction played the Pitt last season.

Hugh Banks, playing a return engagement, and Emmett Vogan, the new leading man, are both to be seen with the George Sharp Players in Phillip Barry's comedy, "Holiday," in the Pitt next week.

With Walter Winchell On Broadway

Return

NEW YORK, April 17.

I LEFT a crowd of lads to go with you,
Before we met I never had a crush.
Of course I played around with one or two
But never really gave a girl a rush.

We took our youth and laughter to the inns
And purchased magic for our paltry pay,
And sang our songs and boasted of our sins,
But I fell out—when love came down my way.

Small need for tavern wine when I had you,
Small need for song—your voice was ever near.
But that is over now and we are through
And you are very tired of me, my dear.

I wonder if a lad who fears the cold
Will find a welcome back within his fold?
—Kid Kazanova.

How Embarrasing

Those of us who know better never vouch for a person on Broadway. That is, we never "okay" anyone who wants to frequent a speakeasy or night club. Texas Guinan, listed as the wisest of the local wiseys, was fooled by friendly revenuers last year and because she vouched for them they closed several illicit places as well as her own. Now it is Belle Livingstone's salon which is under fire, all because a well-known rounder vouched for a "singer" who waited two months to pull his raid.

Incidentally, the most amusing part of the Livingstone raid was that a prominent Broadway man was arrested there as a waiter. He was released, however, when they learned he was Earl Carroll. So you can imagine how he must look in a tuxedo.

Pun at a Time

Moe Krug can make up a sentence containing the word controllable like this: "Can he lie? Say, he controllable like a toreador!" And Howard Deitz builds one with "hiccups" in this manner: "Clap hands, hiccups Charlie!"

The Retort Proper

The scene was in Broadway's only all-night club and a fellow whose wife once named ten chorusponden'ts was wining and dining ten other beauties from the various shows. Of course, the notoriety filled columns and columns. One of the girls turned to chat with a newspaper man. "Here, here," growled the host, "don't pay any attention to that reporter. He can't give you anything."

"All I can do, litle lady," said the Park Rowgue, "is keep your picture out of the papers and all he can do is put your picture in them."

Anything for a Laugh

It was eavesdropped during a vaudeville program. A newcomer to Broadway stopped the show colder than cold and an actor standing in the rear of the orchestra said to another lay-off: "Gee, that kid's there!"

"Yeah," observed the other, "she'll be a star some day if Belasco doesn't get hold of her."

Sarcastically Speaking

It is Jack Benny's tale of the heavily insured old man who left his young bride in New York while he went on an ocean trip for his health. At sea the ship was wrecked and all hands drowned except the heavily insured old man, who was picked up by a tramp steamer.

A month later when he was delivered at an English port he cabled a friend this message: "I was the lone survivor of a shipwreck. Please break the news gently to my wife."

A Form of Criticism

Not that it isn't tough enough to get volunteers to appear at the numerous benefit shows given weekly in New York and not that it is any of our business, but Robert Garland, of the Eve'g Telegram's drama bureau, is now criticizing benefit performances. His most recent critique on a benefit show was printed Monday and the victims were some acts who appeared at the Heywood Broun's benefit for the unemployed.

This was indeed startling for we had always been under the impression that Mr. Garland was the Benefit Promoter's best friend. At least he posed as one a year ago when he scolded Eddie Cantor, whose name was listed on an N. V. A. program, for not making an appearance.

Live and Love

Some of us were discussing Willard Mack again. Someone was saying that Mack and Pauline Fredericks were divorced because her mother was always with her. However, when Pauline married again, Mack telegraphed the groom: "Congratulations, old man. You've married a pair of fine women."

Observations

The Musicians' Union has a magazine—a house organ, if you insist. But what we started out to report was that the editor's name is Racket!

Metamorphosis

At twenty, if she weds at all,
He must be handsome, rich and tall.
At twenty-five she waives the dough,
But looks and height still thrill her so.
At thirty—"What's an inch or two?
And handsome looking males are few."
She merely asks at thirty-five
One question—"Is he still alive?"
—John.

Gag

Then there's the one about the check that came through on a man's estate, and the estate hadn't been settled, so the bank teller returned it after marking it: "Payee Dead." Two weeks later the same check came through and as the estate still hadn't been settled the clerk was in a quandary. Finally he arrived at a decision. He again returned the check, marking it: "Payee Still Dead!"

Merciless Truth

Overheard in the Silver Slipper night club: "What is the night club definition of a good girl?"

"One about 7 or 8 years old—I think 7."

How to Start Trouble

Those of us who jot things down in the papers will tell you that you lose a friend every time you print a gag about him or her. But when you are in this racket a few seasons you decide that a good gag is worth losing an alleged friend. Dorothy Parker, they say, lost a number of them all because of this one: Dorothy was at a party when someone flippantly chirped: "Oh don't tell me about that girl. She's so dumb she thinks Rex Beach is a summer resort!"

"Oh, I don't know," Dorothy replied, "I know people so dumb they think he's a novelist!"

Nineteenth Ward Division Unsettled

The redistricting commissioners of Allegheny County made another attempt last night to redistrict the Nineteenth Ward, the largest in the city. A meeting was held two weeks ago and another is to be held April 25, it was stated. The meeting last night was held in the commission room in the City-County building with Commissioners George E. Meyers and Mortimer B. Lesher presiding. David L. Lawrence, chairman of the sub-committee of the three commissioners, was confined to his home with a cold.

Former Councilman P. J. McArdle and Samuel J. Reno, Republican ward chairman, made suggestions as to ward changes.

Christian J. Walter Again Heads Artists

Christian J. Walter was re-elected president of the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh, it was announced today following the annual meeting of the organization. Wilfred Readio was named vice president and J. C. Kilroy secretary-treasurer. Five directors were elected for two-year terms, and a change of quarters from the old Fifth Avenue Arcade, now being razed, to the McCance Building was reported. The incorporation of the organization was also announced. Directors elected include Everett Warner, Russell Hyde, Annabelle Craig, Kilroy and Readio.

NEW HAVEN R. R. OUTLOOK GOOD

NEW HAVEN, April 17.—Prospects for the current year for the New Haven Railroad and the territory it serves are encouraging, President J. J. Pelley told stockholders at the annual meeting yesterday.

Chairman E. G. Buckland during his remarks, in which he reviewed the history of the road from 1913 to the present time, with special emphasis on loyalty of common stockholders when no dividends were paid, said:

"We hope and expect that common stockholders may look forward with assurance and satisfaction to maintenance of at least dividends now being paid. This assurance will be strengthened by return of normal business conditions and by a continued improvement in handling of freight and passengers and an intensive effort to increase earnings."

WOOL GROWERS HOLD PARLEY

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—A group of wool manufacturers met in "friendly conference" here with representatives of the National Wool Marketing Corporation and members of the Federal Farm Board.

At the conclusion of the conference, Franklin W. Hobbs, of the Arlington Mills, Lawrence, Mass., and president of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers, said that "much misinformation regarding the aims and policies of the wool growers cooperatives have been cleared up."

"I want to emphasize that no agreements or arrangements were made for the concerted buying of wool from co-operative growers," he said. "The manufacturers' association is absolutely neutral on the question of wool buying. Members buy both from the old dealers and from co-operatives. We are interested, of course, in any plans for stabilization of the industry."

FASHION PARK SALES

NEW YORK, April 17.—Edward Rosenberg, president of Fashion Park Associates, Inc., states that the total sales of all the companies in the group in 1929, amounted to $41,539,077 and after elimination of all sales of companies not wholly owned and of inter-company sales, the total remaining sales were $32,817,329.

"It was necessary to cope with a number of problems during the year in order to introduce standard methods of accounting and inventorying which compelled some of the retail units to take substantial losses. This will be reflected beneficially in future operations."

"There was also during the year a substantial non-recurring expense to increase efficiency of manufacturing plants which will effect important savings."

DALE SELECTED SLUSH PRORER

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—Senator Dale (Rep.), Vermont, was named to the Senate campaign funds investigating committee today by Vice President Curtis to take the place of Senator Bingham (Rep.), Connecticut, who declined appointment.

West Penn Power After New Unit

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 17.—The West Penn Power Company presented testimony at a public hearing before the Public Service Commission to the effect that it had agreed to pay $19,750 for the Boalsburg Electric Company if the commission approves the purchase.

The value of the company in its present condition is $21,000, it was testified, and the reproduction cost new is $27,000. It was also stated that it would cost the company $27,000 to furnish equipment to supply this section in Centre County with electric current if the Boalsburg Electric Company were not in existence.

Air Force Suggests Safety Flying Code

NASSAU, Bahamas.—(AP.)—An aerial code to govern actions of fliers over this 300-year-old capital of the Bahamas is the aim of a committee appointed by Sir Charles Orr, governor of the islands.

Local regulations with a view to safety of lives and property is the goal of the committee, made up of members of the Royal Air Force stationed here.

YOUTHFUL 'CAT RUSTLER'

THEODORE VAN ARSDALE

Theodore, 12, who has been dubbed Chicago's "cat rustler," because he rounded up stray cats on the prairies and sold them to the Northwestern Medical School for $1 each. His mother was fined $25 after an animal relief society complained.

'JAKE' MAKERS INDICTED

CINCINNATI, O., April 17.—(INS.)—Ten drug firms and 51 individuals were indicted by a federal grand jury today in the production and sale of Jamaica ginger which resulted in a paralysis epidemic in which two persons died and scores of others were stricken after drinking the "jake" for its alcoholic reaction.

The product was alleged to have contained arsenic, in violation of the Interstate Commerce Commission's pure food laws.

The majority were secret indictments against firms in Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Chicago, Kansas City and St. Louis.

16 HELD AFTER DRY RAIDS

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., April 17.—(INS.)—One of the most spectacular dry raids in Western Pennsylvania history was climaxed today with the release under $1,500 each of 12 persons, including four women, who were taken into custody here during the night.

Thirty-four county and state police officers participated in the raids, which were conducted with such efficiency that practically every suspected "wet" spot was raided simultaneously, leaving no leeway for the hurried telephoning of warnings to other places.

All prisoners were taken before Justice of the Peace Van Gorder who held them for a hearing Friday.

8 TARIFF RATES UNADJUSTED

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP.)—The conferees on the tariff bill today completed adjustment of differences between the Senate and House over all but eight in the Hawley-Smoot measure.

The eight rate disputes reserved for later decision affect sugar, cement, casein, lumber, shingles, silver, narrow laces and cigaret papers and books.

The lace increases were discussed again today, but no action was taken.

Sale of Parrots Stopped in Paris

PARIS.—(INS.)—Wanderers along the picturesque quays and bird market will no longer be attracted by the hoarse cry of Poor Polly and the bright feathers of the perrokuet among the hundreds of birds penned up in cages.

Monsieur Chiappe, popular prefect of police, has issued a decree forbidding the exposition and sale of parrots, parroquets or any other birds belonging to this species on the streets or in markets. His action of course has been taken as a precautionary measure against the disease psittacosis.

P. R. R. Veterans To Meet on May 15

JOHNSTOWN, April 15.—The annual meeting of the Veterans' Association of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be held May 15 in the Penn Alto Hotel at Altoona. The association has a membership of more than 1,500 in the state.

Revolution Sons Will Meet Today

The officers and board of management of the Pittsburgh Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, will hold a meeting this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

ZEPPELIN HOME FROM SPAIN

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, April 17.—(AP.)—The giant dirigible Graf Zeppelin landed without a hitch at her home port at 7 o'clock this evening, having completed a round trip to Seville, Spain. She made the entire trip in 53 hours.

It had been feared earlier in the day that there would be some difficulty in mooring the Graf Zeppelin because of stormy weather, but the Graf made her appearance over the field at 6:50 p. m., and only 10 minutes later had landed safely.

Napoleon Proved Failure as Student

PARIS.—Napoleon did not distinguish himself in school. As one writer puts it: Napoleon's scholastic career was not brilliant and he received his commission in the artillery in 1758 without having given evidence of any marked ability, except, perhaps, that of holding his own counsel and to carrying through to the end any attitude adopted. These traits, which afterward made him feared equally in the council chamber and on the battlefield, he inherited from his mother.

Clarence Darrow Rebuked by G. A. R.

BOSTON.—(INS.)—Members of the G. A. R. at a recent meeting in Faneuil Hall administered a rebuke to Clarence Darrow, noted criminal attorney and liberalist, for what they regard as a slur on Abraham Lincoln.

The G. A. R. members also administered a rebuke to Chairman Donahue, of the State Democratic Committee, for saying "the Butler strategy is Grand Army politics."

Busch Thanks Man For Beer Order

ST. LOUIS.—(AP.)—(INS.)—August A. Busch, president of the Anheuser-Busch Company, has written a letter to Henry P. Schroder, a member of the Board of Education, thanking him for his standing order of five cases of beer to be delivered when the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed or modified.

Athens Pays Tribute To U. S. Educator

ATHENS.—(AP.)—Loring Hall, a new residence for American teachers and students at the School of Classical Studies, has been dedicated. It was named for Caleb Loring, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts and president of the board of trustees of the school. He presided at the occasion.

SUITS AGAINST GOLFER ENDED

NEW YORK, April 17.—(AP.)—Four suits brought by Consuelo Armour against her former husband, Thomas Armour, golf professional and former national open champion, and his second wife, Estelle Andrews Armour, for $670,000, have been settled out of court, it was announced here.

"I do not feel at liberty to discuss the details of settlement at this time, but you can say that Mr. Armour has made adequate provision for his wife and child during his life and provided for them after his death by insurance," said Milton Cohn, attorney, who made the announcement.

In the first of these actions, Mrs. Armour sued the second Mrs. Armour for $500,000 damages for alienation of affections. The second suit was against the second Mrs. Armour and her husband for a declaratory judgment voiding the Mexican divorce which he obtained and for an injunction to restrain Armour and his second wife from calling themselves husband and wife. The third suit was against Armour for a separation, and the fourth suit was against Armour for $170,000, money which the first wife claimed she lent him.

BABE RUTH IS UP. Last of the 9th. Three men on base. Two out. Two strikes. Pitcher winds up. Babe crouches and . . . .

Socko!

That word completely describes the One-Man Bombardment that has drawn millions to see this Master Showman for the past ten years. For others they call it "A Home-run" or "Big Wallop" or "Over the Fence." But speaking of Babe Ruth it's always "SOCKO!"

It's "Socko" on the Ballfield and It's "Socko" on the Sports Page

Wherever you find the colorful Babe you find excitement—thrills—action. Read his articles every Wednesday and Sunday EXCLUSIVELY in this newspaper and you'll learn more about Baseball and Baseball Players.

Something New This Season

Babe Ruth is preparing a new series of illustrated Baseball Lessons for young players and old fans. Simple, interesting discussions—illustrated by specially posed pictures of the Babe demonstrating how to bat, field, pitch, and play the game correctly. Those who still play will learn new tricks; fans who are too old to play will understand baseball better if they follow Babe Ruth's new Lessons starting soon in the Sun-Telegraph.

And that isn't all. The big contest conducted by Babe Ruth to select the All-America Baseball Team of the season has been the national thrill for ten years. It will be the highspot of the 1930 season. Contest particulars will be published in this paper later; for the present, follow Ruth's articles and watch for his new illustrated lessons every week during the 1930 baseball year. This will prepare you for the contest and you may win a prize. Then "SOCKO" will mean a lot to you.

Rome's 400 Church Bells Toll Holy Thursday Rites

ROME, April 17.—(AP.)—The bells of St. John Lateran, "Mother Church of Christendom," rang out this morning, answered by those of all Rome's 400 churches, on the commemoration of Holy Thursday, feast of the institution of the eucherist, recalling the last supper of Christ with the Apostles.

What is believed to be the very tables used at the epoch-making repast was brought forth from its repository in St. John Lateran and exposed for the veneration of the large congregation. Two skulls, regarded as those of Saints Peter and Paul, also were on view there, as well as a reputed portion of the pillar to which Christ was bound when scourged in the house of the high priest, and a bit of the holy sponge, mentioned in St. Matthew's account of the crucifixion.

The mass at the Lateran basilica was sung by Cardinal Pompili, assisted by 12 priests, seven deacons and seven sub-deacons.

DAILY TRUE STORY

Trumped His Ace!

POLLY DIXON had money—oodles of it.

Even if Polly hadn't had money at all she would have been popular.

Polly was petite, vivacious and downright pretty.

Take a girl who is all of that, add oodles of money and what have you?

A glittering goal for fortune hunters, to be sure!

There were plenty of them in Polly's sweet young life, and Polly knew it.

There was a time when Polly used to sneer at novels in which heroines yearned to be loved for themselves alone. That was before she realized how annoyingly this world of ours is cluttered up with young men whose sole ambition seems to be to take unto themselves a wife providing said wife has more than enough money for both of them.

After Polly's uncle died and she had grown beyond the guardian age she spent a most miserable season abroad.

There had been many pictures of her in the newspapers.

There had been many headlines about her millions. It seemed to her that there must have been some sort of an "Heiress clearing house" over on the continent because she was constantly pestered by chaps of all ages and sizes and titles who were eager to make her a baroness or duchess or some sort of an "ess" in return for her heart, hand and—er—bankroll.

Polly went abroad now and then, quite "incog." She got her passports under an assumed name, thanks to a big pull. She went with Aunt Hetty or elderly Cousin Lucy and managed to have a good time in little hide-away places.

But let her appear at some function in Paris or Vienna, let her bathe at Ostend or ride along the Riviera or dine at the American embassy in London and—presto! Almost a subway jam of men about her who sought to interest, to charm and to wed her.

Back home it was a little better.

Urges Speedy Marriage

Polly had her two country places, North and South. She could invite her own guests there. She had her friends and could know in advance who most of the guests would be.

And yet in her set were always charming young men who were born to that social class but had not inherited any too much money. There were others who were well fixed financially, but who longed to pick up Polly's millions also.

In all justice to our young Americans, Polly admitted that they weren't quite so crude in their love-making.

Tommy Renyold, for example, seemed to be really mad about her. Tommy was a nice chap. He had inherited plenty. Polly was inclined to regard him rather seriously because he was jolly, danced well, sported well and had a line of talk that was breezy and convincing.

But it came to light that Tommy had been backing a lot of theatrical flops and had a little establishment where a certain blonde one-time "love pal" emerged and sued him for this and that to the tune of more than he could afford to pay.

Tommy told Polly that it was all a lot of "framing" and urged a speedy marriage.

"Tommy dear," Polly told him, "I just don't warm up to the idea of paying off your former love pals with my money."

"So it's like that, Polly?"

"Just like that, Tommy."

"You can't blame a guy for trying—and I liked you, too, on the level, Polly."

"You mean pretending that you were on the level?"

That let him out.

For a while after that Polly began studying chauffeurs and civil engineers, bond salesmen and mechanics. It had been claimed that the honest laboring man made the ideal husband.

Bert, one of her chauffeurs, told her that if ever he had money enough he'd build a fifty-car garage and a chauffeur would be engaged for each car so he could boss them around and get square.

Bert was out.

Polly Sends Presents

The mechanic was handsome, as a sartorial advertising model, but he was only mildly interested in Polly because he had fallen for a red-headed girl who was cashier in a lunch room. He told Polly all about her. Polly admired him for it and sent them some wonderful presents when they were married.

In her own crowd again Polly went here and there, rode, drove, skied, danced, surf-boarded played contract bridge and so on and on.

Jim Waterman wanted Polly to marry him.

So did Sidney Fisher and Donald Lee and Park Landers, as well as many others who had not told her so this particular season.

Polly wanted to be married.

Most nice normal girls are like Polly in that respect.

Jim Waterman was a clever polo player.

Jim made love with all the zest and breeziness that he used in playing polo. He almost swept Polly off her feet. But that time she had 20 or so over at her country place, and went to look into the card room to see if the new butler had left sufficient liquid refreshments, she heard the name "Jim Waterman" and paused to listen.

She might not have listened if it had been her name, because of the truism that listeners seldom hear good of themselves.

"Jim says to wait," the speaker was saying, "until he marries our fair hostess—he'll have a stable of polo ponies that will be an eighth world wonder."

"The Fair Polly can afford it and Jim's the lad who can spend it, because——"

Polly moved softly away from there.

Jim's lovemaking never progressed after that. If Jim had kept such thoughts to himself, but to boast of what he would do with her money was too much.

After that it seemed like Donald Lee. Donald had something to do with importing. There was a place downtown that had a sign, "BRISTOL & LEE, IMPORTERS." Polly had noticed the sign whenever she went down to board a liner.

Of course, Park Landers wasn't in business at all, except to drop into the office where the Landers estate was handled, and sign things. Park had plenty.

Not Fortune Hunting

But Park didn't appeal to Polly so very much. Of course, there was the advantage of knowing that he had as much or more wealth than she and that he wasn't really fortune hunting.

It looked like a race between Sidney Fischer and Donald Lee after Polly had definitely passed up Jim Waterman and about decided that Park Landers wouldn't do.

Donald made love convincingly.

Take that time at the Mearsonly's party at Palm Beach.

Donald ran down for a week, admitting that it was difficult to get away from business right then.

Moonlit sands and silhouetted palms and balmy breezes all help a chap when he's love-making, because they make the girl sentimental.

"Polly," Donald said to her as she sat up and emptied sand from her dancing pump, "I'm crazy about you."

"People who get too crazy have to be sent away, Don."

"I'm crazy to marry you, Polly. Have a heart."

"I've got a heart."

"Give it all to me."

"And I go without?"

"Stingy—you've already got mine!"

"And you would be crazy to marry me—that what you mean?"

Donald pretended to shake her. He paused to kiss a curl that flopped beside her ear.

"I'd be crazy not to. You know I love you—and it's a good thing you've got plenty of money, because I know well enough I couldn't ever support you as you are accustomed to living—but your money won't spoil our love."

"Remember, you've got my heart already—and remember that I love you. I'd probably marry you if you were a waitress, but I'm darn glad you've got plenty of money. I'd be a sap to pretend that I wasn't glad."

Back to the Dance

They went back to dance.

A few nights after this Sidney Fischer did a very good job at proposing.

"It's like this, Polly: Just pretend we're a couple of youngsters just from college and in a world of thousands of youngsters, all situated alike in the world—then I would go to you—I'd elope with you or I'd never marry at all—get the idea?"

"You are trying to say that you are fond of me and would elope if you were younger?"

"Smarty! I am telling you that I want to marry you, that I love you—that you're the only, only, onliest girl ever. Do I make myself clear?"

"You do."

"And your answer is 'Yes, Sid'?"

"Not quite. My answer is for you to wait until I can decide."

But it began to look as though Donald Lee had the real inside track. Polly showed this without intending to do so.

Then came the eventful game of bridge. They had played a great many games but this one was slightly different.

Jim Waterman and Alice Hinkley were playing against Polly and Donald Lee for the conservative 10 cents a point. Quite a number were watching.

Polly got the bid of four spades.

Donald's hand went down. Jim Waterman led a singleton heart in face of Donald's open hand, which displayed an ace of hearts along with more than ordinary general strength. Polly said to Donald, "Put on the ace, please, partner."

The ace of hearts went on. Alice played a small heart.

Polly Dixon [illegible]rately put a ten of spades [illegible]hat was already her tric[illegible]

Jim and Alic[illegible]ared.

Donald Lee glared at Polly.

"What in —'s name did you do such a dashed silly thing as that for?" he demanded.

"Tut, tut. You are dummy," Polly said.

They finished the hand and were badly set.

After the game Jim whispered to Sid, "What a fool Don was—he's lost Polly by that rudeness!"

"Sure has," Sid agreed.

That night Polly led Donald out for a stroll.

"If your proposal holds good, Don, I'll accept!"

He assured her, with many kisses and few words, that it did hold good.

"You are regular, Don—and natural. You didn't 'yes' me, or smirk when I trumped your ace. I did it purposely to see how you'd act. You bawled me out as I deserved; that's why I know you are real. I trumped your heart in the game of bridge and game of life!"

STATE MORON COLONY URGED

Nominations:

The one who stalls his motor just as the green lights go on.

The one behind who honks when you kill your motor in traffic.

The one who emphatically states that the labels don't mean a thing any more.

The one who recommended the last movie you attended.

LATE DEVELOPMENTS IN THE WAR ON CRIME

This is Canopener Doakes, expert, who has offered to reorganize the local police department on an efficiency basis. One of his first moves will be an ordinance requiring that holdup men return a nickel to every victim so the victim will lose no time telephoning to the police.

WE ALSO DO FANCY PRINTING

When you think of fancy printing, think of us. Above is a sample of our work—a stationery crest for Congressman Frisby. He was very pleased, and made quite a scene when our representative (just a slip of a girl) called. Why don't you bring your printing problems to us? Let us have a heart to heart talk in the privacy of your own homes. Our estimaters are courteous and well-mannered fellows—unless goaded to rudeness. We are proud of our outside-men, with their natty uniforms, spats and just a touch of the Old West—the cordial slap on the back, the hearty laughter! Come, strangers! Let us be friends!

Now Is Opportune Time For Building of Homes

We have been telling the County Commissioners with considerable frequency that the present is a good time to build the Town Hall for economic reasons, as reflected in labor conditions and keen scenting for business by contractors, materials and firms, etc.

The same advice applies as to home building, which appears to have been realized by those whose applications for dwelling permits caused March to swing back to better than normal for that month in such operations.

If you have been thinking about building a home you will never have a more advantageous time than the present. Architects are in a position to devote more time to the study of your project than they will be able to give it when the rush comes. Material prices are stable and labor can be procured. Furthermore, men in the building industry say that while wages have not decreased there has been an increase in labor's productivity.

Don't continue to be timid if you have been contemplating building a new home. Make some inquiries and you will learn that there has not been a more opportune time to build in the last five years. Because you have tentative plans to spend only a few thousand dollars, compared to the many that are expended in large operations, do not think that you, too, as a constructive asset of the community, cannot contribute much to its material prosperity. A million spent in many homes is better for all than a million spent in a single structure.

Become a participant in the Hoover construction program. Everything is in your favor right now, compared to what the situation has been and to what it surely will be again.

All May Now Take Part In Easter Pilgrimage

For a number of years an unusual Easter service has been held in San Francisco. It will be more than a local event this year, as arrangements have been made to have the unusual celebration of the resurrection of the Son of Man from the tomb broadcast over a nationwide network so that all who desire to do so may participate in the inspiring service.

At 5 o'clock, Pacific time, Easter Sunday morning, at least 25,000 pilgrims will have assembled on Mount Davidson, overlooking Golden Gate, to pay homage to the King of Kings in an Easter service probably without parallel outside of Jerusalem or Rome. Pilgrims of all denominations, led by prominent San Francisco clergymen, will join in the worship and congregational singing of Easter hymns, accompanied by an orchestra.

The novel service will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company, with the assistance of the Hearst Radio Service. Eight o'clock, Pittsburgh time, is the hour it will be broadcast locally through KDKA. Since this is an hour that will not conflict with plans for attending our own Easter services in various churches, it is assumed that many thousands here will join in an aerial pilgrimage to Mount Davidson to sing and rejoice that He Is Risen.

Mechanical Brains

And Stone Hatchets.

The unprogressive British invent the "mechanical brain" for airplanes. Thus equipped, a plane can fly without a human crew, drop bombs and deadly gas wherever the British desire, and perhaps return to dear old England for more bombs, more gas, more little trips overseas.

This new engine of destruction, described in the London Daily Mail, is NOT directed by radio from the ground. Instead, it uses gyroscopes and a time clock. The clock can be set to release bombs or gas at a predetermined spot.

No humans aboard, the element of courage or cowardice does not enter in. The plane, the clock, the bombs, the gas are braver than the bravest. They will do their duty without hope of the Victoria Cross or fear of a court-martial and a firing squad.

That is REAL heroism.

The Mail says also that enemy planes or anti-aircraft guns will be powerless to shoot the new plane down. If they do, the bombs will automatically explode, the gas will pour out and there will be no more enemy fliers or guns in the neighborhood.

Means, however, will be found to deal with THAT. No weapon is so terrible that more terrible weapons cannot be devised to meet it.

In the next war, perhaps, victory will perch on the banners of that nation that sends out its pilotless planes FIRST. The best defense, as always, is the ATTACK.

That was true when the caveman stole into his enemy's cave and abolished him with a flint hatchet. War is the same in all ages; it is only the trimmings that change.

Future wars also will very likely put us back on a caveman basis. In the last war there were hints of it, when men fought hand to hand with knives, sometimes, and whole divisions took refuge in mammoth caverns underground. Hereafter, whole POPULATIONS will take refuge underground.

Very interesting—this thing we call "progress."

The Expectant Father

A Chicago hospital comes to the relief of the expectant FATHER. It's about time. Ask Dad, he knows.

Hitherto, when the stork hovered, fathers have been the target of unnecessary levity, of ill-concealed scorn, of caustic remarks about their general uselessness. They are as out of place as a third wheel on a bicycle. Small wonder that many seek consolation in alcohol while waiting for the doctor to tell them whether it's a girl, or a boy, or twins.

But Chicago moves to change all that. Rest rooms for paterfamilias will be provided, equipped with easy chairs, magazines, ash trays, even a stock ticker. It is a praiseworthy reform—a step for the prevention of cruelty to dumb animals, so to speak. It will alleviate much suffering.

Still, it must be admitted that paternity cases are seldom fatal, even at the worst. There are hundreds of physicians who have never lost a father yet.

"Bugs" Baer Says:

Home Again

IF the naval parley is a question of tonnage why not hold the next conference on a hay scales in Sioux City?

"Bugs" Baer

The London conference collapsed like a blimp on a steeple. Nobody signed on the dotted line because they didn't believe in autographing a giraffe's neck.

The diplomats of the works got together for a better understanding and fled for the same reason.

The best we could get was the worst of it. The five power alliance withered on the vine and now the three power corporation is working on a new idea that will be a success until it is tried.

France was the first mechanic to toss the salt into the gasoline tank. Then Italy picked up its marbles. Japan seems to have got what it wanted while England stalled around admiring our yes-men nodding like proud horses.

When it's time to keel the car America seems to be the one who does the meowing. The more we read of the cranial gymnastics of fresh, country diplomats the more we are convinced that Mother Goose came from a very fine family.

There isn't the slightest tincture of doubt that the world is in its usual bad shape which is round. When you're hanging by both hands it's no time to wig-wag. But we should resist all attempts to compel our admirals to learn a trade.

Will the future military glories of America depend on the sartorial splendor of motion picture ushers?

The biggest twirl in the gordian knot was France's absolute refusal to concede parity with Mussolini. Not only that, but La Belle demands 240,000 tons more than the boys on the peninsula.

That's when Italy reached for its hat and spats. Diplomacy is a terrific strain on the national resources. Every time you shake hands you lose a wrist watch.

All the ambassadors mumbled in London was tonnage.

They're not diplomats. They're weight guessers.

The three power naval treaty will save us $350,000,000 a year. Which we will lose selling Hog Island. Then we will fire thousands of civilian mechanics and issue prosperity bulletins at the same time.

Nobody in this land quite understands what it's all about. You cannot expect us to listen to a lecture on the balance of power delivered by Humpty Dumpty.

Our prodigal diplomats are coming home. And we will kill the fatted calf if they promise to stop shooting the bull.

THE BOY WITHOUT A CHANCE

By Herbert Kaufman

THE more you PAMPER your son, the more you HAMPER him. The easier you make his youth the harder he'll find OLD AGE.

The thews of initiative and self-reliance aren't strengthened in hot-houses—or night clubs. Grandfather's shirt sleeves are hidden under ever PREMATURELY worn dinner coat.

You're clearing today's barriers because early NECESSITY spurred you over yesterday's hurdles. Poverty alone taught you the jumps.

Ambition plied the whip and hunger rowelled your flanks until you rose to prevalent opportunity. Yours was a hard school, but the best. It awakened common sense, confidence and originality.

You couldn't shirk, couldn't postpone, you couldn't hesitate—because you were utterly dependent upon personal performance for the roof over your head and the food on your plate.

BUT kindly take that chaplet off your brow, and don't begin pinning medals upon a swelling chest.

It wasn't through choice that you became a reliable aggressive and prosperous member of the community. You had no option. Given the chance and means to dissipate your inheritance of brains and vitality, you would have been as much of a waster as the spendthrift whom you are now cultivating in a lotus path.

His dormant qualities probably aren't inferior to your own talents; he simply hasn't been compelled to demonstrate any desire or attitude for responsibility. Which is entirely the fault of the benevolent FOOL who has substituted an allowance for the incentive which independence alone supplies.

The very fact that you ARE a self-made man renders this destructive coddling all the more culpable.

YOU KNOW better. You've trodden all the routes that he must later travel and have met the multitude of handicaps waiting to test his caliber and probe his capacities.

He needs your EXPERIENCE not your MONEY. Show him your NOTE-BOOK, not your CHECK-BOOK. Cash won't give him a capital of character, and without character, he's without PROSPECTS.

He can't achieve anything lasting without knowledge and integrity, and he can't derive them except from parental coaching.

Even the bluest-blooded thoroughbred may do no more than endow his colt with a heritage of wind and spirit and speed.

After that, it's up to the TRAINER. He can't strike a winning stride unless it's DRILLED into him—as cruelly and persistently as it was fostered in his sire.

CASH won't stick to unpracticed fingers. It never takes long to change a squanderer into a pauper.

And folk unfamiliar with the processes by which fortunes are CREATED, can't hope to defend inherited assets from competitive hordes of determined poor men's sons, educated at the ONE school that specializes in four-square efficience — the Hard Knocks Academy.

The identical methods that enabled you to displace so many over-assured softies will, in turn, be employed against your SUCCESSOR by some OTHER immigrant or farm boy, whose dad DIDN'T offer him the option of leisure or labor. Asses who aspire to remove every hardship from the paths of their children are ACTUALLY unfitting them for economic and social survival.

A stall-fed ox is ALWAYS marked for slaughter.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

HERE is a mean letter about women.

It is so mean that, as "a female of the species," I chittered like a chimpanzee as I read it. Yet, to my rage, I can't shake certain of its charges from my mind . . . FOR I FURIOUSLY SUSPECT THAT THEY'RE TRUE!

So I'm going to pass it on to you verbatim. This is what L. M. Clarke, of Astoria, Ore., thinks of women. Do you agree with him? If not, why not, and what is her name? Yes—I have included L. M.'s address. If this results in hyacinths, he has only himself to thank.

Dear Miss Robinson:

I recently read your criticism of certain types of professional women, and I certainly admire it. It is exactly what women need to realize about themselves, but they won't see it, and I am convinced that it will take at least a thousand years to wake them up.

Women are so smug, so self-satisfied! In their own eyes they are absolutely perfect. If they meet an obstacle, they instantly lay it to male jealousy or female treachery. Rarely does it occur to them to overhaul their own natures and discard the pettiness, stubbornness, slavery to convention, unreasonableness, intolerance and that most devitalizing and exasperating of all traits — THE PERSONAL VIEWPOINT IN REGARD TO EVERYTHING ON EARTH! Ninety-nine per cent of all women, regardless of wealth, education or social status, are cursed with these shortcomings.

It took a million years of mental and physical slavery to warp women into this mold and of course we cannot expect their stupidity and inertia to be overcome immediately, now that they are socially untrammeled. Mere cramming of book knowledge, athletic prizes, pay envelopes and careers are not enough to make WOMAN over. She must strike for fundamentals, "hew to the line," until she really gets somewhere and understands more of life than just its froth and its dregs.

When one considers the biological handicaps of woman, the drudgery she endured in a non-machine age, the silliness of the "pedestal" tradition and the way she was often forced into marriage, it is easy to see why she has developed no power of abstract thought, why she has a BACK YARD PERSONALITY and no confidence in her powers outside of home, church and school.

But now, with political rights, professional training, college education, birth control, mechanized household equipment, travel, opportunity in all industries, it is time to expect a real change in woman, AND TO ASK OF HER WHAT SHE IS, OUTSIDE OF HER TRAPPINGS AND CHATTER.

Kipling wrote—"the female of the species is more deadly than the male." Quite so! The Indian squaw did much more fiendish torturing than the Brave. And this cruelty persists in modern women in spite of our romantic theories. The conventional white woman thrusts a straying girl straight to perdition rather than extend to her a pitying, helping hand. A mother will show a silly devotion to her own brood but ignore the flock of starving foreign children in the next block. AND AS A WIFE, THE INDIGNITIES AND MENTAL CRUELTIES SHE CAN HEAP UPON A HUSBAND (AND GET AWAY WITH IT!) ARE MOST SURPRISING.

An intelligent man, sizing up the female sex, is generally too chivalrous, too tolerant or too discreet to say exactly what he thinks of WOMAN, but I am convinced that many a time he wonders to himself whether it is possible for her ever to grow up.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

RECENTLY there has been a reaction in the other direction and the bulldog is becoming less grotesque. Thus, now in one direction and now in another, the form of the breed has been moulded.

H. G. Wells

Presumably all of the domesticated animals and plants have been derived by the selective breeding of wild species.

The various sorts of domesticated pigeons have all been evolved from the wild rock pigeon, Columbia livia; and an astonishing diversity of domesticated forms has been produced. It is not true, however, that in all cases the races of a domesticated animal spring from a single wild ancestor. In dogs, for example, it is probable that more than one ancestral species have been involved.

There are several kinds of wolves and jackals, which will breed freely with our dogs, and many of these can be tamed. It is rather the rule than the exception that the tame dogs of any region carry an obvious dash of blood from their local wild kindred.

The highly civilized countries are exceptional in this respect, for we select and mould our dogs to an extraordinary degree and we destroy our strays. But from Central Europe, across Asia and down through Africa the common dogs of the people show evident resemblances to the local kinds of wolves and jackals: and it is the same in America, for the Eskimo dog is like the North American wolf and the Hare-Indian dog is like the coyote.

Apparently the habit of domesticating dogs is ancient and widespread and it has entangled a number of different species into one inter-breeding complex.

But whether a domesticated race involves one species or many, the essential fact is this—that divergence of form has been brought about by the selection of variations, and that such variations do occur in the wild forms from which our tamed or cultivated races have been derived.

Indeed, it is not possible to study intensively any single group of animals without finding abundant variations of type.

Living tissue is always groping about in search of improvements. Naturally enough we do not find such outre creatures in the wild as we do in our kennels or farmyards or gardens; we do not find pug-dogs wheezing through the woods after their prey or ravenous cart-horses scouring the plains for grass to build up muscles quite unnecessary for their own needs.

These are creatures fitted to man's special requirements for his service, and they would be unable to survive or breed in a wild state. But we find plenty of variations in a wild state all the same.

For example, our common European squirrel exists in two varieties, red and black. In some regions only one kind is found, in others only the other, while in the intermediate zone both black and red young may appear in a single litter.

Similarly in the case of the common American opossum, among the usual greys a small proportion of black specimens (up to 10 per cent in some regions) are to be found; while in other regions a small percentage of cinnamon-colored animals regularly occur.

The valuable fox skins are a further example of the same thing. The Arctic fox is usually brown in summer, white in winter; but a considerable proportion of the species are bluish all the year round, providing the blue fox skins of commerce.

The more southerly red fox also has a comparatively rare variety, the silver fox, with black, silver-tipped hair, and the less uncommon cross fox with a cross mark on the shoulders. Members of the different types may be found in a single litter.

The same holds for the white and grey varieties of some kinds of herons.

Many plants habitually exist in two or three such varieties. The common milkwort (Polygalum) may have white or red or bright blue flowers; and the comfrey (Symphytum) is not in the least particular whether it shall be purple or white.

Besides such sharply-marked varieties, between which no blends occur, there may be gradual variation leading insensibly from one extreme type to another.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 17.—The native New Yorker is a study in tolerance. Annoyances that whip others into flurries of rage do not disturb him. This self complacency is especially marked in the theater. Outlanders will fume and fret when forced to stand many times for seating of late arrivals.

The New Yorker is not a whit perturbed and submits to the inconvenience graciously. Neither does he mind the jostling and shin kicking along the streets. Those caught in traffic snarls who bestow black looks and whispered epithets are invariably strangers.

The reason, of course, is obvious. Natives are attuned to the metropolitan hurly burly of push and shove and know nothing else. They do not tarry to apologize for what seems to be rudeness. Neither do they expect an apology from others. It is give and take.

The Manhattanite will stand patiently in line at the box office windows at the theater and opera with never a murmur. He takes his turn like a good sport. This also applies to the native born who wait at the entrance ropes of cafes for tables.

The visitor will snap his fingers at the headwaiter, argue, cajole and often bluster off in a huff while a metropolite is perfectly content to accept things as they are. Movie ushers have no difficulty in herding locals behind a tape, but fisticuffs have resulted with transients.

Perhaps the outstanding example of Gotham tolerance is during the subway rush hours. In these hectic periods thousands are stepped upon, yanked from under hats and actually manhandled by bull-necked huskies hired for that particular purpose.

Yet there are not a dozen fist fights from such scrimmages in a year's time. I have seen men, and women, too, come up out of subway kiosks with their hats smashed, buttons torn loose and otherwise disheveled—and usually they are smiling. To them it was a superb lark.

When celebrities are trundled to hospitals, the card of identity on the doors of their rooms bears a pseudonym. Gene Tunney was known at his hospital recently as "Mr. Brown." The camouflage is to keep off prying interviewers.

When Valentino was taken to a hospital shortly before his death, he was known as "Mr. Jones." It was a fortunate precaution, for shortly after extras proclaimed his illness crowds broke through guards to prowl about the wards searching for his name upon the door.

"Hog latin," a gibberish that was considered hot stuff in small towns 30 years ago, has had a revival along Broadway. Paul Whitman talks it almost altogether in conversing with his orchestra.

Incidentally, The Society of Latin Gentlemen, Inc., is nearing the twentieth year of its existence and seems to be going strong. The members are erudite gentlemen who meet every few weeks for dinner and converse entirely in Latin. The list includes 20 and each is able fluently to give life to a dead tongue.

Mrs. Edward Hutton is reputed to buy more clothes than any other woman in New York. It is not unusual for her to drop into a dressmaking salon and order 20 frocks at a clip.

New York has many rich and venerable men who are starving for contact with youth. They are not the watery-eyed old roues with turkey gobbler necks and vulpine leers who march the avenue horizons, but lonely widowers of respectability. I am told of one who has educated six girls and all he asks is they talk to him over the telephone weekly.

From a street car ad: "Chevalier, the French actor, is a cyclone of color, deep blue shirts with red ties and milk white hats with purple bands. No person else has been so able to shame the spectrum with noisy apparel."

Yeah? Watch me skip the gutter some day and get a load of my sox.

To the gentleman back of me who hummed all the tunes while they were being sung in a revue last night: I'm simply furious at you!

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

WHEN you feel inclined to complain over how hard you have to work to meet your obligations you should visit some hospital.

You will find those who would be willing to work from daylight until dark in preference to lying in bed because of weakness or injury.

Such a picture should convince you that you have nothing of which to complain.

To be out enjoying freedom in the open spaces, the absence of physical pain and wholesome food that you can enjoy without bad effects, should be all you need to make you thankful and happy.

You may be out of work and in financial difficulty and you may be regretting the loss of certain luxuries and privileges, but your troubles are as nothing in comparison with the afflictions that bind you to a certain place every day, day in and day out, and its attendant suffering.

It is easy to forget that good health is a blessing not to be matched.

It is taken as a matter of course.

Until you are unable to carry on your work will you fully appreciate and value the ability to work hard with only sleep to recuperate.

Don't pity yourself, but visit a nearby hospital and see what you have escaped and be grateful.
